

My Girlfriend is a Zombie

Author: 黑暗荔枝 Dark Lychee

Genre Tags: Zombie, Action, Blood, Girlfriend, Love, Puppet

Synopsis :

When the disaster really broke out, Ling Mo know that the kind of zombies depicted in doomsday movies, in fact, is totally different from the reality.

Normally, the most important thing to do during the end of the world is to survive, but when Ling Mo picked up his girlfriend from an abandoned bus, the trajectory of his life has been completely moved to a direction beyond his control.

The reason for all this is very simple, his girlfriend, mutated...

---

Info :

<http://www.novelupdates.com/series/my-girlfriend-is-a-zombie/>

Raws :

<http://www.qidian.com/Book/2872920.aspx>

Translator :

<http://www.noodletowntranslated.com/my-girlfriend-is-a-zombie/>

NejiSpira

wuxiatranslationsdl.wordpress.com

Chapter 1 – Zombie Puppet

On a desolate street, a zombie was wondering unconsciously.

He grinned slightly, a trace of saliva hanging on his lips, a pair of reddish eyes showing blazing cold creepiness.

Not too far in the distance, there was a small abandoned supermarket. The glass door spattered with brownish blood, through the open glass doors one can vaguely see the crooked shelves, as well as scattered food.

Behind the supermarket's door, there was also a middle-aged male zombie moving slowly. Judging by his clothing, he should be one of supermarket's staff.

This zombie slowly approached the supermarket, after passing the middle-aged male zombie, he suddenly pulled out a chop bone knife, and he turned and forcefully cut off his neck.

Blood splattered, the headless zombie fell to the ground immediately.

And this strange zombie immediately grabbed a shopping bag from behind the counter, and began to rapidly gather food....

"Huuu.... Exhausted..."

.....

In a dark residence home, the sweating Ling Mo was looking at his hands of a bag full of food and a variety of household items with satisfaction.

And in front of him, there sat the zombie from the small supermarket. But the way this zombie looked at Ling Mo was without any trace of malice, just emptiness.

"Looks like I improved a lot from a few days ago, now I'm finally able to manipulate with flexibility."

Ling Mo turned his gaze to this zombie, mouth revealing a hint of smile.

Two weeks ago, the emergence of a new virus turned the entire world into a slaughterhouse.

Countless human turned into zombies.... To be more accurate, after the virus infection lead to loss of self-consciousness, and then turned them into crazy killing monsters....

The survivors could only hide inside city's corners like mice.

However, Ling Mo, who was once only a normal person, discovered his ability to control zombies after the arrival of the end of the world.

He could feel a hint of connection between himself and the zombies; empty-headed zombies are like thoughtless puppets, and he could inject his own thoughts into them, thereby manipulating zombies' actions.

The start of experiments was very tough; zombies often escaped from his manipulation mid-way, and even endangered him in life threatening situations several times.

With the increasing number of attempts, Ling Mo finally acquired some techniques, this helped him to control zombies consistently, manipulate them to walk around, and help him to collect necessities.

But the distance could never be too far apart, which made Ling Mo somewhat annoyed.

He felt like he is a zombie puppeteer, but the lines in his hands were not long enough, and he was also not skilled enough.

However, to be able to survive on a much safer level, Ling Mo is very satisfied with his zombie controlling techniques. He called the zombie he controls as Zombie Puppet.

In the process of controlling zombie puppets, Ling Mo glimpsed that when he was controlling them, a violent felling was also affecting him.

Whether the influence was bad or good, he does not know yet....

During these days, Ling Mo had gotten a better understanding of zombie's habits, unlike general zombies, these zombies are not the living dead, but living people affected by virus.

Even though the bodies are still alive, but the mind has turned completely into a monster. They attack uninfected survivors, tear these people's flesh with strength much stronger than an average person.

The virus has completely destroyed their senses, dominated their thoughts, and turned them into executioners driven by their killing instincts.

In Ling Mo's view, these kind of zombies are much more terrifying than the ones he saw in games and movies, because they retain their five senses. Whether it is sound or smell, it will all attract their attention.

"The sun is going down, we will call it a day."

This residence home is not safe; it's a temporary place for Ling Mo to say when controlling the zombie puppets.

After putting the food he gathered today into his backpack, Ling Mo shook his head which was hurting a bit, and he commanded the zombies to stand up.

Up close, with the zombie puppet standing right in front of him, Ling Mo still felt a sense of strangeness.

Although unlike the ones in the movies that exudes a rotting stench, this zombie still have a strong smell of blood. Virus infection made his face pale with glowing red eyes, through the slightly opened mouth, one can see stained pork on the teeth.

No need to think much, it must be the leftovers from eating human....

The zombie had good looks, about seventeen or eighteen-year-old teenager, but now his looks made him look like an evil spirit.

"Go go...."

Ling Mo pressed down strong feeling of nausea, controlled the zombie to walk down the stairs.

Even though he has the zombie puppet to open the road, it does not mean he is safe. Ling Mo holds a sharp bone knife, carefully walked behind the zombie puppet.

From here to his temporary home, they needed to cross a street. When they came here in the morning, Ling Mo found some firecrackers, first he made some noise on the opposite direction and attracted most of the zombies from this street over there. However, there were still some zombies wondering on the street.

After they safely reached the intersection, Ling Mo saw, trouble is here.

Two zombies blocked the intersection, who knew where they came from, their bodies are full of fresh splattered blood, one of them even carried half human arm and was busy eating it.

In this provincial city that have millions of people, everyday there are survivors killed during their attempts to find food, so dead people are not rare.

But the sight of that arm wreckage made Ling Mo felt sad for the loss of his own kind. It was only because of his abilities that gave him a better chance to survive, so he can't be careless or he can still easily become these monsters' meals.

Ling Mo walked closer while carefully manipulated the zombie puppet, he raised the chop bone knife as he approached one of them.

While the other zombie were attracted by the sound, Ling Mo held the knife, rushed behind him and stabbed in his head.

The two zombies died almost simultaneously, after pulling the knife out with force, Ling Mo kicked over the body in front of him.

Ling Mo would not miss any opportunity if given the chance, even though it's proven useful to manipulate zombies, but he must have the fighting ability to protect himself as well.

And Ling Mo faintly felt that when he beheaded zombies, some kind of violent cause in his body is affecting him, he even felt a moment of pleasure when he pulled the knife out.

"Virus is not going to be transmitted through spiritual contact, right....if it can be contagious that way, I would have been infected ages ago.... If it's not because of the virus, then what exactly is this feeling...."

Ling Mo was very concerned about this slight change, but he had no clues yet.

However, the ability to cleanly behead zombies and the fact that it's getting better is a good thing for Ling Mo.

Before the end of the world, he was just an ordinary man. When he killed zombies for the first time, it was a scary exploration. Even after the killing, he felt terrified and his could not think straight for a while.

But in order to survive, it is necessary to enhance combat skill.

And in Ling Mo's mind, he is always thinking about one person. To quickly master zombie controlling techniques, collect as many supplies as possible, and it's all because he want to cross this district, and find her.....

Chapter 2 – Crossing the Danger Zone

When the last hint of light at the horizon disappeared, Ling Mo has returned to the residence.

This was a seemingly insignificant small building, in addition to the solid iron door, one was also able to jump from the roof to the building next door, and there were enough open space at the front and back of the building. Plus, this place belonged to the suburbs, in terms of survivors and zombies; their numbers are much less than the ones in the city, which make this place much safer.

Most importantly, this was originally the warehouse of a small furniture factory, filled with low-quality paints and wood flavor, which was able to fully cover Ling Mo's scent.

Through virus infection, those monsters not only did not lose five senses, but was further enhanced in which they have perfect night vision, incomparable hearing and smelling to those of ordinary people.

Before going to sleep, Ling Mo fed the zombie puppet a piece of rancid meat, kept him outside the iron door, locked the iron door firmly and then went to rest.

Even during his sleep, Ling Mo did not cut his spiritual connection with the zombie, it may be tiring, but on one hand he could train himself, and on the other hand it's a way of staying alert for himself.

To allow one to get enough rest but also keep the connection with the zombie puppet, it was easier said than done. In fact is actually very difficult. Ling Mo also tried numerous times before grasping the right balance. Now when sleeping, he has always been in a light sleep state, and he could even hear the subtle movement in the surroundings.

But today Ling Mo has yet been able to sleep, a figure kept appearing in his head from time to time.....

After his parents died, the one person he missed the most in this world is her, his crush, but also his childhood friend next door, Ye Lian.

When the disaster broke out, he received the last phone call from her.

"Big brother Lin, run!"

After those 4 short words, there came the burst of "beep" of the busy tone.....

In fact, Ling Mo knew clearly that Ye Lian is probably dead. During the outbreak of the disaster, she was walking toward his residence, looking to make him a decent meal and to help him improve his living condition...

Because of this, there is always a knot in Ling Mo's mind, whether live or dead, he felt he should find Ye Lian.

"Tomorrow, I will go find her ....."

After preparing for so long, Ling Mo felt that with the ability to control zombie puppet should allow him to cross the city district.

He had already sketched out the place where she might appear in his mind, not too far away from here, but separated by two residential areas in the middle which were regarded as the most dangerous region.

However, in order to cross as safely as possible, Ling Mo has done enough preparation, everything, and now he just had to wait until tomorrow.....

Early in the morning, Ling Mo opened his eyes, jumped down from a semi-soft bed. Once again after finishing packing his backpack, Ling Mo took a deep breath, walked downstairs.

The zombie puppet under his control had been well behaved by blocking the door; clothes are wet due to the cold air. His look does not show a single trace of tiredness though.

Due to unknown reasons, that sudden outbreak of virus not only turned most living people into monsters, but also enhanced their bodies to be very powerful. However, Ling Mo also noted that because they need to maintain a high intensity physical consumption, they just kept eating instinctively, and food sources are the uninfected survivors.

Clenched the bone knife tightly, Ling Mo opened the iron gate, manipulated the zombie puppet and walk towards the planned route.

Once entered in a residential area, there was an increasing number of wandering zombies. Attracting them through sound would not work, since the environment is too complex, and it would easily endanger himself.

The only way is to pick a route with fewer zombies, and go as quietly as possible.

An average person would face enormous difficulty trying to move in this kind of environment, luckily Ling Mo had a zombie puppet.

With cooperation of the puppet, Ling Mo continuously killed a dozen zombies and got through, he now arrived on a street that was once prosperous.

This place is like the transition zone between suburbs and city, in Ling Mo's prediction, Ye Lian was at one of the corner when she made the phone call.

Abandoned cars were everywhere; shops were all open along the way, but they were all pitch black.

Other than the bloodstains everywhere, the only things left were the zombies.

Even though Ling Mo killed numerous zombies these days, but it was his first time to see such large number of zombies gathered in one place. Looking through, there are at least dozens in his vision, let alone those hidden in the dark.

Ling Mo intend to observe at a higher place, just as he was walking towards a residential building, there came a scream not far from here.

"Help Ah!"

I did not expect that there are still survivors! Ling Mo quickly controlled the zombie puppet, and carefully moving toward the sound direction.

Outside a residential building, there gathered about a dozen zombies, they are frantically hitting the security door.

Behind the door are two frightened teenagers, on one hand, they were trying to hold the door tightly, and on the other hand, they were desperately screaming for help.

"Idiots...." Ling Mo frowned, nervously looked around him.

Screaming like this would only lead to more zombies, originally Ling Mo wanted to lend them a hand in the best of his ability, but now it seems hastily shot would only harm himself.

Soon enough, some zombies were attracted, they continuously hit the security door, issued a "bang bang" sound and the connection walls began to come to loose.

The two young men looked ashen, let go of much more piercing screams of fear....

"Dang!"

With a bang, security doors finally got knocked down, and the two young men's screams quickly drowned in the waves of zombies...

However, this was an opportunity for Ling Mo, taking advantage of how all zombies got attracted to over there so he could cross this district.

After successfully passing through this dense population of zombies' area, Ling Mo did not have time to cheer before he realized that the intersection before him were blocked by one bus and a few cars.

During disaster outbreak, there were enough vehicle accidents, not to mention this kind of bus full of passengers. Whether or not the passengers mutated, or frightened by the situation, terrible things could happen.

Looking at the situation, the bus collapsed with the death-defying fleeing cars and incurred a chain of collision, in which its entire shape were deformed.

He just have no idea what happened to the passengers inside, perhaps trapped and died, or probably all turned into zombies...

Ling Mo wanted to go around, but he suddenly thought of something after staring at the bus.

Ye Lian seemed to have always taken the bus whenever she comes..... As soon as the thought came out, Ling Mo sees the bus differently.

He felt a sudden strong beating of his heart, both looked forward to, but also with some fear.

There are great possibilities that Ye Lian was on this bus, if she did not get out in time, she should still be on there.

Although he felt well prepared, but Ling Mo still a little panicking when its time to really face it.

Should it be decomposed body, or left with nothing, or....

After letting out a long breath, Ling Mo controlled the zombie puppet and climbed on the deformed bus head.

The feeling is wonderful when it comes to controlling the zombie puppet, it was like having his own shadow clone. Through the spiritual connection between the puppet, not only could he control the movements, but also receive feedback from the puppet's facial expressions.

But in between Ling Mo and the zombie puppet, he could feel that there was still a layer or barrier which unable him to fully control the puppet.

From Ling Mo's perspective, the ultimate state of mastering the control of zombie puppets would be like fusing with the puppet...

Although it feels weird, Ling Mo is still looking forward to that kind of state.

Chapter 3 – Encounter with Childhood Sweetheart

Through the zombie puppet's vision, Ling Mo glimpsed the inside of vehicle.

Dark inside, there were many obscure figures, and all were at rest.

After bypassing the front you could see the front and rear doors cannot be opened because of impact extrusion.

Quite a few windows were cracked, but not enough to allow one to climb out. Ling Mo controlled the puppet, broke one of the windows and climbed in.

The smell was very strong in the car, although he felt it through the zombie puppet, Ling Mo couldn't help but frown.

The scent of blood and rotting mixed together make people feel nauseated.

As soon as the puppet jumped into the car, he stepped on a dead body. After glanced down, Ling Mo is immediately startled.

Even though the corpse became rotten, but on its swollen face, a pair of red eyes are clearly visible. Its obvious before he died, he became a zombie.

No one escaped, and no one entered, did the zombies died of starvation?

Ling Mo quickly controls the puppet to continue walk toward the end of the bus, but he soon realized that something was wrong.

The compartment is full of large bloodstains, and clothing fragments, apparently some one started a slaughter after mutation.

But the ones lie here are all mutated zombies, and Ling Mo noticed that the back of their heads were cut open.

Who did it?

Ling Mo felt a sudden horror, and while he was dumbfounded, a shadow suddenly jumped out from one of the seat, as nimble as a cheetah, jumped onto the back of his zombie puppet.

The shadow moved silently and was extremely agile, although it had little power, but by the time when Ling Mo felt it, this shadow has already poked his hand to puppet's back head.

Stunned, Ling Mo instinctively control the puppet to fall back, forcefully bringing the shadow on the ground.

But at the same time, zombie puppet's brain has been scratched, blood instantly gushing out.

"Holy crap.... this hand is like a knife!"

It was tough to groom this young zombie puppet; Ling Mo feel distressed, but also became extremely wary of this shadow.

He used elbow to clutch the shadow's neck while controlling the puppet, and use the other hand clutch his wrist, while leveraging to climb up.

However as soon as he rose, the shadow used his other hand to poke into puppet's soft abdomen.

Although the zombie puppet feels no pain, but Ling Mo's face still became extremely complex.

To be exact, at the moment when the shadow was preparing to strike, Ling Mo, who already prepared to fight back, instantly stopped when he saw the shadow's appearance.

"Ye.....Ye Lian....."

Lying below, the shadow whose one hand poked into the belly of the puppet, is the one whom he's trying to find, Ye Lian.

Ling Mo has made many assumptions, but never expected to find Ye Lian in this situation.

After mutation, Ye Lian's beautiful big eyes turned bloody red, but her looks are not twisted like normal zombies, but very normal, very cool.

For a moment, Ling Mo hesitated, but when Ye Lian took out her hand full with puppet's gut, Ling Mo was suddenly awake.

Ye Lian's small hands looked no different than before, but the nail hardness was unusual, the fingers were powerful enough to pierce the flesh. This clearly showcased her difference with normal zombies.

And normal zombies would not attack a fellow zombie puppet..... Think back to the car full of zombie corpses, look at Ye Lian again, Ling Mo suddenly understood something.

After normal people were eaten, driven by hunger, the remaining zombies became cannibals, and the last zombie survivor Ye Lian developed some bizarre mutation...

While Ling Mo was dumbfounded, his zombie puppet's intestines had been pulled out, blood pouring out, splashing on her body.

Stimulated by the smell of the fresh blood, her eyes seemed to get bloodier, and her strength seemed to increase as well, she grabbed the puppet's arm and flipped him to one side.

As soon as the zombie puppet landed on the ground, Ye Lian rushed up and placed her hands directly on the puppet's neck.

Her movement is much more flexible than the average zombies, Ling Mo could not even react and was countered by Ye Lian.

With the felling of suffocation, zombie puppet's natural instinct was activated, and Ling Mo felt waves of emptiness in his head. When this feelings emerges, it means that the puppet is about to get out of his control.

And Ling Mo finally recovered from the shock after reuniting with Ye Lian. Ye Lian turned into this; to some extent it is also my own responsibility....

When trying his best to control his zombie puppet, Ling Mo suddenly had a bold idea.

Since zombies are just humans infected by the virus, and judging by Ye Lian's look, her virus probably mutated or something. In that case, there might be a way to cure her.

Even if this hope was very slim, but as long as there is a chance, Ling Mo wanted to give it a try.

As soon as the idea came up, Ling Mo immediately controlled the puppet to tightly stare into Ye Lian's eyes. With the concentration of Ling Mo's spirits, in his eyes, Ye Lian's head soon turned into a ball of light.

However, the color of this light bulb is different than the average zombies. Infected by virus, zombies lost their mind, acting purely on instincts, therefore the spiritual light that represents their inner mind are realy fuzzy. But Ye Lian's spiritual light was obviously much brighter, and has faint traces of red.

What is that all about?

But the current situation does not allow Ling Mo to think more, he tried to focus his attention on the light of Ye Lian, and tries to go deeper.

And indeed it was different than normal zombies, Ling Mo felt resistance here where he did not feel in other zombies. Although weak, Ling Mo feels his heartbeat suddenly stopped a bit.

Is it possible, that Ye Lian regained some consciousness? But judging by her look, seems not quiet....

When Ling Mo finally managed to control Ye Lian, his body was already covered in cold sweats, and zombie puppet was completely choked to death during the process.

But when Ling Mo was carefully controlling Ye Lian to stand up, he suddenly felt a longing. This desire comes from Ye Lian's spiritual world, and the target is something in the puppet's brain....

During his prior experience with puppets, Ling Mo never felt any emotion from them, because besides their instincts, the zombie puppets had no other desire.

But at this time he felt something from Ye Lian, this makes Ling Mo confused and surprised. If mutation can produce desire, then if it continues, maybe she can regain her emotions!

Thinking of this, Ling Mo used Ye Lian to poke through the head of zombie puppet, under the guidance of this desire, Ye Lian quickly pulled out a small piece of gel-like object from the head.

It is like a part of the brain tissue after infection, a little red, like an elastic rubber when held in hand.

After Ling Mo toss and turn the object for a while, endure nausea, he pushed it into Ye Lian's mouth.

A heat wave immediately raised from the stomach, quickly circulated through the whole body, and Ye Lian's once weak body, seemed to have received some physical supplement.

Never thought this disgusting gel could have this effect, perhaps Ye Lian's mutation is caused by eating this gel.....

Manipulating Ye Lian to jump out of the car, and walked into his hiding place, Ling Mo finally see Ye Lian face to face.

Watching Ye Lian's bloodstained body, pale cheek and that pair of red, almost eerie eyes, Ling Mo was moved by a mixture of feelings. Even though Ye Lian now gives the impression of danger as if there was a chilly atmosphere forming beside her body, but her familiar face still left Ling Mo a little dazed.

He could not help but stretched out his hand, wiped Ye Lian's bloodstains from her face: "Don't worry, big brother will for sure to find a way for you to recover."

Chapter 4 – Help Her Undress

In the moment of trance, Ye Lian's eyes immediately flashed with a touch of cold light, at the same time, Ling Mo also felt pain in his head. Luckily, Ling Mo returned to his consciousness, and controlled Ye Lian again.

Just a little distracted and Ye Lian almost got out of his control, that made Ling Mo felt frightened.

Normal zombie puppet could not stand before Ye Lian, and Ling Mo himself was struggling too. Besides, he did not want to hurt Ye Lian, and was not willing to be killed by her. Since he found Ye Lian, he cannot die, he must find a way to let Ye Lian return to normal.

It's not safe to stay here; Ling Mo quickly commanded Ye Lian to walk toward his home.

In such a densely populated place, it is inevitable to run into zombies even after been extremely cautious. However, unlike previous battles, with the help of Ye Lian, zombies all went down almost without resistance.

In terms of speed, or power, Ye Lian was far more powerful than average zombies. Before, Ling Mo was worried that Ye Lian would get hurt in battles and did not want her in action, but when zombies appeared, Ye Lian transmitted strong desire of hostility that even made Ling Mo feel a burst of heat. The violence he felt in previous battles with Ye Lian was magnified to ten times stronger than the previous battles.

The instant when Ye Lian rushed out, Ling Mo clearly felt that he is now half controlling Ye Lian. When she is battling, her instincts are maximized, at Ling Mo's level of controlling zombies, he could only maintain his connection with her, but not the way she battles.

"Never thought she is this strong...." Ling Mo suddenly felt a sense of danger, if he does not upgrade his strength, perhaps it won't be long before that Ye Lian get out of his control. Not to mention how to help her recover, maybe he will die by her hands. Even if narrowly escaped, it will be like a needle in a haystack to try to find her again in such a big city.

Thinking of this, Ling Mo clenched his teeth, tightened his boning knife and rushed beside Ye Lian.

Now around Ye Lian, there were at least four zombies, and she was tearing one of their's head off. These zombies would not attack Ye Lian instinctively, but when Ling Mo appeared, the other three all threw themselves at him.

First time dealing with these many zombies, Ling Mo felt very nervous. Somehow, when he held up the boning knife, the fury he felt from Ye Lian enabled a strong desire to fight.

After letting out a growl, Ling Mo rushed to the middle of the three zombies at the same time.

Zombies have great power, and they aren't stiff like they are portrayed in the movies, but since they are monsters that rely on instincts, their attack patterns are quite simple.

When one of the zombies tried to grab Ling Mo with its hand, Ling Mo slammed sideways, while escaping the attack from this zombie, his boning knife also stabbed into the other zombie's stomach.

"Poof!"

Sound of the tip of the knife into the meat, but Ling Mo did not have time to look twice, and lifted his leg to kick the third zombie.

This zombie was kicked directly to Ye Lian, and before he could get up, Ye Lian emptied its head.

At this time, the zombie dodged by Ling Mo was once again up against him, and Ling Mo who just stabilized himself was in real danger again.

Haven't pulled out the knife completely out of the other zombie, this one was already right before him with his hand full of blood. If he was caught, the chance to break out is zero.

Under the threat of death, Ling Mo did not panic; he grabbed the boning knife that was inside the other zombie's stomach and slashed towards the attacking one, and the zombie that was bearing the knife also got dragged forward with the knife.

The two zombies crashed into each other, Ling Mo's boning knife had already broek free after cutting across one's stomach, and without hesitation it was forced into the other zombie's head with a hard twist.

This all happened like lighting, when Ling Mo woke up from the fury, there were only zombies corpses left.

Only now Ling Mo realized, he had not only proved calmness, but also high synchronization between his mental processing and physical reactions. Though this may be caused by his mental and physical fitness improvement, but that feeling of rage must also made an impact.

Most importantly, looking down at the corpses below his foot, holding the bloody boning knife, Ling Mo's body couldn't help but tremble slightly. This is not caused by fear, but excitement....

At this moment Ye Lian has already swallowed the gels from the zombies, and her eyes became brighter and seemed more intelligent. If it weren't for the eerie redness, she looked no different from the average survivors.

Somehow, when Ye Lian experienced changes, Ling Mo also felt a bit of change in the body.

Although very subtle, but Ling Mo did feel that his power got stronger than before, he also recovered some of the consumed strength, and most importantly, he now acquired a stronger connection with Ye Lian.

Could it be that because he is connected with Ye Lian, that when she continues to mutate, it also affect himself? Besides this, Ling Mo could not find a better explanation.

Prior to this, Ling Mo was unable to determine whether these changes were good or bad, but now after experiencing these variations, it made Ling Mo excited.

No effect on consciousness but he was able to grow stronger with Ye Lian! Ling Mo started to look forward with further mutation. But he knew very well in his heart, rushing the process won't be good, it would be very regrettable if it brought Ye Lian any danger.

On the way home, Ling Mo found a clean dress and a pair of sandals in one of the clothing store, he planned to change Ye Lian's blood stained cloth.

It was endurable to see the zombie puppet's disgusting appearance, but Ye Lian is the cutest and cleanest, even after turning into a zombie, I should not let her wear something dirty like that.

But once back at home; watching the quiet Ye Lian sitting in front of him, Ling Mo did not where to start!

Whether it was to manipulate Ye Lian to undress herself, or do it himself, it would be hard to avoid seeing the body he had dreamed many times....

Previously because of insufficient qualifications, Ling Mo secretly loved Ye Lian very much, but never confessed and never even thought of how their relationship would change. After all, he is only a nerd that stays home all day, low income, and Ye Lian is the prettiest girl from X University with a lot of good suitors around.

But now, in order to change her clothes, he had to see her body.....

Even though the current Ye Lian does not have any consciousness, Ling Mo felt very nervous that even his mouth dried up.

At a glance of the basin by the foot, then at dirty Ye Lian, after long hesitation, Ling Mo finally reached out his hand slowly...

With one buttons after one undone, Ye Lian's pale skin was slowly revealed in front of Ling Mo.

"Calm down, calm down....it will be inhuman if I take advantage of her right now...."

Facing his sweetheart, it would be lying to say that he had no urges, but looking at Ye Lian's pair of emotionless eyes, Ling Mo felt a pinch in his heart.

When, could I make Ye Lian regain her consciousness....

Chapter 5 – Viral Evolution

Around morning, a sudden trace of throbbing instantly woke up Ling Mo.

As soon as he opened his eyes, he saw Ye Lian sitting in the corner.

Ye Lian, with a cleaned body and clean clothes look no different from the past.... The only difference is that pair of eerie red eyes...

The abnormal sensation Ling Mo felt before came from Ye Lian's instinctive desire. If Ye Lian could speak now, then her first sentence would be: "I am hungry."

And the food she needs is those special kinds of gels from the head of zombies.

From Ye Lian's performance, that special gel could trigger a new kind of mutation of the virus in her body, and it's very effective. Since she has the desire, of course I have to satisfy it.

When thinking about it, Ling Mo had mixed feelings. Average survivors tries to dodge zombies at all cost, and I need to take initiative to find them. Most importantly, a mutated zombie now follows me.

After bringing some food with them, Ling Mo pulled out a brand new knife from the bag. That boning knife has been worn out; it would affect me in the battle and cannot be used anymore.

He tried to feed a slice of ham to Ye Lian, but noticed that she took no interest in it at all, the food she only needs seemed to be that special gel.

"Come on, let's go find you some food." Pulled up Ye Lian, Ling Mo took her downstairs.

The city is now completely dead, short on everything, except for zombies. But the places where zombies gather together are still too dangerous for Ling Mo; he could only take Ye Lian to the ones that were singled out.

During the cautiously scavenge process, Ling Mo couldn't help but thinking one problem. To those wondering zombies, their only food sources are those survivors who are risking their lives in search for food, and most survivors are usually extremely careful, even if they don't collect much, they still have the ability to stay alive.

So will these zombies be like Ye Lian, under the condition where they cannot find food, would they start to kill each other? Maybe in some places, there are already mutated zombies existing like Ye Lian.

For survivors, this is no doubt adding another layer of frost to the snow....

After strengthening spiritual connection, Ling Mo was able to control Ye Lian much more easily than yesterday. And after a night of studying, he also mastered the technique of controlling Ye Lian.

Different from average zombies, Ye Lian not only have instincts, but she also have a strong desire to attack, and she was able to communicate her needs to Ling Mo. Plus she has powerful strength, fully controlling her will only limit her abilities and lead her to resistance. Therefore Ling Mo only maintained spiritual connection between him and her to make sure that he never becomes her target, and did not restrict her freedom.

Because of the existing spiritual connection between two sides, even though Ye Lian could move by herself, but she did not leave from Ling Mo's sight and even closely followed him.

Fortunately, this is the suburb, population is not very dense and Ling Mo soon found some wondering zombies at the intersection.

As soon as she saw these zombies, Ye Lian could not wait to rush forward, displaying her nimble movements and brisk attack. After been shocked a little, Ling Mo also quickly carried his knife and rushed up.

Just one minute later, these zombies were taken out, and Ye Lian's eyes became even more agile after devouring the gel.

At the same time, Ling Mo also felt his spiritual power strengthened, physical power enhanced. Even though this change is not obvious, but for Ling Mo, it was a gratifying progress.

When Ye Lian was fighting, he felt an evident increase of violence.

After bringing Ye Lian hunting in the nearby for the morning, they killed at least a dozen zombies that finally satisfied her needs.

But something surprised Ling Mo, after eating a dozens of zombie brain gel, Ye Lian started to show signs of fatigue and her mood has also become very unstable. If during this process, Ling Mo and Ye Lian didn't have such a tight spiritual connection, Ye Lian might have run off already.

Seeing the situation not going well, Ling Mo quickly found a residential building and brought Ye Lian into one of the uninhabited house.

At this point Ye Lian has already become irritated with clenched fists, yet the body seemed to have lost strength, with the whole body completely limped down. Ling Mo carried her to the bed, felt her body burning high with a frightening fever

Is it because of eating too much at once, that the virus has become unstable?

Just when Ling Mo was worrying about Ye Lian, an instant sense of fury and violence swept through his mind, everything before him seemed to be covered by a layer of blood.

Obviously, when the virus mutated inside Ye Lian's body, it also affected him through spiritual connection.

So painful.....If I disconnect the spiritual connection now, I can be freed from this disgusting feeling, but Ye Lian who will be out of control and might attack, Ling Mo can only bite down on his teeth and remain patient.

His body felt more and more hot, head full of cold sweat, whole body felt like it's about to explode. Especially that wave of bulging feeling came from the head, it felt like something is about to crawl out. If it wasn't controlling zombie puppets these days enabled Ling Mo to have a strong will, he might have fainted by now.

And Ye Lian is gasping for air rapidly, the pale cheeks were taken over by a layer of abnormal reddish, the eerie redness of the eyes become much brighter. In the eyes of Ling Mo, she finally closed her eyes, became silent, and fell on bed.

Ling Mo was surprised at first, and then he quickly calmed down. For this particular virus, he would not have any knowledge, let alone a mutated virus. Although worried, there was not much he could do. At least through their spiritual connection Ling Mo could feel Ye Lian's normal body vital sign. But because her body was simmering a kind of forceful power, she could not take it temporarily, so the body started a self-protection mechanism that let her fainted temporarily.

While waiting for Ye Lian to wake up, Ling Mo was also enduring physical torment...

Until a few hours later, Ling Mo finally felt a sense of heat circulating the whole body, even though it calmed down, the remaining power seemingly saturated with each cell and refreshed his whole body. Ling Mo shook his fists, felt a surge of power. As for other changes, I guess he would have to see in battles.

At this time Ye Lian also slowly opened her eyes, but the moment they were open, Ling Mo was shocked. After this mutation, Ye Lian's eyes restored to normal appearance.

To be exact, they turned from that eerie redness to translucent black, not only more profound, but they made her whole appearance look icier. But that kind of dangerous atmosphere is now hidden, for people who did not know her strength would probably think her as a normal surviving girl instead of a mutated zombie!

The virus mutation that happened on her body is more like a viral evolution! The evolution that relied on swallowing the same kind!

Chapter 6: Mutated Zombies

After the shock, Ling Mo is overjoyed!

Since her eyes were able to restore to normal appearance, this means that his guess might likely be a reality! With the evolution of the virus, maybe Ye Lian will gradually restore sanity...

However, after her eyes turned normal, Ye Lian's virus evolutionary speed has evidently decreased. After three full days, hunting hundreds of zombies only made Ye Lian's power slightly stronger, the mental change mutation expected by Ling Mo did not appear at all.

For the good news, Ling Mo experienced some changes himself. As his spiritual power become increasingly stronger, under the premise of semi-controlling Ye Lian, then controlling other zombies at the same time, he actually succeeded after several failures. And the more he practices, the more skilled Ling Mo become at controlling zombie puppets.

Not only that, his own fighting ability was also growing, even though he's not as nimble as Ye Lian, but under his rationality, he was able to make much more flexible movements than Ye Lian. Now he has confidence protect himself in the case when Ye Lian is out of control.

But at this time, Ling Mo realized something dumbfounded. His food reserves ran out....

Prior by using zombie puppet entirely to battle and collect food necessities, Ling Mo did not have a high energy consumption himself. But as he himself involved in battles, energy consumption increased significantly which caused him to eat more.

This is originally the suburb, during the disaster outbreak; the majority of the food storage had already been looted, and the remaining quantity is extremely limited, after been repeatedly searched by survivors, there are now very little food left.

After continuously searching in the little supermarket for two hours, Ling Mo finally decided to take Ye Lian to the city center.

Comparing to this area mixed with suburb and city, city center has far more supplies. But because of the large population, there should also be an appalling number of zombies....

If Ye Lian was not here, Ling Mo had another choice, and that is to evacuate to the countryside or mountain areas. If that's the case, Ye Lian might starve to death.

A city full of zombies would be the best place for Ye Lian and Ling Mo to evolve.

However, to reach the city center, they still have to make full preparation. Suitable means of transportation, easy to carry food supplies and weapons....

There are already food and means of transportation; Ling Mo already prepared a bicycle. But weapon arrangement is giving Ling Mo some headache.

Common household knives were always soon notched or blunt, very difficult to use, a suitable knife is clearly necessary.

"Right, didn't Wang Rin's household make knives...

Wang Rin is the girl who lived on the same building as Ling Mo, pretty face, and the few occasional times when he saw her he always wanted to take a few more look at her. But after the disaster outbreak, he never saw that little girl again. Now thinking back, he felt bad. A weak girl like her, even if she did not mutate, and somehow survived, she is probably having a tough life.....

Early in the morning, Ling Mo sorted out the luggage, brought Ye Lian to walk toward Wang Rin's homemade hand tool shop.

Even though Ling Mo deliberately picked a safer road, along the way they still killed dozens zombies and finally arrived at the completely deserted shop.

Blood spattered on the glass windows, broken glass door, and pitch-black interior of the store made it all look terrifying. However at the end of the world, this is the most common sight.

In this case, naturally the plan is to make Ye Lian go in first, even though she will attack zombies, but zombies will not attack her first.

But the store did not have any zombies; Ye Lian and Ling Mo did not meet any trouble and walked in.

The store has a lot of knives, but most are used as collection with no sharpened edges. However, Ling Mo had been entrusted by a friend and purchased once at this shop, and knew that the store have open edged knives (TL: it means sharpened to kill), just did not put it on the shelf.

"I remembered that the workshop should be in the back....."

Ling Mo went around and arrived at a security door behind the counter, after twisting the doorknob, he noticed something strange.

Usually this kind of door would be pulled open, but when Ling Mo twisted the knob, he realized the door is locked.

Did the store staff at that time escaped into the workshop room? If so, then there might be people alive! Maybe Wang Rin is still alive in there!

Thinking about it, Ling Mo suddenly become excited, he quickly knocked on the door, and shouted in a low voice: " Is anyone in there?"

"Bang!"

After a moment of silence, suddenly came a muffled cry, sounded like something been knocked over.

"There are actually people in here!"

Ling Mo was surprised for a little, and then once again firmly knocked on the door, but there is only the "Bang Dang" sound, and the door did not seem to open.

Ling Mo's power alone would not be enough to kick the security door open, but with the help of Ye Lian, it wasn't a difficult task.

With the sound of a muffled "bang", the door was forced to open a gap, but a hand immediately stretched from the inside when Ling Mo did not even completely open the door.

Seeing the hand at first glance, Ling Mo's pupil could not help but shrink a bit. At first glance it seems nothing unusual, but faint reddish nails, the "crunch" sound emitted when clasped the metal security door looks apparently exactly the same as Ye Lian!

Is there, another mutated zombie inside?

Although he had already predicted, but seeing another mutated zombie beside Ye Lian made Ling Mo feel very surprised.

And looking at the size of the hand, it should belong to a man, this probably meant that Wang Rin might be gone....

The thought of the hand's master might have tear Wang Rin into pieces, in the stomach, Ling Mo felt a surge of anger upwelling. He wielded the knife in his hands, "dang" directly slashed down at that hand, as half of a palm hit the floor, blood splattered around, and the security door also completely broke down in the force of the slash.

After the fall of the door, an extremely bloody scene appeared in Ling Mo's eyes.

Inside the small sized workshop, whether it is the wall or the floor, it was almost covered with bloodstains, fragments of clothing and scattered human bones. There are also two complete corpses; all face down exposing the empty hole of the back head.

The only one alive is a young man knocked to the ground by the door. As soon as he landed, he jumped up in a lighting speed, turned into a shadow and rushed directly toward Ling Mo.

This is the first time where Ling Mo is facing an attack from a mutated zombie, super fast speed not allowing one to react. If it was the old Ling Mo, he would have been thrown under and killed. But with enhanced abilities, the current Ling Mo is exceptionally calm.

Although the mutated zombie moved very fast, Ling Mo did not have a slow reaction speed either. Almost in an instant, Ling Mo moved when the mutated zombie moved.

Backed for a half step, slightly twisted the body to the side, he held the boning knife and slashed forcibly in the direction of the mutated zombie.

"Poof!"

A big bottle of blood burst at the moment when the two alternated, and Ling Mo turned ninety degrees at the same time, cut through the zombie's abdomen firmly then slashed downward forcibly.

If it were normal zombies, they would have been directly slashed under Ling Mo's uninterrupted attack, but mutated zombies are really fast, after Ling Mo just turned around, he not only avoided the direct cut, but also unswervingly crashed into Ling Mo, reaching out for his chest.

If caught by the powerful hands of mutated zombie, it won't just be skin trauma, and in this angle, Ye Lian could not come over to help either.

"Court death!"(Implying he is digging his own grave)

In the situation of life and death, Ling Mo's inner surge of fury had been drawn out, he not only did not dodge, but turned wrist and cut down again. He also suddenly swarmed up his knee to directly hit the chin of the mutated zombie, forced his action to become stagnant for a moment.

Even if there is only 0.1 seconds of opening, it will bring fatal consequences, it was in this instance when Ling Mo forced the sharp boning knife into the zombie's back neck.

"Ka!"

A quiet sound came; the mutated zombie's action suddenly came to a halt, while Ling Mo clenched his teeth to force the knife in a hard twist.

"Pa!" (snapped)

With this crispy sound, the sharp boning knife broke directly, and the part that stayed inside the body of mutated zombie completely ended his life.

Holding the half broken knife, Ling Mo now felt his whole power been drained out, he could not help but to breath in gasps.

Chapter 7 The Girl Behind the Window

After watching the mutated zombie fell, Ye Lian immediately jumped over and dug the gel out from his head.

Under Ye Lian's present speed, she could take out the gel without getting a single drop of bloodstain on her. And only after she let go of her hand, the big hole behind the mutated zombie's head began to slowly flow out of red and white mixtures.

To Ling Mo's surprise, mutated zombie's gel is totally different than average zombies. Average zombies' brain gel are only slightly reddish, but this piece of gel is completely covered in red threads, at first glace looked like a magnificent rosy red block gem.

After given Ye Lian a command to wait, Ling Mo took the gel from her hand and examined it closely in front his eyes.

Before Ling Mo had speculated that this gel should be a viral infection of the lesions, an existence similar to stones in vivo, but a little softer. Probably because of the presence of the lesions in the brain, people were infected, lost sanity and became zombies.

And swallowing lesions will allow the virus in Ye Lian's body to become purer and allow her to be more affected by the virus. This might be a way to attack fire with fire....

Putting it under the nose to smell, a very light, but pungent smell immediately jumped in which made Ling Mo frowned and almost chocked to faint. However, this thing that could not be endured by normal people are of supreme delicacy in Ye Lian's eyes.

From gel's appearance, which contained much higher virus purity than the average zombies gel, taking account of the previous situation, Ling Mo decided to wait to find a suitable place to let Ye Lian swallow this gel. Otherwise, even though it's alright if she fainted on the spot, but Ling Mo will lose the ability to react, by that time any ordinary zombies could kill him.

After crossing the body of the mutated zombie, Ling Mo frowned and entered into the slaughterhouse-like workshop, and Ye Lian was kept outside to prevent zombies that might be attracted over by the blood.

The floor looked like a layer of flesh, it felt very weird when stepped up, and a thick rancid smell is also choking the human brain.

The thought that Wang Rin might be part of these flesh and bones made Ling Mo want to drag out the body of that mutated zombie and slay him again.

There are many finished and half-finished craft swords, but these are not what Ling Mo wanted. He rummaged in it for a moment and finally found a box under a half bloodstained sleeve.

Opened the box, and in there lied several dagger and knife, these knives all exhibit complete coldness after pulling them out. Open edged knives look very sharp, and the quality is quite good, much better than those bulky choppers, and they are also easy to carry.

After carefully tried the handle, Ling Mo selected a short knife to hang to his waist, and picked up a handy dagger. With these two things, he should be able to visit the main city district with much more convenience....

Although Ye Lian is strong, but the deeper they head into the main city, the greater the number of zombies to encounter, it would not be feasible to rely on Ye Lian alone.

And because of the desire to be with Ye Lian, Ling Mo always had a little subtle idea. He wants to be stronger than Ye Lian, rather than lingering on her, so when the day comes for Ye Lian to regain her senses, he can stand up straight like a man when facing her....

After establishing spiritual contact with Ye Lian, this gives Ling Mo a reason to become stronger and advance together with her. But evolving together will not be enough, as a mutated zombie, Ye Lian has a much stronger physical strength, and Ling Mo's advantage lays in his ability in continuously learning and exploring fighting skills.

During the days fighting with Ye Lian, Ling Mo did learn a lot from actual battles. This can be seen from his previous battle with the mutated zombie.

But this is not enough.....Ling Mo walked out of the workroom, watched Ye Lian's back with intricacy.

It has confirmed there exist mutated zombies like Ye Lian, and looking from Ye Lian's amazing growth rate, they will soon encounter stronger beings than the mutated zombies. Especially in the dense urban zombie areas, there are probably a greater number of mutated zombies.... Looks like, I am not growing fast enough.

" Let's go."

Not able to find any other things in the store, Ling Mo left with Ye Lian. Although to Ye Lian, she is completely under spiritual instruction from Ling Mo, but in Ling Mo's eyes, she is still that pretty girl who likes to be spoiled, and he could not help but to talk to her.

But Ling Mo did not know, after they left, in the two-story building across the shop, a pair of thin white hands suddenly opened the heavy curtains, a pair of clear eyes watched Ling Mo and Ye Lian disappeared at the intersection through that thin gap between the curtains.

"Wang Rin, what's wrong?"

A man's voice came from the inside, asked in a puzzled tone.

The girl whom called Wang Rin immediately put down the curtain, she turned around to see the dusky room, a fine chiseled face without expression looked even more sick under insufficient light said: That mutated zombie was killed, the knife was also taken away, that best one."

The man who spoke walked out from the shadow, asked surprisingly: "impossible! How did they do it?"

"Direct confrontation." Wang Rin's face look a bit complicated,

"Considering that was originally a family relative, we planned to find the right method to kill him, I did not think that it was possible for someone to confront head-on with mutated zombies....I noticed them since the beginning, a powerless girl, the other one looked a bit familiar, but cannot remember who, looked nothing special either....

"Amazing!" Too bad that we even thought up a lot of ways to face that zombie but they were still one step ahead." The man exposed extremely shocked expression, but it was more on the depressed side.

Then suddenly out of dissatisfaction, Wang Rin gave a grunt: "The key is that knife! I had personally designed it, can't believe he took it! If it wasn't for that knife, I would not have specifically run back."

"Give it up since it's already been taken...." After being surprised for a moment, the man said with some frustration.

Wang Rin's eyes suddenly flashed with a trace of anger: "No way! I spent over six months on it, why does it have to be taken by him! We should go together and chase after them right now!"

"Do not bother anymore..."

"You are so timid! Fine, don't let me see him again, or else I won't forgive him! He dared taking my thing, robber!"

"Yes, you are right....." Man echoed with headache, then suddenly asked carefully, "the knife is gone, what should we do now? We can only go to your cousin's house, right? To also check to see if some of their family members survived....

"I would love to see that they all died!" Wang Rin's face flashed with a touch of disgust, muttered loudly with dissatisfaction.

But after a moment of silence, she nodded reluctantly: "Without options, that family also mastered grandfather's technique, not bad in making knives, let's go and take a look. If it wasn't for that knives are the only tools I know how to use, I would be too lazy to go! On the other hand, the man earlier grew more and more familiar...."

"In this tiny place, we will always bump into them, it would not be rare to see them. Forget about it for now, let's prepare early and then head over to your cousin's place."

Compared to Wang Rin's unfriendliness, the man is exceptionally excited, and looking at man's response, Wang Rin just gave a grunt: "I really hope that they are all dead! Especially that one, he dared to take my knife, I wish for you early demise and get send to after-life!"

And Ling Mo, who was heading towards a temporary safe house, suddenly felt a sense of numbness from the scalp, a wave of chill abruptly traveled from feet up.

He quickly turned around, and all he saw was a few zombies he just killed.

"What happened, was it imagination?"

Ling Mo suspiciously looked around, finally reluctantly shook his head, then turned around, looked at Ye Lian and hurried away.

Chapter 8 Change

The temporary safe house chose by Ling Mo is a small family hotel, the rooms are clean, scent of blood is not too strong, and the location is good most importantly. He deliberately found bottles of disinfection and poured them before the door, so that almost no zombies would notice this place.

However, this method could only work in places with smaller number of zombies, if it were in the dense city areas with full of zombies, they will be attracted instead....

After eating something, and carefully checked over windows and doors, Ling Mo finally sat in front of Ye Lian, and took out that piece of gel.

Don't know if it was exposed in the air far too long, originally that light pungent smell became even denser, the moment he took it out, it stimulated Ye Lian's eyes to turn red. If Ling Mo and Ye Lian did not already have a strong spiritual connection, she probably would want to resist.

But this smell is a torture for Ling Mo; he did not immediately stuff it into Ye Lian's mouth is because he felt that the color of this gel is simply too bizarre, it looked like real blood clots, and appeared to be very fresh. Never thought that virus can be preserved....

At this time, Ye Lian now has a strong instinctive desire, Ling Mo no longer continue to stimulate her, but handed the gel to her mouth.

Ye Lian's lip was cold, when she opened her mouth to swallow the gel, that warm tongue gently swept Ling Mo's finger, and it made his heart suddenly jump. Watching Ye Lian whose eyes gradually calmed down, Ling Mo even had the urge to kiss her directly....

But just when Ling Mo slowly lifted up her face, emotionless Ye Lian suddenly closed her eyes, her brow slightly wrinkled up even more.

This startled Ling Mo; this is his first time seeing this kind of face expression on Ye Lian's face. Although Ye Lian firmly closed her eyes, but because her body exudes a dangerous atmosphere, it allowed Ling Mo to feel a decrease in temperature in his surroundings.

At the same time, an alternating hot and cold feeling swept Ling Mo's body, he was covered in trembling, then felt a wave of painful sensation across every pore in the body, his head also felt like it's going to burst.

"Ahhh...."

Could not help but to let out a snort of pain, Ling Mo immediately curled down, and Ye Lian who was let go also fell down, paralyzed in bed.

Indescribable pain, conveyed through Ling Mo's each cell, he felt his body is being torn apart little by little, and recombined together slowly. He was only affected by spiritual connection, and able to make himself extremely painful, not to mention Ye Lian who bear the pain directly.

Ling Mo kneeled on the bed with blood shot eyes, the body involuntarily trembled, but his eyes were fixated on Ye Lian.

If Ye Lian could tolerate it, how could a big man like Ling Mo not take it....

After a full half an hour, the pain finally eased down slowly, but Ling Mo felt it was three days and three nights.

Fortunately, there came a sense of freshness, which greatly ease the pain caused by complications. He could feel the subtle changes he accumulated has received a throes of sublimation through the extreme pain, as if the whole person went through rebirth. With strength hidden inside his muscle, as well as unprecedented clear mind, it made Ling Mo very excited.

Like mutated zombies, he also received some form of evolution.....even though it's not showing from appearance, but Ling Mo felt it completely. Maybe it is his illusion, Ling Mo felt, because he was able to endure the pain with a clear mind, he received a much higher spiritual evolution than the body.

Whether there was truly an enhancement to himself, Ling Mo could only find out in his battle.

And Ye Lian stayed unawaken for the whole night, while in a coma, she always frowned slightly, from time to time shake a little. Ling Mo stood by her side, his heart filled with both pity and expectation. How much will Ye Lian grow after absorbing the gel from mutated zombie....

"Oh my, I actually fell asleep accidentally..."

The extreme fatigue on the body allowed Ling Mo to fall asleep after a night of guarding. But the special skills and instinct he developed during the disaster outbreak let Ling Mo woke up after a few minutes.

This type of special sleeping skill is probably obtained by all survivors during the disaster outbreak. An almost instinctive sense of strong wariness, it is even maintained during his sleep, and a few minutes of deep sleep is enough to ease frayed nerves.

But Ling Mo, as a controller of zombie puppets, due to his needs to maintain spiritual connection with the puppet, rarely falls into deep sleep state. This is the first time.....

After he nervously opened his eyes, he found something horrible happened: Ye Lian disappeared!

Did Ye Lian went out of his control in that few minutes?! But after calming down, Ling Mo suddenly find things were not so. After evolution, Ling Mo acquired stronger spiritual abilities; from deliberately control to arbitrary control, the improvement was really significant.

At that time, although Ye Lian was not before his eyes, but Ling Mo could clearly feel that he was still connected with her spiritually.

Ever since controlled by him, in addition to battles and going out, Ye Lian almost never act on her own, why suddenly today.....

Thought about that, the puzzled Ling Mo quickly converted field of view to Ye Lian's angle.....

Fortunately, Ye Lian is still inside the hotel, but her action is a little strange. If it was during normal days, besides attacking and eating, Ye Lian would never make much self-awareness movements, but now she was wandering around in the hotel.

And from time to time, she would stop at some places and quietly blank out for a while.

What is going on? Ling Mo quickly ran out the door, and soon found Ye Lian in the hallway downstairs.

Seeing Ye Lian at first sight, Ling Mo almost exclaimed aloud. The morning sun shone through the windows while Ye Lian, who was standing under the sunlight, turned and looked at him, her face had a trace of vacant look. But it was that little bit of emotion expression that made Ling Mo shaking all over, excited.

"Ye Lian!" Ling Mo quickly rushed before Ye Lian, hands grabbed her shoulder, cried thrillingly.

Did not expect so soon for her to regain her consciousness.....

No, something was not right.....After shaking Ye Lian a few times, Ling Mo suddenly felt a bucket of cold water pouring own his head (TL: it's an idiom that means the he got his hopes up but it was soon shattered). Within Ye Lian's eyes, he only saw occasional flash of lost, and the usual emotional indifference.

Perhaps the viral evolution let loose a little bit of Ye Lian's detained sanity, but it was still far from reaching the level of recovery. It was also possible that the viral evolution enabled the creation of new senses in the current blank minded Ye Lian....

"Ye Lian?" Agitated, after shouting a few more times, Ling Mo finally accepted the fact that Ye Lian did not regain full recovery.

But at least Ye Lian was showing a trace of emotional expression, and started to act on her own. Whether this is a precursor to her recovery, or a new viral evolution, this all means that it's still possible to achieve Ling Mo's expectation.

Chapter 9 Encountering survivors

But when Ling Mo led Ye Lian to go towards the direction of the main city, he found that Ye Lian not only showed changes in self-awareness, but more on amplification of instincts.

When facing normal zombies, Ye Lian's attitude became like confronting inferior organisms, and her way of killing also became cleaner with her eyes looked like trampling on lowly insects. And her attack speed is a lot faster, if she was simply like cheetah before, then now she is entirely a humanoid cheetah.

Although the viral evolution had made Ye Lian to appear closer to ordinary human, but her behavior is much closer to the real beasts, especially during weaker creatures hunting. Probably to Ye Lian, normal zombies are all just weak scums.

Ling Mo could not help but think, how will Ye Lian act when facing humans.... But under his control, preventing Ye Lian's random attack is still completely doable.

He rode a bicycle with Ye Lian through the streets, if it wasn't for all the zombies around them, Ling Mo would have enjoyed more of the ride.

But not for long, as soon as they stepped into the main city, Ling Mo found that trouble came to the door.

To be precisely, he confronted head-on with two survivors surrounded by zombies.

The two survivors, one man and one woman don't look much older, it was not hard to tell from their backpacks that they came out to scavenge for food. And the place they were fighting at was outside the gate of a supermarket. Using the door of the supermarket as cover, those two barely withstood zombies' ferocious attack, but the appearance of more zombies began to incur frequent crisis for them.

These zombies all attack rapidly with strong power, the door of the supermarket were soon smashed into pieces, these two had to recede inside, using shelves and counters and other obstacles to slow down the zombies.

And Ling Mo look at them afar, originally wanted to detour to leave, but was attracted by that girl.

That girl is holding a long knife, always smiling, and with each occurrence of the crisis, her sudden swift slashes are always able to kill all the zombies that rushed forward. Her speed at moments is even on par with Ye Lian. If not seen with his own eyes, Ling Mo would not even believe that such extraordinary skilled little girl exist among the ordinary people.

The key is her smile. Usually, girls in these kinds of situations would be scared to death, or they would at least be ashen and trembling. But from her expression, she seemed to enjoy this very course of fighting, even in the case of obvious disadvantage. No matter how strong she is, facing with more and more zombies, her strength would sooner or later be depleted, even Ling Mo can see that, her instant acceleration kind of attack not only posed great challenge to the physical body, but also challenge for the mind's concentration.

But even in this situation, she still remained calm....

Ling Mo even incurred a hint of doubt at this moment; does this girl also have some kind of special abilities like myself?

As soon as the idea came out, Ling Mo suddenly had a great curiosity toward this girl, but looked at Ye Lian sitting in the back seat, he decided that it's better to mind his own business. It would be no problem if the person is an ordinary survivor, if she really have special ability, she might be able to see through Ye Lian's true identity, then they will be in trouble....

Just when he intended to ride to bypass, but a cry came from the supermarket's direction: "Bro! Please help out!"

Hearing the sound of shouting instantly made Ling Mo's head feel a burst of pain.

Besides the sound of bro made Ling Mo annoyed, not to mention the sound of shouting alone is enough to bring greater trouble! Zombies' hearing are much more sensitive than average person, after the boy shouted, several zombies immediately came out from nearby alley or stores. And as soon as they appeared, they instantly noticed Ling Mo and rushed directly towards them.

"What a troll, AH!" Ling Mo curse loudly in his heart, pulled out knife from the waist and jumped off the bike. Because he was suspicious of the girl's identity, Ling Mo had to let Ye Lian stay behind him, not letting her attack in order to prevent revealing her true identity.

But dealing with nearly ten zombies by himself is really his first time. Just relying on his own attack ability is probably far from sufficient to cope with that many zombies.

Fortunately, Ling Mo still had the ability to control puppets, and right now is the perfect time to verify the result. When raising the knife towards the first zombie that rushed forward, Ling Mo's eyes had already turned to the second zombie, in the instant of making eye contact; his tyrannical spiritual power had immediately controlled this zombie by force.

While he killed the first zombie, at the same time the second zombie who was controlled to jump on Ling Mo's sword.

That was only the beginning, seeing several zombies rushed forward towards myself, Ling Mo kicked the corpse off his sword as he was shocked, but the mind was never this clear before.

He had already tried controlling two zombies at once, what about three zombies at one time?

Controlling three zombies at once is a new challenge for Ling Mo, but at that critical moment, he had no time to think, he only allowed this idea to float into his head for one moment and then immediately put to practice.

One swift movement of cutting the zombie at the front, at the same time controlling the two zombies that followed up, when their movements showed short-term stagnation, Ling Mo's knife at the same time have also promptly cut through their throats. This type of control only affected zombies' actions in a very short time; even Ling Mo did not expect its extreme effectiveness when applying it into combat.

Under the law he concocted (TL: implying he's repeating the method), Ling Mo, rushed into the zombie crowd appearing relaxed, and directly killed nearly a dozens of zombies with an incredible fast attack. Almost in the blink of an eye, zombies' corpses surrounded Ling Mo.

Spattered with blood, Ling Mo now looked like the Killing God, suddenly blindsiding the woman and man in the supermarket.

"Oh s***! Shana, did you see that? What did that person do, so cruel!" That boy stared directly, could not help but shout shockingly, and he did not realize that a zombie squeezed through the cracks of the counter and reached out to him.

"Poof!"

A slash of coldness went before his eyes, then that hand fell besides his feet, and he was covered in cold sweat watching the girl that stood beside him.

Shana eyed him coldly, at the same time she thrusted the long knife into the zombie's belly, then forced it out: " How's that my business?"

"We are saved! Come on, let's break out!" Even though Shana react indifferently, but the boy is exceptionally excited, after all, it's a turning point.

Regardless whether Ling Mo was willing to save them, this boy immediately jumped out of the counter, and Shana also followed to rush up after frowning her brow.

From a distance, watching the two people breaking through towards his direction, Ling Mo knew that temporarily it would not be possible to shake them off. So, instead of watching them attracting over another group of zombies, why not help them get away.

Chapter 10 Misunderstood by the girl

With Ling Mo's help, those two soon broke through the zombies' siege. At this time there already gathered dozens of zombies before the supermarket, so they cannot stay for more than one second.

"Brother, come with me."

The boy smiled at Ling Mo gratefully, then turned to run toward an alley.

And Ling Mo looked back to the street full of zombies, he had to take Ye Lian and followed them. As for the girl, she walked last calmly, from time to time cut down zombies that followed too tightly.

Watching the girl attack from a close distance, Ling Mo did not only care about her super fast attack speed, but also the long knife she is holding. The knife is very sharp and heavy; don't know how her thin arm can swing it so quickly yet relaxingly.

Most importantly is her facial expression and eyes when she beheaded zombies, they were too calm to the point it makes people feel a little scared.....

The boy led Ling Mo and Ye Lian in and out of alleys for more than ten minutes, then headed into a small building, which finally got rid of the big wave of zombies.

When the boy stopped to take a breath, Ling Mo already noticed that this small building has been cleaned up a bit. Most likely, this is their base.

"Bro....Brother.....It's all thanks too you." After death-defying fleeing for more than ten minutes, the boys' face was completely flushed, even his hair was dripping sweat, he tapped Ling Mo lightly on the shoulder, while intermittently said, " Really.....Thanks...."

His expression was actually very sincere, so Mo just accepted the appreciation and nodded.

"You are so good....." The boy finally caught up his breath and immediately said admiringly, " And your girlfriend too, didn't even blush or change breathing rhythm after running for this long... You can't be a born athlete, right? By by the looks of it there aren't really any muscles... Seems to be on the par with our Shana....

"Liu Yu Hao, why are you so annoying!" Shana who had been silent suddenly frowned and interrupted him, and she looked a bit unhappy, "Who is YOUR Shana!"

"Don't be like this... we were classmates after all!" Liu Yu Hao laughed and said, then he turned to Ling Mo and smiled, "today is all thanks to you, how about you come and sit upstairs for a bit?" While he said, he patted the backpack behind him, "we got beer!"

Ling Mo looked back at Ye Lian and thought thankfully that her evolution made her appearance no different than ordinary people.

Looking at Shana and Liu Yu Hao's reaction, it seemed like they did not see any flaws. However, for Ye Lian's consideration, he felt it would be best to minimize contact with the survivors.

Therefore, after considering for a second, Ling Mo decisively shook his head: "It's alright, we still have business to attend."

"Ah? What kind of business, come, let's sit together." Liu Yu Hao was suddenly shocked. From his view point, meeting other survivors at the end of the world is clearly something to be happy about, even if not surviving together, it would be good to exchange experiences. Not to mention a powerful figure like Ling Mo must have a lot of information that might be beneficial to them. If they can stay, they will no doubt be a huge help to them.

As for business.....Besides trying to survive in the end of the world, what else could there be?

Shana said somewhat impatiently, "If they don't want to, don't push them.....Huh?" She stopped her words halfway, suddenly surprised eyeing Ling Mo's hand knife. After a moment of pause, she suddenly extended her hand to Ling Mo's waist in lightning speed, simply not giving people a chance to react.

Ling Mo did not expect her to act that way suddenly, but just when her fingers touched the hand of the knife, Ling Mo reacted rapidly.

He just slightly turned sideways, and with a subtle angle Shana's action ended in failure.

This made Shana surprised instead, and Liu Yu Hao's mouth also fell open in horror: "Shana, what are you doing?"

Action's failure made Shana to look at Ling Mo with a glimmer of change, but her tone turned a little unfriendly: "Where did you get this knife?"

"It's not your business." After her sudden act and rough questioning, Ling Mo could not help but to frown slightly and reply bluntly.

Although not voluntary, but I at least saved them, there should be a limit of not knowing your manners. Look at Liu Yu Hao's careful attitude to her, he knew that she must used to being arrogant with her own superior fighting ability, but Ling Mo is not going let her have her way.

"You!" Shana stared at Ling Mo with somewhat angry look, but from time to time her eyes flickered towards the knife which means that she is obviously concerned about this. After a few seconds of silence, she adjusted her tone slightly, then asked: "Where did you get this knife, could you tell me?"

This kind of girl rarely put down her attitude so quickly, its obvious from Liu Yu Hao's surprised reaction to Shana's sudden change of tone.

There was nothing to hide originally, Ling Mo then explained briefly of how he went over to the sword store in search of weapons, only he only altered the story slightly in terms of the mutated zombie, such as that piece of red gel from that zombie.....

Hearing about the existence of mutated zombies, these two did not look startled, and this also allows Ling Mo to confirm his guess. Sure enough in the urban areas, there is a good number of mutated zombies....

"The shop you went to, it's the Wang Family's shop right?" Shana asked suddenly.

"How did you know?" Although the knife is a finished product, but the knife itself and the scabbard are without lettering, how could this girl tell? Then think again, Wang's handmade swords are quiet famous in X city, it would not be difficult to guess...

Shana looked at the knife in mixed emotions, "In other words, all the people in that store have died. Never mind, it's nothing."

"Since there's nothing else, can you not stare at my..." Since Shana has been staring intensely at Ling Mo's lower body where that knife was hanging, Ling Mo always had a very strange feeling, he could not help but bite the bullet and said.

Shana is at first surprised for a moment, then chuckled out uncaringly: "Don't be afraid, your girlfriend did not mind it at all, didn't she?" Then, she pointed at Ye Lian who was standing behind Ling Mo, "Right? Miss."

"I do mind....." Ling Mo at the moment did not know what to say, this Shana looked at most seventeen or eighteen years old, how could she speaks this sharply, but hearing she tried to talk to Ye Lian, Ling Mo quickly said, "Well, excuse me, she cannot speak....."

"Ah? Such a pretty lady, is actually a mute? Uh, I am sorry, please do not mind me, sister....." Liu Yu Hao first exclaimed loudly, and then quickly smiled with embarrassment.

Ling Mo also does not know how to explain, he could only smile wryly and nodded.

Something he did not expected of, Shana looked deeply at Ye Lian, suddenly grabbed her wrist. If Ling Mo did not immediately stop Ye Lian's impulse attack, probably at this moment, Shana would have been teared into pieces by Ye Lian.

From her expression, clearly Shana did not realize how much danger she put herself in: "Sis, come to our home to rest for a moment, I see that you are probabl tired."

Her tone implied a hint of sympathy, but after speaking, she look at Ling Mo much softly: "You're good too, come upstairs for a moment, I will treat you to beer."

Ling Mo was about to refuse, Shana is already dragging Ye Lian to walk upstairs, and Liu Yu Hao also went behind Ling Mo, pushed his back and urged: "Come on come on, we rarely see living people..."

Chapter 11 Reward you with a slap in the face

Walked upstairs and after opening one of the room doors, Ling Mo was surprised to find that there were more than two people living in this building besides Shana and the boy.

A dozen of men and women turned to look at the door at the same time. A quick scan, all of them are young people who are no more than twenty years old. One of the girls wearing junior high school uniforms excitingly came over as soon as she heard the door opened: "Big sister, you guys are back!"

"Hmm, you guys brought back two other people?" The female junior high student looked across Shana to Ye Lian and Ling Mo and she casually asked, then she turned the attention to Liu Yu Hao's backpack, "How's the loot for today?"

"It's alright! Just looted that big supermarket by the south street, there are still a lot of things I did not take back, but I already hid them. We can go get them once we are out again." Liu Yu Hao somewhat smiled proudly, but simply did not mention how they were in the life-and death situation, nearly died.

"By the way, I will introduce two people to you, this is.....sorry brother, I forgot to ask you your name...."

Liu Yu Hao just opened his mouth passionately, and then suddenly stopped embarrassingly.

"Ling Mo. This is my girlfriend, Ye Lian." After sighing secretly, Ling Mo introduced himself.

"Ah ha ha ha, it's big brother Ling!" Liu Yu Hao shortly resumed his passionate tone, wrapped his arm around Ling Mo's shoulder, pushed him to the middle of the living room, "Everyone pay attention, this is the one who greatly helped us today, so we decided to invite him to eat and drink!"

This group of young men and women were all either sitting on the sofa in the living room or on the floor, and they did not particularly care about the appearance of Ling Mo and Ye Lian. But right after hearing the words of Liu Yu Hao, they all looked surprised to see Ling mo.

One of the men who was lying on the sofa directly sat up straight, looked up and down at Ling Mo suspiciously, said: "How is it possible, there is Shana, what are the chances for him to help?"

"That's right, with big sister Shana here, how could an outsider help?" Another person also echoed in agreement, and especially emphasized on the word 'outsiders'".

Then the middle school girl from before walked over, waved and said: "Anyways, it's just a meal, you guys don't have to be like this."

"Freeloading is freeloading, no need for excuses. Liu Yu Hao, you are too good of a person, we never had any more food to spare originally." The man who questioned earliest gave another grunt and said.

Liu Yu Hao's expression became embarrassed again; he stole a look from Ling Mo, but realized the criticism did not trigger much reaction from Ling Mo.

"Everything I said is true, how could you guys know, Shana gets carried away whenever she fights, so she forgets to pay attention to the surroundings at all...." Liu Yu Hao clearly does not know how to cope with this kind of situation, even though he tried hard to explain, but this group of young men and woman still have that skeptical expression on their face.

At this time Shana also walked over with Ye Lian, but she did not seem willing to help to explain at all, instead looked at Ling Mo with a trace of quizzical smile, eyes clearly signaled, let's see how you handle this situation.

Holding a grudge from earlier! She is such a vengeful girl!

Obviously, although she put down her attitude before, but she did not forget how she was taken back by Ling Mo's sentence before.

But she was obviously wrong, for these who only know to reap profits, and a group of clique moths, Ling Mo does not even have the slightest interest to argue with them. He only sneered and turned to pull Ye Lian's hand, and wanted to leave: "excuse me, I never had the intention to be a freeloader, you enjoy your meal."

"Yo! He's cocky too!"

Shana and Liu Yu Hao were all stunned, and the young men who just opened his mouth also showed off a sudden ugly expression because he felt that Ling Mo's reaction putted him in an embarrassing position, so he cynically said: "This kind of man even brings a women, can you even feed her? You are lucky that you will be given food, how dare you to act all mighty...."

This is really unbearable! It was going to be okay for you of acting all creepy for the thought of me being a freeloader and be afraid that their food supply will become less. I was ready to leave but they still tried to embarrass me, you really think that I am made of tofu?!

Ling Mo's pupil suddenly shrunk, almost in the blink of an eye he dashed before the young man, and in this process, Shana was the first one to realize Ling Mo's attempt. But the moment when she reached out to block, Ling Mo has already swept past her, although her speed is fast, but her neural response is far behind of this seemingly ordinary man.

At the same time when she reached out her hand to grab him from the back, Ling Mo seemed to have seen through her actions, avoided her with the high-speed movements, not only went past her, but also appeared in front of the young man without stagnation.

The young man only felt a flash of blackness before his eyes, then felt his collar grabbed by someone, with both feet off the ground.

"You mother f...."

"Pa!"

A sonorous slap in the face stunned all people at the scene.

"This is called rewarding you with a slap. If you dare to speak another sentence that offends me, I will reward you more." Ling Mo's cold eyes, made the young man whose face became instantly swollen afraid to cry out.

Humiliation, resentment, and even too afraid to struggle. In Ling Mo's eyes, he can clearly feel undisguised coldness, and with Ling Mo's skill, he knew Ling Mo was not bluffing.

"Shana!"

The young man shouted with a stutter, although he held his face sullenly, not trying to show off his fear to Ling Mo, but the panic in his eyes have already betrayed him.

Ling Mo's ruthless move surprised everyone, including Shana. But when heard the youth cry out, although her eyes flashed a hint of disgust, but still stepped forward and spoke: "Ling Mo, let go of him."

"Apologize." But Ling Mo said coldly.

Shana frowned: "You have already hit...."

"Two different things, apologize."

"Why should I!" As soon as the young man opened his mouth, there comes a sound of "Pa", his face suffered another slap.

Shana looked at Ling Mo sophistically, then turned to look at the young man whose both cheeks are swollen, said: "Lu Xin, apologize, it's your fault that your moth stinks."

"I...." He expected Shana to stand up for him, but did not expect to provoke another slap in the face, the whole house people are now looking at him, each of their looks are like needles stinging on his body, Lu Xin's face showed as if he swallowed a fly and his heart was also full of anger.

"I stood up because I wanted everyone to eat a little more! How dare you say my mouth stinks, and no one stood up for me seeing me take the beating!"

But under Ling Mo's watch, Lu Xin could only swallow these sentences back to his stomach, through his teeth he squeezed out three words: "I am sorry."

As soon as the word came out his mouth, he felt his face burning, almost like been slapped by Ling Mo consecutively ten times.

Ling Mo let out a disdained grunt, threw Lu Xin on the ground, then grabbed Ye Lian to walk towards outside without hesitation.

"Wait!"

Liu Yu Hao finally reacted, quickly caught up, took out two tins of beer and a few packs of chocolate from the backpack and stuffed them into Ling Mo's hands, his face was full of regret: "I am sorry, really sorry...."

"What kind of people are those? Just depend on you and Shana to find food?" Even though Liu Yu Hao tricked him once, but Ling Mo held no grudge towards him, and could not help but asked.

"All classmates.... We all came from the same boarding school." Liu Yu Hao reluctantly shook his head, "That Lu Xin, he came from a very wealthy family, usually very arrogant, don't mind him. Besides, even if we let them to go out to find food, it will just give us trouble. You saw it, Shana is the most powerful one among us. Originally I also hoped that you could join us...."

"I don't keep people that leech, no excess energy." Ling Mo directly interrupted Liu Yu Hao's words.

"Ah I see..... Anyways, thank you for today....."

Liu Yu Hao did not finish his sentence, and Shana followed over.

She looked at Ling Mo deeply, then turned to look at Ye Lian sympathetically, eventually spoke in a low voice: "It will be dark soon, come and spend the night. Even if you can hold it, big sister cannot take it... Don't mind that Lu Xin, he would not dare to offend you again."

Shana spoke sincerely, but Ling Mo really does not intent to stay with this group of people: "No, I can always find a place in the city."

"Don't go!" Just when Ling Mo turned around, he felt someone dragged his sleeve, he turned back, and it's Shana.

Seeing Ling Mo casting a questionable look, Shana actually showed a hint of tweaking expression, until Ling Mo seemed to have become somewhat impatient, then she finally spoke with a lot of determination: "I see that you are very powerful, and not scared of zombies, I would like to ask for your help!"

Chapter 12 Trade

"Oh..... I refuse."

Ling Mo decisively shook his head, saving them was originally out of frustration, not to mention of experiencing some unpleasantness a moment ago. Right now, he just wanted to leave quickly with Ye Lian, or else it would be impossible to leave when it gets dark.

"How could you be like this! I didn't say anything yet!"

Shana bite her lip depressingly, clutched to Ling Mo's shirt and did not seem to want to let go at all. Although her face appeared stubborn, but observing closely, Ling Mo realized that she actually has a baby face that look much younger than her actual age. Before, he only noticed her ice cold side when cutting zombies, and he was completely unaware that she is actually a cute little girl.

Maybe it's because she had to bear the responsibility of taking care of these many people or because she experienced too much battle, Shana gives off a much more mature feeling than her appearance.

"Hey, do not stare at me!" Noting Ling Mo's eyes had been locked to her face, Shana suddenly raised her eyebrows, and threw off his arm, "We are all survivors, and you do have some tricks at your sleeves, why aren't you willing to help?"

If really so powerful, why do you still need my help.... Hearing Shana's tone, she is obviously reluctant to admit that she is not better than Ling Mo, Ling Mo thought.

"Let's put it this way, if it's related to those leachers, I will not help." Ling Mo really does not have much feeling toward those who sit and reap the profits, and ever since Shana and the boy came back, these people never even cared about their safety, instead they only cared about their own profits and how to exclude outsiders. Slapping Lu Xin's face to a certain extent was also a hit to these worm's faces indirectly.

But that is, after all, Shana and Liu Yu Hao's own choice, so Ling Mo did not intend to say anymore. But to ask him to do something related to these people, it would be impossible.

But after listening to his words, Shana actually showed a hint of enigmatic smile: "Does this mean, you are willing to help as long as it's not related to them? That's good, because this business really has nothing to do with them."

"I did not say that....."

"I just heard that Liu Yu Hao told you, we are students from The Third high school from X City, you know about this school right?

"I know.... Prestigious boarding school right?"

In X City, The Third High school is very famous, but for Ling Mo whose grades was only mediocre, he had only heard about the school but he had never actually been there. Rather Ye Lian graduated from Third High School the year before, and she was admitted to X City University. But he would've never guessed that the retarded Lu Xin who appeared to be asking for punches, is actually part of The Third City High School.....

At this time Liu Yu Hao added promptly: "That Lu Xin was admitted through money."

"You are so annoying!" Shana glared at him, then continued, "When we escaped from there, some of the students were left at school, we were going to pick them up after settling down, but when we went back there once, it was impossible to go near. You only need to help me to enter the school, how about it?"

To be honest, Ling Mo does not have this self-sacrificing spirit, and will not force his own standards onto others.

He looked at Shana somewhat meaningfully, suddenly extended his hand: "What about payment?"

"What?"

"You did not think that I am a free labor right?" Ling Mo rightly asked.

Liu Yu Hao's eyes suddenly jumped, instantly asked witlessly: "Who told me that after the outbreak of the disaster, everyone will help to benefit each other! Big brother Ling, I suddenly feel that the world is very dark!"

"It also depends on what kind of disaster, do you still think there is still order and morality?" Ling Mo gave a cold grunt, said.

Indeed, there are full of zombies out there, the living ones hide like mice, surviving in between the cracks. The order of the entire world has completely collapsed, a week ago, maybe they still counted on being saved, but now they have completely understood that in this situation, besides saving ourselves, there is no other option.

During the disaster outbreak, everyone may become zombies in an instant, and no one could even explain exactly through which channel did the virus spread. But in such a large mass of outbreak and how it swept across the world in a single day, the virus was probably spread through air....

And when these mutated zombies encounter living people, they will only immediately tear and swallow them, not giving them a chance to mutate at all.

Shana looked stunned for a while as she stares at Ling, then a hint of smile suddenly surfaced, "That's reasonable, but didn't you already got your payment? " Shana's hand pointed at Ling Mo's waist knife, "This, is made by my relative."

"You and Wang Rin are relative?!"

Ling Mo was shocked; the world is a bit too small! But this actually explained why this little girl have such sharp long knife, this tool is already out of the scope of the common control in the capital, it can completely be called a lethal weapon that's illegal to carry!

But when Ling Mo looked to her long knife, he found that the lettering on the handle is slightly different, the letters inscribed is not the name of Wang.....

Probably saw Ling Mo's doubts, Shana touched the exposed knife handle using her backhand, coldly grunted and said, "You don't have to look anymore, I made this myself. By the way, the one you have is made by Wang Rin."

"Wang Rin?" This really stunned Ling Mo, he did not expect that Wang Rin, who appeared so weak and sick can actually create handmade swords, and crafted it so well.... But then he thought, Wang's shop is a family business, it would not be strange for her to inherit the craftsman skill.

However, at this young age, and with such good craftsman skill, but to be killed at such early age without leaving behind a complete corpse.... Ling Mo could not help but to clench the handle, and his expression had also become somewhat gloomy in an instant.

Shana did not notice the subtle changes in Ling Mo's eyes, but continued to speak: "Even though she did not make it as good as me, but this knife still worth quiet a bit? You are considered to have received an advance payment, so shall we start? If you are worried about the safety of the big sister (TL: referring to Ye Lian), she can wait for us here, my classmates will take care of her....."

"No thanks." Ling Mo directly interrupted Shana's seemingly lighthearted proposal, no kidding, Ye Lian is actually a mutated zombie, once out of his control, probably all they will see later is a pile of bones and meat scraps when they come back.

"Although you are quiet annoying as a person, but you are good at this aspect. Even though big sister cannot talk, and seems quiet introverted, but she is beautiful, you should continue to cherish her!"

Shana raised her eyebrows, suddenly patted Ling Mo's shoulders, looked seriously and said.

Actually, little sister, you really misunderstood... But knowing that Shana and Wang Rin are relatives, Ling Mo's heart also loosened up about not wanting to help her out. In a place like densely populated school campus, there are naturally more zombies; the people who stayed in there most likely had the odds against them. Although Shana may have thought about this result already, she still did not give up.

Should we really say that she is persistent, or just stupid...

"Only to the door." Ling Mo carefully considered for a moment, it would be no problem to break through until the front door. In case if there are any unforeseen circumstances, he still has Ye Lian besides him.

"Great! Big Brother Ling, it's rare to see that you are willing to stay and help, we must drink tonight! Ha ha ha..." Liu Yu Hao secretly gave Shana a thumb up, then put his arm around Ling Mo's shoulders, and laughed.

"Since it's a trade, then I will not say thank you."

Shana smiled slightly, and then pulled Ye Lian. Looks like she took a liking to this beautiful sister who cannot speak at all and carries no expression...

Chapter 13 A Dragger should behave like a Dragger

In terms of the situation where Ling Mo and Ye Lian were staying, with Lu Xin as the previous example, other people did not dare to complain again.

But from how most people are deliberately avoiding eye contacts, Ling Mo could see that they were really afraid of him. Even though Shana is strong, but she never acted against Ling Mo. Maybe they finally realized at the moment when Ling Mo grabbed Lu Xin, it would be better to stay put in front of him.

And just like the effect Ling Mo wanted to achieve, although his only slapped on Lu Xin's face, but in reality the rest of the disgruntled people also felt that burning pain on their face.

As for Lu Xin, as soon as he heard that Ling Mo is actually staying, he immediately fled into the room, afraid to show his face again.

Ling Mo did not think he overreacted, this is actually a world without order, since he has the strength, then he will not allow others to insult him!

"Everyone remember those teachers and students who stayed back at the school?" Liu Yu Hao arranged Ling Mo to sit on the sofa, then excitingly said to those people, "big brother Ling already agreed to help Shana and I to find them!"

Everyone all froze for a moment, instantly looked at Ling Mo with mixed feelings.

The female junior high school student from before hesitantly spoke: "There are a lot of zombies over there....."

The implication, obviously is that the success rate of this operation is extremely low. And in other people's eyes, you could see skepticism.

"I have already told you guys before, I must go back to find them. If it wasn't for them, you guys would have already be turned into leftovers inside zombies' stomach." Compared to Liu Yu Hao, Shana is not only more direct, but also blunt.

If it wasn't for that she looked like a clingy little sister because of how she was holding Ye Lian's hand, she really behaved like a boss....

"But....."

At this time, a man in glasses who sat on the left of Ling Mo suddenly spoke: "if so, then let's all go together. Shana is right, they are probably still alive and waiting for us to pick them up. It would be too selfish for us to just walk away like this. How about it, can you take us?"

As soon as his voice fell, everyone's face became somewhat unpleasant, but strangely no one objected.

"No way!" Not waiting for Shana and Liu Yu Hao to speak, Ling Mo said promptly.

The man in glasses did not seem to be angry when his proposal was rejected, he only turned to Ling Mo and asked: "Why?"

"You all do not have the ability to fight, and we will be too big of a target if the whole group goes."

Getting blackmailed and extorted by Shana is all right after all, but being a babysitter for these group of people, Ling Mo is not nice enough to do something like that. Although the man in glasses worded everything nicely, but Ling Mo felt that they wanted to follow them just because of their lack of sense of security, and it can be seen from their reaction.

The Third High School is quiet far from here, it would be no problem if all those people were killed. But if there are survivors, then it would take a few days for Shana and the boy to come back. After all, going through those crowded zombie areas is not a simple matter.

Of course, these people do not have any pressure, they just need to play their role as a good liability.

"But there is not enough food to eat!" The man who previously echoed in agreement with Lu Xin suddenly opened his mouth and bitterly said, and it is equivalent to confirming Ling Mo's previous speculation.

"That's right, we never thought to meet big brother Ling today, so we did not prepare enough food for him in advance...."

Liu Yu Hao patted his own head, then turned to look at Ling Mo pleadingly.

"Well, you do not have to take care of their life and death, you just need to help us in times of crisis, would it be alright then?" Shana thought for a little, suddenly said to Ling Mo.

As soon as she said, everyone's face became somewhat subtle. They probably all knew about their own position, but it was probably the first time been clearly pointed out in the public, which is inevitable embarrassing.

In fact, it's because they know that they are a burden, so they would be dissatisfied with Ling Mo's appearance. Regardless if Ling Mo is the same as them in terms of being a burden, or with some ability, for these people who likes to form cliquey, Ling Mo and Ye Lian are all "foreign invaders."

As for Shana and Liu Yu Hao, the two are like hosts in these people's eyes, they might take full advantage of those two and make sure they are the only benefactor.

But leeches should consciously behave like leeches, once the host makes a statement, they could only endure even if they are dissatisfied in their hearts.

Since Shana already said it, no one else said anything and Ling Mo just nodded in agreement, "Okay."

"Great, Shana, you don't have to worry, just give us weapons and we will try to protect ourselves." Glasses man showed a hint of smile of joy and said.

But from the other people's completed expression, that would probably not be the case.

Everyone then discussed the details for another moment, and then Liu Yu Hao took out the food from the backpack, ate a simple meal while sitting together with the group.

The food they looted from the city could barely fill people's hunger, rather, Ling Mo's food in his backpack were a lot better regardless of it being in terms of taste or calories. It's pretty normal, there are a lot of more zombies in the urban area and a lot more survivors, so all kinds of supermarket probably have been through several rummages...

But Ling Mo does not intend to take it out and share.....

"Hm, big sister, you will not eat?" Shana handed Ye Lian half a pack of instant noodles, but found Ye Lian completely unresponsive.

" Big Sister, are you in a bad mood?"

Although Shana did not seem to notice, but Liu Yu Hao felt a sense of coldness from Ye Lian's eyes, he could not help but to ask tentatively.

"No, she just does not interact much with strangers." Ling Mo suddenly felt a headache because of all sorts of things that could go wrong if this conversation continues, so they quickly interrupted their questioning.

"Big sister, let's sleep together tonight." Shana suddenly proposed, "Ling Mo, you sleep together with Liu Yu Hao. Boys live there, and we girls lives on the opposite."

She pointed to the opposite direction as she said.

Even though Ling Mo wanted to refuse, but when his eyes swept through Shana and several other girls, he could not help but nodded for some mysterious reason, "All right." It's not far anyways, Ye Lian won't be out of control. Ever since his mental strength increased, there is a significant growth in terms of distance.

"Huh...?" Ling Mo's quick response surprised Shana, but this changed her views about Ling Mo slightly.

After the outbreak of the disaster, all recreational activities are basically gone. After dinner, although the sky just became dark, everyone all returned to their rooms silently to rest.

Shana also took Ye Lian and went to the opposite room with several other girls, while Ling Mo maintains the spiritual contact with Ye Lian, he would be sleeping alone on a single bed under Liu Yu Hao's arrangement.

This is like special treatment, after all he will help Shana and these people towards The Third High School, and with his fighting ability, even though he chooses to help selectively, it would have special significance to Shana and her people.

But no one expected that when Ling Mo slept on the single bed and closed his eyes to rest, his perspective had already switched over to Ye Lian' body.

" Leaving Ye Lian be with you guys alone, I cannot but help to worry, must pay attention...."

Ling Mo said secretly in his heart.

Chapter 14 The Shameful Game Inside Girl's Dormitory

Ever since encountering the zombie Ye Lian, Ling Mo was constantly undergoing a process of pain and happiness.

The body that once exist only in fantasies could now be touched at anytime and become naked by his hands again and again, although it was only for the purpose of changing cloth. Seeing Ye Lian's emotionless eyes, he could only push down the strong desire to push her down onto a bed.

But this compassion will only appear before Ye Lian.

So When Shana brought Ye Lian down in the corner of a mattress, she did not know at all that at this time, a strange smile emerged on Ling Mo's face in the opposite room.

"Big sis, just sleep with me. There is no way to add another bed for now." Shana frowned her eyebrows, glanced the surrounding and said apologetically.

This girl who acts so arrogantly is surprisingly gentle towards Ye Lian, which makes Ling Mo could not help but sigh in the heart.

If she knew about Ye Lian's true identity, who knows what kind of face she will make....

As a zombie, it's not like Ye Lian does not need to rest, but unlike the average people who need longer time to sleep. After being affected by the virus and turning into a zombie, in the case where the body is controlled completely by instincts, these zombies instead understand how to make efficient use of their own body energy. Those zombies who wandered on the street seemingly to have lazy movements, but once they spot a prey, they will instantly burst out tyrannical power and speed, and immediately transformed into horrifying monsters.

With no feeling of pain or thought to retreat, then coupled with flexible movements, once these zombies start to attack, they will not stop until the target disappears.

However, in the absence of a prey, their movement will immediately slow down to minimize physical activities. Compared to the amount of sleep needed by average people, zombies only needed this level of rest.

But in front of Shana and these girls, I cannot let Ye Lian act strangely, so Ling Mo commanded Ye Lian to nod her head, then just laid down on the side of the mattress against the wall.

"Big sis, are you not going to undress?"

Shana asked questionably, and then extended her hand to take off Ye Lian's jacket, "you will catch a cold if you sleep with clothes on. Come on, I will help you."

"What do you want to do, little sister!" Ling Mo's eyebrow hopped and he shouted in his mind. He agreed to let Ye Lian to sleep with Shana, only wanted to experience the pleasure of sleeping among the flowers (TL: implying beautiful girls), but I did not intend to play this shameful game!

But since you offered, you cannot blame me...

After controlling Ye Lian to sit up, Ling Mo.....rather, using Ye Lian's slender and pale hand suddenly grabbed Shana's collar, and pulled her towards Ye Lian.

Shana was stunned for a moment, with Ye Lian's power and speed, coupled with no defense, she did not even have the time to react and was already dragged before Ye Lian.

With Ye Lian's finger flexibly picked open the first button of the neckline, a touch of white skin immediately appeared.

"Ah!"

Shana called out in a low voice, but did not push away Ye Lian, apparently totally stunned. Right now the distance between her and Ye Lian is less than ten centimeters, the air ejected by her breathing could even blow up Ye Lian's hair. But she did not notice that Ye Lian's respiratory rate is surprisingly low, almost imperceptible to people....

But when Ye Lian untied the third buttons and can even get a glimpse of a corner of the small rabbit (Implying the two things on the chest), Shana finally came back to her senses.

"Big sis you are pretty bad!"

Shana "Puchi" laughed out, directly pushed Ye Lian down on the mattress, and twisted together with her: "I will help you to undress, ha ha ha...."

The rest of the girls also looked over with a smile, and even that female junior high student from earlier joined in....

And Ling Mo who's currently lying down by himself is having a twitched eye. A place like girls' dormitory, is really shameful...

After been naughty for a whole ten minutes, Shana who was stripped to only an underwear finally got into bed and laid down besides Ye Lian who is also stripped with only underwear.

Ever since the beginning where the female junior high student joined, the rest of the girls also rushed over. The Ye Lian who has a pretty face but does not speak a word stimulated great interest among these young girls, for a few times Ling Mo felt that Ye Lian's chest was "attacked"!

"Wow so big!"

"Ah, big sis, what is the size of your cup!"

"Such skinny waist, slippery skin...."

From the moment where the girls touched Ye Lian, the Ye Lian controlled by Ling Mo was in a completely abandoned state.

After all, this is a group of undressed girls around him, things like constantly creating a physical contact were never experienced or even imagined by Ling Mo! Most importantly, even though the one they attacked was Ye Lian, but Ling Mo was the one who "suffered"!

Until the moment where Shana got into bed, Ling Mo suddenly woke up.

"Big sis, your body feels cold."

Shana touched Ye Lian with her warm foot, rolled over to Ye Lian and whispered.

Let's return the favour.... Ling Mo let Ye Lian's hand to touch Shana, but the moment she tried to act, her elbow hit Shana's chest.

"Ha, let's stop playing!" Suddenly attacked by the chest, Shana is not angry, just laughed in a low voice, "never thought that big sis is actually quiet cheerful! It would be much better if you could smile more, you are so beautiful, and laughing will make you look very good. But that Ling does not look good enough for you, I thought in the beginning that he forced you."

Give me a break little sister, big brother here has a bottom-line!

Ling Mo secretly rolled his eyes, and manipulated Ye Lian to shook her head.

"Haha, I know, then I saw that your body is clean, and heard how he talk about you... then I knew that he is not that kind of scum." Shana leaned toward Ye Liana a little more, almost sticking with Ye Lian's body, "go to sleep, we still have to go to The Third High School tomorrow. Anyways, thank you guys in advance.

This girl has totally two different personalities in front of Ling Mo and Ye Lian!

Probably because of performing too much physical activities during the day, after she finished speaking, she soon let out long even breathing and seemed to have already fallen asleep.

And Ling Mo actually look through Ye Lian's perspective and stared at her for a moment. After falling asleep, not only the arrogance disappeared from Shana's face, but it also revealed a little softness.

Letting such small girl in charge of this many people's hope for survival, it really makes life difficult for her, ordinary people responsible for their own survival already has tremendous pressure, and imagine what kind of extremely heavy burdens is there on Shana's not so strong shoulders.

Although she entirely made it herself.....

After touching Shana's cheek, Ling Mo who is lying on the single bed quickly fell asleep after taking a long deep breath.

Like Shana said, there is still tomorrow!

In order to ensure adequate strength, it's better to have a good rest.

Chapter 15: The True Intention

Early next morning, this little building which appears ordinary from the outside immediately began to get busy.

Liu Yu Hao averaged the food stocks in terms of head count, distributed to the hands of everyone; even Ling Mo and Ye Lian were no exception.

Of course for Ling Mo who has a full backpack of food, merely two bottles of mineral water and a few packs of snacks to him were simply useless, which were even more useless to Ye Lian, who is completely not interested in ordinary people's food.

But when other people took over this meager amount of food, and then saw Ling Mo's uncaring expression, they all looked a little uncomfortable.

Lu Xin whose cheeks were still swollen even complained in a low voice to people around him: "He doesn't even care about us, and took our things!"

"Shut up, you want to get another beating?" The man in glasses said something back, frowning.

"It's all because you guys are too pussy to fight back with me!" Lu Xin's face immediately flushed, after cursing in a low voice, he suddenly shut his mouth.

Even though Ling Mo did not even look at him directly, but when Lu Xin sees Ling Mo walked in, he still took control of that piece of foul mouth and stopped speaking.

"What kind of weapons do you guys have?" Ling Mo didn't not even care about people like Lu Xin, he walked directly up to Liu Yu Hao and asked.

Liu Yu Hao is currently trying to rummage in several large backpacks, hearing Ling Mo, he looked up and pulled out a kitchen knife embarrassingly: "This is like the best."

In fact, with ordinary people's arm strength, using the kitchen knife to cut off zombies' head in one shot is extremely difficult, to cause fatal injuries and to prevent zombie movements would probably not be easy at all.

And for close ranged fights; even if you hold the weapon in your hands, willpower and neural response would be another great challenge for ordinary people. If it wasn't for the help of zombie puppets, it would even be hard for Ling Mo to advance relying on battles.

But that's still better than nothing, kitchen knives are overall much better than bare hands.

"It's better to give one to each person. A single zombie is only slightly stronger than an average person, with a little courage everyone should have some ability to resist. After all, zombies win in quantity."

Ling Mo said with a somewhat carefree tone. A normal person encountered by a single zombie does have the strength to fight back. Because of this, Ling Mo look down on this room, which is filled by leachers that all have hands and legs, who are healthy, energetic, yet chose to rely on a little girl.

"It's simple for you to say!"

Even though someone muttered in dissatisfaction, but everyone still suddenly went around Liu Yu Hao to pick up weapons.

From Ling Mo's attitude, he won't give them a hand even if they are in danger, and if Shana and Liu Yu Hao have no time to attend to them, guess they will have no choice but to die on the spot..

Soon, food and weapons were distributed, and Shana came back carrying the long knife covered in blood.

She went out early, cleaned up those wandering zombies nearby and at least cleared the road.

"Let's go. We must arrive at The Third High School before afternoon." Shana stood by the door, her arrogant face showing a hint of firmness.

When Shana spoke, these people all looked at each other, and followed Liu Yu Hao closely to downstairs. Ling Mo and Ye Lian walked at the rear.

As soon as the door is opened, two lying zombie corpses at outside immediately appear before the eyes, a few girls instantly screamed out.

"Shut up! You will lead the zombies to here!" Shana said while frowning.

Those girls immediately covered their mouth, although the other boys did not make a sound, but they also don't look good. And Ling Mo who saw this secretly shook his head, being leachers for too long and they are now even worse than those ordinary survivors. Up to this time, most likely not many survivors would still scream at the sight of corpses.

"The Third High School is this way, we have to go through three residential areas and two main streets, as well as a hospital, there are going to be a lot of zombies. You only need to help me out when I can't deal with all of them." Shana turned and said to Ling Mo.

Ling Mo nodded casually, grabbed Ye Lian's hand without attracting attention. There are a lot of factors that caused Ling Mo to agree with Shana's request. While worried and admired the girl at the same time, Ling Mo also wanted to do something for Wang Rin, after all, the knife she made is very useful. But Wang Rin is dead, he could only help her relative.....

On the other hand, this is also an opportunity for Ling Mo, not only able to take a look at the situation in the city, but also to hone his zombie puppet controlling ability, to enhance the experience of fighting.

In fact, while coordinating with Ye Lian during normal days, along with trying out to control several zombies at the same time, Ling Mo vividly noticed that his zombie puppet controlling technique was becoming more and more skilled, but he always felt a barrier in between him and his puppets. This should be the situation of reaching a bottleneck in the common sense....

Who knows that after breaking through this bottleneck layer, what kind of state will be achieved. The faster of increasing the strength, the quicker I could help Ye Lian to evolve, probably also enable her to regain her consciousness soon.

Ever since swallowing the gel from mutated zombies, and emerged a tiny sign of consciousness, Ye Lian became no long interested in the ordinary zombies' gel, and the effect is not great as well after ingestion.

This means that he must take Ye Lian to find even more mutated zombies....

According to the two previous experiences of encountering zombies, as well as his own analysis, Ling Mo felt that mutated zombies are most likely to occur in places that are relatively enclosed, but also with at least a certain size of crowd.

And in hospitals or schools, especially in a boarding school, it's highly likely to have mutated zombies.

The moment when he agreed to Shana's request, Ling Mo had decided that as soon as they reached the school gate, he would move separately from Shana and her people. They are going to rescue, and he would be taking Ye Lian to find mutated zombies in campus.

Going with a large group of leachers, Shana and others did not move at a fast speed. But looking at Shana killing zombies with such a relaxed expression, these people also alleviated a lot of fear. And although Liu Yu Hao's fighting ability is not as good as Shana, he was able to coordinate with Shana's movements, whenever Shana pushed back several zombies, he would always find a gap and perform some surprise attacks to get rid of one or two, then immediately retreating to behind Shana after succeeding.

On the other hand, other people did not even dare to attack with weapons at hand...

After passing the first residential building with partial success, the first victim finally appeared.

While passing a shop, a hand suddenly reached from a collapsed shelf and got ahold of one of the boy.

This boy only had the chance to utter a scream, then with the sound "bang", he was directly dragged among the shelves.

When Ling Mo who was the closest to him kicked away the shelves, the boy was already bitten at the throat by a seven or eight-year-old little zombie, eyes wide open and blood pouring out from the mouth making a "cuckoo" sound, unable to speak. In just one short second, his neck was torn a big hole and even the trachea was dragged out.

And the little zombie looked up with a mouthful of blood, through the dirty hair, that pair of red eyes stared at Ling Mo as if looking at a dead person, then he suddenly jumped over.

Dealing with single zombies is easy for Ling Mo, especially after he knew how to use the zombie puppet ability to deliver instant effects.

In the instant of meeting the eyes of the little zombie, Ling Mo has already turned it into his puppet; even when the little shit jumped toward him, it was actually under Ling Mo's control.

As the little zombie was about to reach Ling Mo's body, the person behind started screaming out of fear as Ling Mo just calmly swung the knife in his hand with an emotionless expression.

"Poof!"

A surge of blood flows to the wall when Ling Mo swung, and the little zombie was bisected in the air and fell to his feet.

"It's dead."

Ling Mo briefly said. He did not take one more look at the zombie's corpse, then went over to check the boy among a pool of blood.

All at once, the group of people fell silent, after a few seconds, a girl suddenly cried out, but in fear of the zombies, she immediately covered her mouth when she made the sound, swallowed her scream then made weird choking sounds.

The rest of the other girls also looked terrified at that body, which was still twitching slightly, eyes almost all red. The boys were not much better either.

Chapter 16 Hero saving the Beauty, damn this plot

Shana walked in front of the body with a depressed expression, eyes flashed a hint of sadness.

But soon she looked away, turned and whispered: "let's go."

"But....."One of the girl looked at Shana hesitantly, but ultimately did not say anything.

This unexpected event immediately changed the atmosphere to become a little heavy, but it also made these people to become even more nervous and careful. They realized that, even though they have Shana and Liu Yu Hao to open the road in front and Ling Mo guarding the rear, no one can guarantee that a situation like that won't happen again.

After all, their purpose is to reach the destination, not sweeping mines, besides the zombies that rush up voluntarily, Shana and those people will not deliberately pay attention and to search the surrounding shops.

The way of how Shana treated the dead teammate, enabled Ling Mo to grasp a further understanding of her personality. She is indeed raising leachers and she can also be stupidly stubborn sometimes, but she did not lose her decisiveness.

This is probably the reason of how she could survive even with a big group of borers who could only extend their hands for food and drinks.

"Wang Cheng, it's all your fault to suggest that we follow them! Otherwise how could people die!" Lu Xin turned back to look at Ling Mo, but he couldn't help but show a hint of disgust seeing how calm Ling Mo is. But since he already learned a lesson from earlier and got thoroughly embarrassed, he could only walk beside the man in glasses and fiercely cursed in a whisper.

Wang Cheng pushed his glasses, and replied in a low voice: "How could you guys survive without Shana and Liu Yu Hao? And you have already seen, that Ling Mo is looking down at us, what if he moved Shana with his words to abandon us? Most importantly, if those people did not die, can Shana and Liu Yu Hao feed these many people?"

"This...."Lu Xin looked surprised at Wang Cheng, then frowned to ask, "then what's the use of us following them! S***, if it was before, why would I need to act so carefully around that chick, not to mention that low class Ling Mo! He dared to hit me...."

Behind the lenses, Wang Cheng's eyes flashed a hint of coldness, he interrupted Lu Xin's curse:" Why to tag along? Don't you think, the disappearance of more people is better for us? Treat Shana with care, now she is your food supply, if I were you, I will hide that little trick of yours, you didn't get her to be your girlfriend before, and it's impossible to get her now too. For that Ling Mo, if I were you, I will forget about what happened, he, is not someone you can mess around with."

Lu Xin was stunned for a moment, when he raised his head to look at Wang Cheng; he even felt chill down his spine. Who knew that Wang Cheng, who appeared to be nice and gentle, is actually having such insidious ideas.....

However, in the moment when he was surprised, Wang Cheng already held up his kitchen knife and followed behind Shana's back, acting like he is going to fight with them.

But the recovered Lu Xin, has already gritted his teeth and cursed, "F**k! If this had not happened, Shana would have been so obedient if I had just randomly gift her something. As for that low class guy, he wouldn't not even have the privilege to lick my shoes!"

Dramatic role changes before and after the end of the world all created the imbalance in Lu Xin's heart. Humiliated by Ling Mo, looked down by Wang Cheng, Lu Xin's eyes even became bloodshot. But what is the use of feeling imbalanced, like Wang Cheng said, he could not even touch Shana's clothes, and Ling Mo could abuse him anytime.

"F***! F***! F***!" After cursing three times all at once, Lu Xin felt that his inner sense of frustrations reduced a little.

"However, he is right..." Took a look around at the surrounding classmates, Lu Xin started to plan secretly at his heart, who can be sacrificed....

During the next part of the journey, people became more alert because of the victims, and went through without a single casualty. The occasionally zombies that appeared were all taken care by Ling Mo, not even needing any help from Ye Lian.

But not for long, the group arrived near a hospital. Shana did not need to remind these people and they knew it will be very dangerous around here.

Here originally belonged to the most popular part of the street, and in a place where it's highly populated like hospital and medical staff, just imagining the number of zombies that may appear is enough to make people's legs shiver. Some people were already thinking about backing off, but all lost this thought after Shana's firm stares.

Sure enough, the moment where they turned to the corner on the street, the scene that appeared before everyone's eyes make people's scalp tingling, body shivering.

Countless discarded, or crashed cars piled densely on the street, and within these wreckages, there were at least hundreds of zombies wandering around unconsciously.

At the nearest distance inside a high-end sports car, a man's twisted half face was glued to the front windows, then the other half of the body snatched out by the zombies from the cracks. He disappeared without a trace, with only blood spattered across half of the car.

"How to get past....."

The group is already becoming pale, even Wang Cheng's head was covered in sweat. He quietly leaned toward Shana.

Instead of timidly hiding behind the whole group, the closer to Shana the safer zone, although it could be a little frightening....

However, in this case, even Shana felt troubled. On the contrary, Ling Mo still looked calm, even though there were a lot of zombies on the road, but it's not impossible to get past. Shana's concerns, was all due to these draggers after all...

"I will think of a way to distract their attention, Ling Mo you take them..." Shana clenched the knife handle tightly and spoke decisively.

"I will attract the attention of these zombies."

Ling Mo suddenly spoke, surprised everyone, even Shana looked unbelievable.

"You?"

She does not doubt that Ling Mo will not be capable, but just felt that Ling Mo voluntarily suggested to help them out, is hard to be accepted by everyone.

"Pass this district with force will be even more dangerous. You guys first find a place to hide. As soon as the zombies started to gather in my direction, you will pass immediately."

It's actually not hard to attract zombies' attention, but the person who is acting as the bait will be in grave danger, unless there is a time bomb. Even if he have this kind of equipment, how could one explosion hold the zombies' attention for long.

And Ling Mo for sure does not have these kinds of firepower, but he has a much safer, smarter method.

"Are you sure you will be alright?" Shana asked hesitantly, "Let me do it...."

"Just go." Ling Mo smiled and said.

On the other hand, Liu Yu Hao looked at Ling Mo admiringly, he patted his shoulder: "Big bro Ling, you are the man! I thank you on behalf of everyone."

You easily accepted my proposal to let me take the risk! Ling Mo secretly rolled his eyes. He is not doing it for these people, but he just could not watch a girl take it all on herself. Anybody could see that, if Shana really went over, there will be a slim chance for her to survive. On the other hand, he does not want to stay behind to babysit these people.

After all, Ling Mo is just a normal man, even if he has a selfish side, but within his capabilities, it's inevitably for him to develop a bit of a hero complex where he saves the girl.

What's more is that it's not only about helping Shana, but also to return the flavor. After following behind them all this time, Ling Mo did not waste any strength to get here, so it's time to act.

But...I am really destined to be such an ill-fated guy, never learning to stay still, to be a leech without feeling guilty!

Even when reality was forced upon him, he had to bow down his head in many situations, since the heart still insisted on some silly bottom line that cannot be given up.

Such as this stupid hero saving the beauty complex... Fortunately this time, he is not digging his own grave. After all, he is confident.

Wang Cheng and the rest of people's eyes lit up, the moment when they were going to mouth some appreciative words out of formality, they immediately heard Shana gritting her teeth and saying, "Then we will go hide first!"

"Alright, I can only give you guys five minutes."

Ling Mo waved and said.

After five minutes, the place he was at will be full of zombies.

Chapter 17: Seven wooden sticks is waving gay tricks! Do it! Do it! Do it! Do it!

The fact that Ye Lian also was staying, although made Shana doubtful, but one has to say that when they were evacuating, the calmness expression on Ling Mo's face still stunned Shana's heart very much.

As for other people's thoughts, they were all different....

But after all, the fact that Ling Mo was risking his life to help voluntarily still touched a lot of people. A few people were even feeling guilty, and regretted to have thought Ling Mo as an outcast.

But the Ling Mo who was stayed while others ran, he never had those thoughts. To him, whatever others think about him, especially these useless people's thoughts about him, they can totally be ignored. The most important thing is to do what he wanted to do, with no regret.

And of course the important thing is, is this is a life-threatening situation for Ling Mo?

The answer is of course a No! Ling Mo would not do something such as jumping off the cliff when there's a tiger down there. No matter how much that hero complex develops, he will not go die in vain impulsively.

Until Shana and her people all disappeared, Ling Mo finally touched his nose, and moved into a mobile shop next door like a normal day of shopping.

When he just arrived here, a few zombies inside rushed out upon hearing movements, but they were soon cut down, with the corpses lying across in front of the door. Ling Mo kept Ye Lian outside, and he crossed over the bodies and stepped inside.

Since the outbreak until now, all public facilities have lost their functions, and communication is no exception. But Ling Mo is not looking for a normal cell phones, but a powerful, portable audio phone.

Fortunately, this mobile shop is not a franchise brand, it sells a wide range of brands of cellphones. Ling Mo found a couple of fully charged cell phones through the messy counter, then walked out with satisfaction.

Now he acquired audio equipment, if he just throws these onto the ground, some zombies will be attracted over, but it will not be enough to attract the entire street of zombies. And by doing so, it will be dangerous for himself. Imagine, as soon as the sound explodes, zombies from all around will be gathering over, Ye Lian will be fine when standing among the zombie crowd, but where can I run to?

Moreover, since I have already taken the initiative for the task, then I must do my best, otherwise it would be a waste for the ability I have.

Indeed, for an average person, a task like this probably has a failure rate of over 90%, but for Ling Mo, it is quite easy...

At first he carefully walked toward the street, used his zombie puppet controlling ability and controlled three zombies.

However, since he did not know where Shana and those people were hidden, Ling Mo specifically chose a dead corner to prevent Shana and the others from seeing his power in action, and then he commanded those three zombies to walk to his side."

"Come on, one for each person."

Ling Mo smiled strangely, and distributed the cell phones to these zombies.

He specially selected strong young zombies, so they will be able to move faster later on.

After he took a look at the situation on the street, Ling Mo then controlled these zombies to hold the cell phones and go back onto the street. And he and Ye Lian went hidden at that dead corner, calculating the distance between himself and the zombie puppets.

Controlling three zombies all at once, presumably the distance will reduce, but after evolution, Ling Mo's spiritual force has been quite different.

Thirty meters... Fifty meters... One Hundred meters... One hundred fifty...Three hundred!

Frowning, with a pale face Ling Mo wiped cold sweat from his forehead: "the limit is three hundred meters... and it's in a state of almost out of control, but it is enough."

Ling Mo then turned his look towards the hospital not far away and immediately planned something in his mind.

The linear distance between him and the hospital is at most one hundred meters....

"Start!"

Ling Mo controlled the two zombies trying to walk as far as possible to the other end of the street, and only stopped when his head was about to burst. The moment when one of the zombies pressed down the playing button, Ling Mo felt he almost fainted.

In the knockoff cellphones these days, there must be a song with a volume loud enough and a voice light enough!

After pressing the play button, there was a brief gap, then immediately a deafening sound burst out: " Seven wooden sticks is waving gay tricks! Do it! Do it! Do it! Do it! "

With the music sounds, this zombie immediately dashed like an arrow straight to the hospital door.

The zombies that were wondering on the street almost immediately turned attention to these walking speakers, and soon their throats let out meaningless roaring sound, rushed up.

As Ling Mo have predicted, there were way too many zombies on the street, the zombie puppet did not even go through half of the road, it was already knocked down and the music quickly disappeared.

But it doesn't matter, Ling Mo has already given up the control on this zombie, and the moment when the music disappeared, the second cell phone rang immediately.

The same music, same movements, but attracted even more zombies from a distance, and also brought those distant zombies over.

And now at about one hundred meters before Ling Mo, the road became almost packed with full of zombies!

When the third cell phone rings, the direction of the sound did not came from among these zombies, but at the hospital door!

While controlling those two zombies, Ling Mo has already controlled the third zombie to walk in front of the hospital door, and pressed down the play button when the second cell phone was destroyed.

A big wave of zombies rushed to the hospital, this site of spectacular scenes made Ling Mo who was observing through the perspective of the third zombie shivered for a moment.

These zombies are not like the ones in the movie, they are fast and fierce, and it gives off a very shocking and stunning feeling when the wave rushed over.

But as soon as the zombie crowd moved, Ling Mo immediately controlled the third zombie to run to the hospital.

And there was a large number of zombies inside the hospital, even though the third zombie was jumping right and left under Ling Mo's control, but was finally completely stopped at the outpatient hall.

Living people would hardly have the experience of been chased by hundreds of people, and would not know the feeling when countless hands stretched towards themselves, let alone the feeling of watching himself being ripped off. But in order to delay as much as possible, Ling Mo must endure this kind of feeling inside that zombie's consciousness.

Zombies feel no pain... this is really fortunate in the midst of sadness.....

And through the process, the cell phone was nearly knocked down to the ground for countless times, but Ling Mo at this time fully mobilized his spiritual power, relying on constantly changing the manipulating target and really dragged it out for several full minutes!

A few minutes are very short, but when among hundreds of zombies, a few minutes is enough to rip apart hundreds of people in an instant.

For Ling Mo, this is a great challenge for both the mental strength and the reaction speed.

As for Shana and those people, they are immediately shocked as soon as the music went on!

"This is like digging his own grave!" Shana gritted her teeth feeling extremely angry. She carried the long knife and dashed out from the temporary little house, and the others had no time to stop her at all.

But when she saw the scene on the street from a distance, she was immediately shocked!

The scene where hundreds of zombies running towards one direction, besides seeing it at the start of the outbreak of the disaster, was rarely encountered.... And it is impossible to think it was caused by human!

For a time, Shana is feeling both surprised and happy, but at the same also feeling worried!

But this is not the time to feel worried.... Backhanded slashed a few zombies behind the back that was attracted by the sound, Shana immediately ran upstairs: "It's good, lets go!"

"This fast?"

"We can really pass?"

"Shut up, he put his life on the line to clear out the roads for us, lets hurry up!"

It's not that there are no more zombies on the road, but instead there are some zombies attracted over that was hidden in the dark.

So the street is not entirely safe, but it's just much easier to get past.

As soon as Shana and these group of people rushed onto the street, they did not see Ling Mo and they only paid attention to the fact that most zombies ran into the hospital.

Did Ling Mo and Ye Lian go into the hospital? Isn't that suicidal?

Shana became very anxious, stomping on her foot, but she cannot just leave the people behind her on their own. While being stressed out, she saw Ling Mo who was covered in sweat ran out with the emotionless Ye Lian.

"Quick! Hurry! I'm at my limit!"

As soon as Ling Mo finished his sentence, then heard a big sound from the hospital, numerous glass debris fell through the second floor with a dozens of zombies at the same time. At the same time, the hospital door was completely crushed, a few zombies immediately noticed Shana and began charging right at them.

"Go!"

Shana also did not have time to ask, in this situation, even if she did not shout, these people will run for their lives.

Once pinned downed, they will fall into the death situation surrounded by hundreds of zombies!

Chapter 18 Life and Death Battle inside the Revolving Door

If they were in a complex terrain environment, it would not be difficult to lose nearly twenty zombies, but for this area, in addition to the wide street there are only high-rise buildings on the sides. In the situation where one is not familiar with the routes, you might die faster if you rush carelessly into the alleys.

And it is also not realistic to run with these group of zombies, Ling Mo, Ye Lian and Shana all have very good physical abilities, but Liu Yu Hao already began taking deep breaths, and others had the look that they were going to fall at any time. If it wasn't a life or death situation, they might have already burned out.

Most importantly, more and more zombies were following over, and getting closer as well!

After all, during the escape, a lot of zombies had already appeared in the front, as soon as they delayed a little bit, their distance would be pulled up close. If this continued, then it won't be for long until they get sandwiched in between.

"This Way! Use the covers to kill them!"

Ling Mo saw it was impossible to get rid of them, so he turned to look around, and pointed to a commercial building and said.

Seemed like he pointed randomly, but in fact in this neighborhood, that commercial building is indeed the most appropriate cover place. Only one revolving door, and the door is still relatively narrow. Even if there are other entrances, it would not matter, because they only needed to get rid of these zombies and then they could leave immediately.

After saying that, Ling Mo took Ye Lian and rushed directly toward that building, and Shana also quickly waved, ran over with the rest of the group.

As soon as everyone squeezed through the revolving door, the zombies had already rushed to the front. Distorted faces, pairs of emotionless and bloodthirsty red eyes, as well as a very strong blood odor. Even on the other side of the revolving door, when facing that many zombies up close, it was still scary enough for the group to cringe.

These zombies were way too fast, resulting in Ling Mo and the rest of the people immediately turning against them when they just entered the revolving door.

But the angle advantage manufactured by the Carmen style door did give them a much easier time, at least they don't have to deal with twenty zombies at one time. Each time only a maximum of three and four can squeeze in, and they were easily killed by Ling Mo, Shana and Liu Yu Hao immediately after they extended their head. In this situation it would be a lot faster if Ye Lian attacked, after all she uses her hand directly to kill, which is much faster than Ling Mo and the rest of them who have to swing weapons.

But Ling Mo is probably the only one who is used to her kind of bloody killing methods.... If it was seen by Shana and these people, who knows what kind of reaction will they have.

But just as Ling Mo and these people were guarding the door and fighting intensely, they did not notice that behind front counter of the commercial building, two zombies in business skirts and high heels suddenly jumped out.

Their previous identities might be white-collars workers in this high-end commercial building, but now has only become zombies who only knew how to predate on others.

But stepping on ten centimeters high heels, even zombies cannot run too fast, and stay quiet, thus getting immediately discovered by someone.

"Ah!"

With a scream, the closest girl was directly pushed down by the zombie. She screamed like crazy, but could not struggle away under that female zombie. And at the moment when she was pushed down, this zombie has already bit down on her carotid artery.

Waves of blood immediately splattered out, and at this time the other female zombie was already on her way to push down the next scared boy.

But his reaction was much faster than that girl, he backed off right away, but just as he took two steps back, he bumped into the glasses man Wang Cheng.

Acted out of instinct, Wang Cheng just pushed him out into the zombies... But at that chaotic moment, no one noticed this detail.

"Help Ah!"

This boy had been panicking at the start, after been pushed, he immediately lost his balance, while been pressed down by the female zombie, he was still issuing screaming noises. But the next second, his voice was blocked at throat.

Right now is the best opportunity to fight back, but everyone was all stunned by the bloody scene in front of them. Classmates bitten by the throat, chest and abdomen torn apart and screams issued while still alive all greatly challenging their nerves.

But zombies would not give up on attacking potential preys just because there was food in front of them. after killing these two students, they immediately pounced on the nearest survivors.

And one of the female zombies began targeting another female student that was not far away from Ye Lian.

At this time, the zombies outside the revolving door are attacking fiercely, despite hearing the screams behind the back, no one can extend a hand to help out. If just relax a little, the main entrance will be immediately broken, at that time they will be sandwiched in between, more people will die.

This female student had been completely scared to death, she could not even move her finger, her head was of course completely blank.

Just as she was about to be ripped apart by the throat in that instant, Ye Lian who had never fought suddenly flashed right next to her, grabbed the fruit knife from that student's hand and in the instant when the female zombie rushed forward, Ye Lian acted like a lighting bolt. A chill flashed through, and the fruit knife went directly into the female zombie's neck from the side. With a twist of the wrist, blood suddenly surged out and directly sprayed over the face of the female student.

Scarlet warm blood finally awakened the consciousness of the female student, she frantically screamed, her legs gave a shiver, a surge of hot fluid flew down the legs.

But Ye Lian simply did not look at her anymore, and did not care about the female zombie's situations, then directly rushed toward the back of another female zombie.

That female zombie just pressed down a male student on the floor, just opened her foul mouth, and a knife tip went through her back head and went out through the mouth.

From the moment those female zombies appeared until they were all killed by Ye Lian, it all happened within one minute.

In one short minute, two students died. And that male student is also scared to the point where his eyes went out of focus and he could not even stand up or push the female zombie's corpse off of his body.

And Ye Lian who attacked in a rapid speed, was immediately surrounded by these group of people. These people who were just scared half to death does not have the extra thoughts to think, why a beauty like her who does not appear any special have such brutal killing skills. In short, she was the protection umbrella....

In fact, Ling Mo who was still killing zombies before the revolving door is the one who controlled Ye Lian to act. And in order to keep the identity a secret, he especially made her to use a weapon.

However, while the remaining survivors were trembling in fear, Ling Mo, through Ye Lian's vision discovered that among this group of people, two people were missing.

They must have run upstairs due to fear... But rushing to escape is entirely stupid. Without the protection, they will just die faster. There are zombies in the lobby, how could there not be less zombies upstairs?

Sure enough, after a while, several more screams passed down from upstairs, which caused the group to shiver again.

After a few minutes of mad killing, the zombies that were outside of the revolving door were finally cleared out. Shana and Liu Yu Hao were sweating profusely, especially Shana who attacked with her life, the arm that was holding the knife was even shaking slightly.

Although Ling Mo was slightly having an easier time, his face does not look good, he felt some pain at his temples which is caused by spending too much on spiritual energy.

Turning back to look at this bloody scene, Shana's expression became complicated, some pain and some remorse...

And Ling Mo who noticed that expression walked over and patted on her shoulder, and then he said in a low voice, "It's not your fault. If you went to protect them, the situation probably would have a worse than now."

"Umm....." Shana whispered back, then smiled faintly at Ye Lian: "Thank you!"

Even if she did not see how Ye Lian attacked, but Ye Lian's fighting ability to kill two zombies far exceeded her expectations.

Chapter 19 You Shouldn't Open Doors Indiscriminately

One close combat, four people died, such tragic reality caused endless horror to the people at present.

The ones that survived all regretted their decisions, if they stayed back, even if they were going to starve to death, it would be much better than the current situation. Likely to die at any time, and to die slowly in a safe environment are two completely different concepts.

One of the boy angrily turned his head toward glasses man Wang Cheng, grabbed him by the collar with his shivering hand, "It's all you! All your fault! I will kill you!"

As he said, he suddenly clenched tightly the knife in his hand, and is rushing to stab toward Wang Cheng.

Under the psychological effect of fear and resentment, this boy's eyes were reddening; his face full of murderous attempt, and there wasn't the slightest hesitation in his action. Obviously, he was scared to death... a person in this state is extremely dangerous and can do almost anything under the impulse.

"Dang!"

Although this scene came suddenly, but Shana still reacted at the first moment, wrist flipped, directly used the long knife to triumph the knife in boy's hand.

Liu Yu Hao was also completely shocked, finally gained his attention with the hearing of the metal clashing. He rushed up and grabbed that boy, then immediately hit him with a punch, "Are you crazy!"

At this time, Wang Cheng was already pale, whole body trembled involuntarily. After finally breathed evenly, Wang Cheng, looked at that boy with extremely pernicious eyes!

The boy who was overthrown was also stunned; he finally stood up after awhile, looked extremely out of his mind. After this impulse, he immediately went into the state of chaotic mind. It's no wonder, average people suddenly experience the feeling of death up close, will inevitably show off a short state of psychological breakdown. But people's capacity is actually quiet strong, after the breakdown, facing the reality that must be accepted, this kind of people will still return back to normal quickly.

Ling Mo who has been watching with cold eyes, right now have noticed Wang Cheng's eyes, and his heart could not help but to jump a little.

This kind of eyes appeared in a seemingly modest student body, it could not help but to give people spine chills....

"Well, let's get out of here."

In such a short time, five students have been sacrificed, Shana just wasn't in a good mood, and now seeing them fighting among group, her tone suddenly becomes cold.

Wang Cheng suddenly woke up, looked at Shana a little nervously, and then revealed a hint of faint smile, "let's go."

Had just been almost killed, and be able to smile in the blink of an eye, this person's deep heart is not proportional to the age...Ling Mo secretly said in his heart, turned to grab Ye Lian and left quickly with Shana and the rest from this commercial building.

Temporarily leaving this densely zombie populated area, the rest of the route is relative much safer. They even found a supermarket to rest for a bit, searching some food on the way; if possible, it's best to find some food to reserve for dinner.

Judging by the look, the supermarket within the city limits has gone through several lootings already. Normally, the most common weapons like knives, as well as the most important products food have all been looted. Even though there are some left behind, they are often lying beneath the collapsed shelves, or covered in disgusting blood, sometimes among the bones.

But the surviving situations in the end of the world is originally cruel, it's already lucky enough to find food, therefore right after they entered the supermarket, these survivors immediately started searching.

Ling Mo saw Shana guarding the door, heart relaxed, then took Ye Lian to walk around in this fairly large-scale supermarket.

The supermarket is filled with intense dead and rancid smell, body remains can be seen all around, a lot of food that can be used as raw materials such as rice all went bad in this environment and cannot be eaten. But even if you can find it, this group of people still cannot just set up fire and cook.

After the increase of spiritual energy, Ling Mo felt that his own acuity has also gotten a lot higher. For example, under the same condition of vision, using the same observing technique, he was able to notice a lot of details that he would have missed before. To be more exact, even though he still does not care about these little details, but he could immediately remember these details as soon as they enter into his vision.

This is why Ling Mo noticed Wang Cheng's eyes, originally he did not really pay attention to this seemingly ordinary survivor, and only casually glanced at him before.....

And at this time while casually walking around the supermarket and did not find anything, Ling Mo vividly felt that something is wrong here.

As if he is been secretly observed by someone!

But looking around, how can there be anyone else... Ling Mo frowned, carefully observed the environment inside the supermarket. While entering the supermarket, Shana and Liu Yu had already scouted once and all the zombies have been taken care of, logically there should be no one else here besides them.

But there are just way too many shelves, Ling Mo has limited vision, it is difficult to get a real look at all aspects of the supermarket.

But just as he brought Ye Lian and walked to one of the shelves, suddenly the whole body went stiff for a bit, then immediately exposed a glimmer of ecstasy!

From Ye Lian's instincts, there emerged a trace of strong desire of hostility! This means that within this supermarket, there must be a mutated zombie!

But why feel it just now....Ling Mo's heart suddenly swarmed with a strong bad feeling.

"Ah! Help ah!"

Sure enough, a miserable howl of cry rang immediately, and Ling Mo at this time rushed toward the direction of the sound with Ye Lian.

Of course he was not going there to save the people, but to see the mutated zombie!

After passing through several successive rows of shelves, an extremely bloody scene suddenly appeared before Ling Mo's eyes. In front of a half opened warehouse door, an arm snapped, intestines pulled out, but still twitching with eyes wide open survivor, and a guy that is madly running toward Ling Mo, it was Lu Xin.

"Help! Help!"

No matter how much he resented Ling Mo during usual times, but at this moment, the terrified Lu Xin still rushed toward Ling Mo to look for help.

Though Ling Mo contracted his pupil, did not take another look at Lu Xin, then directly outflank past him while controlling Ye Lian.

It's a very big guy following right behind Lu Xin! At least 1.8 meters in height, body full of fat, that pair little red eyes exuded extremely crazy bloodthirsty light, but still have agile actions and in the blink of an eye rushed behind Lu Xin. It slapped with his large hands that is like palm tree, then Lu Xin screamed, who was sent flying by the slap at least a few meters away.

"Oh s***!"

A large living person is directly slapped away right in front of his eyes, for Ling Mo it is still quiet shocking. But such fast actions and tyrannical power, no wonder he could disarticulate the living in the blink of an eye.

The situation is very clear at a glance, it's obvious that Lu Xin and that survivor who is on the verge of death carelessly opened the closed warehouse door, result in releasing the mutated zombie that was trapped inside.

Opening the door indiscriminately in the end of the world, you are simply seeking death!

Chapter 20 Pierced that thin layer of film

But this is not the time to account for responsibilities, let alone that Ling Mo would like to thank these two idiots.

These two days, Ye Lian has already been hungry and thirsty...And Ling Mo happened to reach the bottleneck, maybe after Ye Lian evolves, he will also break through this level and become even stronger.

Therefore this terrifying zombie in the eyes of Ling Mo is not only not scary, but very friendly!

But while the eyes are shining with light, Ling Mo vividly felt that this mutated zombie seems to be a little different than the ones he encountered before, seems to have a much stronger power....it doesn't matter if its stronger, the key is to get rid of it as soon as possible!

Lu Xin's scream simply rang through the entire supermarket, soon Shana and Liu Yu Hao will rush over, and thought by the time he killed the mutated zombie, it will not be possible to pull out the gel from the brain in front of everyone, wouldn't it be all for nothing?

And the mutated zombie saw the sudden appearance of Ling Mo and YE Lian, also did not hesitate and rushed up.

But what let Ling Mo's heart been stunned is that the attacking target is not him, but Ye Lian!

Sure enough, compared to average zombies, mutated zombies target primarily their own kind, rather than ordinary people.

"How dare you attack Ye Lian, you are looking for your own death!" Looking at the mutated zombie rushing directly toward Ye Lian, Ling Mo simply emerged in strong fury, he simply reduced the limit on Ye Lian to minimum and allowed Ye Lian to have freedom to act. And he on the other hand pulled out a short knife, walking sideways near the mutated zombie.

As soon he has been liberated, the terrifying atmosphere from Ye Lian's body immediately surged, that pair of black eyes are full of undisguised fury and vigour! Affected by the connection spiritually, Ling Mo also felt the blood flow in his whole body speed up, with only that mutated zombie in his eye!

Compared to the tyrannical power of this mutant, Ye Lian is lacking slightly in terms of power, but she wins in her compact, lightweight body and agility over small-scale maneuvers, and also has a slightly faster attacking speed than this mutated zombie. But the environment here is not very favorable, it is by the wall, and the other side is a shelf.

This big fat mutated zombie only needed to wave one hand to cover almost completely the attack range that included Ye Lian and Ling Mo. This made Ling Mo who carries a short knife almost impossible to implement close combat options.

For a while even though Ye Lian is not in danger, but also does not have the upper hand, there is almost a faint trend where she's on the downside.

This is because of the impact of Ling Mo's spiritual connection that made Ye Lian's attacking pattern not deathly like the mutated zombie....And mutated zombies are completely ruled by instincts, as long as he have a breath in, it will be impossible for him to stop attacking, and will never have the thought of defense exist. Although his body has already been cut on several places, he was not affected at all!

After all it's all thanks to this body of fat, one knife down will not even hurt the bones.

And at this time he can already hear the sound of Shana and the rest of them rushing over, must speed up!

Under the emergency circumstances, Ling Mo's heart also broke out a wave of vicious energy. He gave up the strategy of attacking on the side, but directly rushed to the front of the mutated zombie!

As a result, even if the mutated zombie totally does not care of him, but have to attack him. But just as that mutated zombie's terrifying big hand is grabbing toward him, at the same time Ling Mo's eyes has become calm in an instant.

At this instant, at this life and death moment, Ling Mo relied on the willpower he had cultivated during this time, abruptly restrained his inner fear, and focused his full attention over the mutated zombie's spiritual light ball!

"Om!"

An extremely uncomfortable feeling immediately swarmed Ling Mo's heart, his chest has become extremely uneasy as if been stuffed with a mouthful of blood, while his head is also receiving wave of faint feelings.

Controlling two mutated zombies at once is naturally a brand new challenge, because mutated zombies are completely differently than average zombies, they have much stronger instincts, to control them will also compromise Ling Mo's own spirit!

Especially it is during the process of attacking two mutated zombies!

It's either I die or you die! With the surge of vicious energy, Ling Mo really did hold up!

Within this short period of milliseconds, Ling Mo felt as if a day has past. Even though, after feeling that he has completely control the body of mutated zombies, Ling Mo still wanted to laugh out loud!

He did not expect that under this kind of situation, he would succeed, the growth of the spiritual strength really did allowed the rapid growth of his own physical strength.

But excitement is just excitement, just as the mutated zombie been controlled, Ye Lian who has already circled behind his back already removing the gel inside his brain with lighting speed. With this monster-like corpse crashing down, Ling Mo has already took the gel from Ye Lian's hand, excitedly putting it inside his arms.

As soon as the fighting is over, Ling Mo suddenly felt an empty head; a trace of warm fluid immediately flew out from his nose.

At this time, Shana and Liu Yu Hao who just rushed just saw the scene of the body fell down; Ling Mo's nose is bursting with blood.

"Are you alright??" Shana anxiously asked, and Liu Yu Hao is watching this scene looking shocked.

"It's alright." Nose bleed this kind of small thing is nothing, able to successfully control two zombies, this result to Ling Mo is a breakthrough! He could clearly feel that even though his own fighting ability did not evolve at the same time, but spiritual strength has broke through that thin layer of film!

Not relying on Ye Lian to evolve, but obtained by using his own hard work and risking his own life! How could this achievement not make Ling Mo happy?

Seeing Ling Mo is really without any serious injuries, Shana turned her eyes to the two people on the ground.

That person who was directly been disjointed is naturally dead, but unexpectedly Lu Xin was fortunate enough, he had a huge and terrifying slash wound on the back, but did not damage the internal organs. And when Liu Yu Hao turned him over, he is actually conscious.

"Ah....." Lu Xin uttered a sound of pain, but not many people are paying attention to him.

No mind was paid of that scary looking zombie corpse on the ground, or the guy who is still choking all is much more worthy paying attention to.

Only Liu Yu Hao quickly pulled out bandages and hemostatic agent, started to treat Lu Xin's wound, but while he was uttering painful noises, Lu Xin's pair of resentful eyes all secretly locked on Ling Mo.

"Why! Why not save him! Ling Mo could have more than saved him at that moment!

Lu Xin's heart is filled with deep-seated hatred, but this mutated zombie's death however clearly tells Lu Xin that no matter how much hate he has, he does not dare to provoke Ling Mo!

"He is dying."

Shana walked beside the fellow who was mutilated, whispered.

But he is still choking, breathing, even that pair of darkened eyes revealed a hint of praying look.

Even at this time, no one is willing to die like this. It's not difficult to tell from his look that he still wanted to live, still does not want to die. Even in such a painful situation...

But with the sudden flash of the blade across the eyes, that trace of light quickly dimmed down, within the widened eyes still have the afterimage of the shadow where Shana swing the knife.

"Ah!"

One of the girl immediately covered her mouth and screamed, and Ling Mo showed a hint of an approving look.

Chapter 21 Time Bomb

Faced with the crowd's doubts, Shana with sad eyes slowly withdrew the long knife. She whispered "the longer we linger, the more we suffer."

It's not difficult to be determined, but to act with toughness is not something an ordinary person can do.

"This is obviously a mutated zombie, you can actually get rid of it so quickly..."Shana then turned her looks to Ling Mo, said with a complicated expression.

Ling Mo twitched his mouth, spoke as he wiped his nosebleed: "Don't look at me like that, I am also wounded."

"Is he okay?" Shana looked deeply at Ling Mo, then walked toward Liu Yu Ho and Lu Xin and asked.

At this time Liu Yu Hao is coming close to the end of the treatment, from his skilled movements it is not difficult to see that he is skillful at his job. But from another perspective, he is simply a versatile nanny.

Seeing that Ling Mo also come near, Lu Xin bite his mouth, lowering his head to not let Ling Mo seeing the vicious look in his eyes.

"The blood has been stopped..."Although saying the words Lu Xin's face obviously does not look ideal, it's just that it's not easy to speak some words directly right before Lu Xin.

"Shana, come over for a bit."

After Liu Yu Hao packed up first aid items, and helped Lu Xin to the wall to sit down, they walked to Shana and whispered.

And Ling Mo who was at the side also heard it clearly, not for him to speak, Shana pulled him: "You come too."

Although the movement is small, it is the equivalent of approving Ling Mo's dominant position in this small community, and recognizing his strength. Most likely, from the moment she sees the corpse of the mutated zombie, this little girl also attained a thorough understanding of Ling Mo.

Liu Yu Hao brought them around to a rear shelf, then whispered in a lower voice: "Most likely Lu Xin will not make it...."

"I know." Shana bit her lips and answered.

And Ling Mo raised his eyebrow, unconsciously looked at Ye Lian that is beside him.

The virus is contagious, the outbreak before may be caused by large-scale airborne transmission, but since the outbreak, there were no mutating survivors. But this is not difficult to understand as viruses can evolve, this point is reflected most vividly from Ye Lian's changes. The current virus is most likely to be transmitted through the blood.

And very few people could drag their injured body to escape after a zombie attack, therefore there were almost no zombies produced, even if there are, no one will know.

So right now Liu Yu Hao and the rest of them are facing a dilemma. Will Lu Xin mutate? Should we put him down now, or decide after a period of observation? If it were the limbs that were injured, it is still possible to get back the life after amputating it, but the wound is in the back, that mutated zombie's hand were also covered with blood plasma, there are probably viruses inside the nails, it is too late to deal with it.

Of course according to Ling Mo, it would be much easier to just cut it off, they still have to rush the Third High School, they don't have any spare energy to take care of a wounded? They still need to expend energy to guard him, this is not only a nuisance, but also a time bomb!

But this will have to be decided by Shana and Liu Yu Hao, but Ling Mo is already planning in his heart secretly, if they decided to keep Lu Xin, he himself will definitely not continuing the trip with them. The place right now is not very far from The Third High School, he will probably reach the destination much faster with Ye Lian, and by the time they can search for more mutated zombies to enable a faster process to allow Ye Lian regain her sanity.

After all, even though he established some friendship with Shana and Liu Yu Hao, but it's not deep enough to affect his judgment. Even his act of coming forward before was also in the case where Ling Mo is absolutely sure.

Probably seeing Ling Mo's eyes not appearing friendly, Liu Yu Hao lowered his lip softly, tentatively asking: " if we take him..."

"Don't be stupid, how could we take him, don't you see that no one is willing to come close to him?" Even though Shana is a girl, but she does have enough decisiveness, she bitterly smiled and said.

Indeed, a moment before Lu Xin was constantly whining "ouch ouch", but besides Liu Yu Hao who bandaged his wound, the rest of the people did not approach, but rather stood far away, for fear of contacting with him.

"Then what should we do.....we can't kill him now, right? Right now he is still.....still a conscious living person....ahh.."

"Give him some food, make him stay here, if he is still alive when we return, and not mutated, then we will take him!"

Shana quickly made a decision, and this is indeed a compromise.

Sigh.. Ling Mo secretly sighed in his heart, you went through the trouble, the other one might not appreciate it, and have to lose food...

But this is much better than to bring the burden, therefore when Shana looked at himself, Ling Mo nodded without arguing.

Sure enough, when Shana and Liu Yu Hao told Lu Xin of this decision, his face turned extremely ugly in an instant, in addition to deep despair, his eyes also reflected extreme resentment!

Lu Xin who originally wanted to struggle, but after a look through the expression on the surrounding people, he instantly feel the cold from head to toe!

No one disputes that, and no one care about his life and death!

"Well...you are all good..."after squeezing the words from his throats, Lu Xin took the food with a cold sneer, then stopped talking and closed his mouth. Even though his body is still constantly shaking, and lips tremble incessantly.

Fear, hatred made Lu Xin's eyes look very complicated, almost everyone does not dare to look at his eyes.

"I will take you to the office over there, don't worry, we will come back for you." Liu Yu Hao said somewhat apologetically. At least leaving him at the office will not let those zombies who are attracted over by blood to be eaten, this is as humane as possible.

Lu Xin just nodded indifferently, after Liu Yu Hao helped him settle down, and walked out after the closing door, everyone are still having silent looks.

Compared to helping serious wounded to be relieved, this kind of abandoning friends is probably even more devastating, though only temporarily....

But to be honest, Ling Mo does not have this kind of tangle in his heart, on one hand he originally disliked Lu Xin, on the other hand, he didn't feel that Shana and the rest of them did anything wrong. On the contrary, Lu Xin is the one who wished everyone to sacrifice for himself; this is the real selfish attitude!

But somehow, Ling Mo is vividly expecting something, after been attacked by a zombie, especially wounded by a mutated zombie, will Lu Xin mutate?

A break has lost another two of their companions; this casualty rate is simply very high. No one is willing to stay in this place anymore, all urged to leave quickly.

Fortunately Wang Cheng also found some food, even though Liu Yu Hao has spared some food to Lu Xin, it will be enough to last for today. The most important reason is that, right now besides Ling Mo and Ye Lian, and the temporarily abandoned Lu Xin, they only have five people left.

One girl, glasses guy Wang Cheng, that boy who almost killed Wang Cheng, Shana and Liu Yu Hao.

For some reason, Ling Mo always felt that with numerous companions dead, Wang Cheng's eyes looked very relaxed, even though his expression shows grief, but it just seemed contrived.

Anyways, it's none of my business, these people do not have the courage, no combat skills, yet still value their lives more than anyone else, full of curved stomach intestines (implying they are always thinking about tricks), head full of calculations.

Chapter 22 Begin the hunting

But with one less person, their speed of going forward really declined.

No need to deliberately take care of these people, they will naturally learn from Wang Cheng to follow closely with Shana and Liu Yu Hao. This way, besides the increase in speed, there is also a greater increase in safety; until seeing the buildings of the Third High School, there has not been a single casualty.

"There is The Third High School in front." Shana cut down the zombie in front of her, as she turned her head. Even though they have gone through a lot today, but as they finally reached here, she also seemed a bit excited.

But Ling Mo frowned slightly, from Ye Lian's strong conveyed message it's not hard to guess that this school, within his expectation really may have the potential of mutated zombies, maybe even more than one.

In order to survive in this kind of environment, the difficulty can be imagined, most likely Shana and her people will come back empty handed.

But to Ling Mo's surprise, the gate is not packed with zombies like he thought, but shockingly empty. In addition to a few zombies that wandered over from elsewhere, there are no other threats.

Seeing Ling Mo showing a puzzled expression, Liu Yu Hao said in a whispered voice "When the pandemic struck, a lot of people tried to flee to outside... but people like us stayed until that chaos went away, then we distributed a portion of people to go out to find a place to stay. There are quite a few zombies inside the school, but if we are careful enough, it should be no problem."

After hearing him speak, Ling Mo immediately revealed a clear understanding look. Since a lot of people tried to flee to outside towards the zombies at the gate, they must have been attracted over. But like this boarding school, it is inevitable that there is a large internal zombie horde, which is obvious without Liu Yu Hao's analysis.

As for why those zombies were not willing to leave the school...In reality, in the absence of prey, zombies lingered in a wandering state, trapped in the school, with only one door to the outside, and numerous buildings present therein. Unless survivors appear and aggroed these zombies, otherwise they would have wandered down there always.

But what if they are hungry? Kill each other! This is why Ling Mo is sure that there must be mutated zombies inside the school.

Maybe there aren't any when Liu Yu Hao and his people left, but many days have passed, and coupled with Ye Lian's reaction, it is enough for Ling Mo to confirm his guess.

"Wait." Just as they arrived at the gate, Ling Mo stopped Shana and the others, "Our promise is getting to the front gate, so now let's separate."

Shana's expression immediately became somewhat complicated, and Liu Yu Hao's eyes also expressed some dismay. Although time did not pass much, but Ling Mo did not only save them, but also fought alongside with them, it is inevitable that right now they don't want to part ways.

"Thank you guys very much!" Shana gently bit her lip and said.

Ling Mo looked at her, nodded his head: "ah, but maybe we will bump into each other, because I have some business to take care of in this school."

This made Shana and Liu Yu Hao somewhat surprised, but since Ling Mo did not seem to have the intention to elaborate, they did not really want to ask. When it came time to part ways, Liu Yu Hao took some of the remaining food from the pack and handed it to Ling Mo: "You guys take it, you guys had it tough on the way here."

If it wasn't for the help by Ling Mo and Ye Lian, their group might be destroyed, at least that part of road to pass the hospital would have been extremely difficult.

But Ling Mo did not take the food, but smiled and shook his head, indicating that he does not need it.

Liu Yu Hao still want to push the food into him, but Wang Cheng quietly stopped him, smiled and said "big brother Ling is this skilled, how could he need our food, right? Since he does not need it, then it will be fine."

Seeing Ling Mo's strong attitude, Liu Yu Hao could only give up.

After both parties separated, Ling Mo immediately took Ye Lian running forward to the educational building not far from the gate.

With Shana's skill, she should be fine to protect themselves in this familiar surrounding, therefore Ling Mo is not worried, not to mention from their personalities, it is impossible for them to survive together. It's not difficult to hide Ye Lian's identity in a short time, but over time it will be exposed for sure.

As soon as they entered the educational building, they see the closed elevator doors, making Ling Mo immediately feel great joy. If it's this kind of closed state, there must be mutated zombies upstairs!

Staircases, which are safe pathways is not difficult to find, all it takes is to open that door not far away. But just as they arrived by the door, Ling Mo could felt Ye Lian's violent instincts, and at the same time, a dull sound also passed out from behind the door.

Ling Mo's eyes immediately lit up, it seems that behind the door, there is a mutated zombie!

Although mutated zombies have rapid attacks, they don't have intelligence after all, and do not know how to unscrew the door handle, and although this door and the wall that's connected together appeared to have many gaps, but to instantly break it open still poses some difficulties.

Ling Mo looked inside through the gaps, vaguely spotting that the mutated zombie is a middle-aged man, and besides him, there are no other mutated zombies.

Only one is fine...Ling Mo's mouth revealed a hint of nasty grinning, grabbed the door handle at once, at the same time also raised the short knife in his hand, and Ye Lian also stood sideways to the door.

"Click" sound, the door has just been opened, a super strong strength immediately hit up; fortunately Ling Mo is well prepared to directly dodge to the side.

That mutated zombie rushed out instantly, but just as it showed its head, Ling Mo slashed down with his dagger.

But this mutated zombie's reaction speed is amazingly fast, it actually grabbed Ling Mo's blade and thrust it towards itself. Ling Mo instantly lost his balance, and just as his steps are imbalanced, the mutated zombie's other hand also went to grab his chest.

But at this critical moment, Ling Mo will not go down without a fight, he almost instantly controlled this mutated zombie, although he soon reached the limit, he used this brief moment to snatch back his knife, and also used his powerful strength to poke the mutated zombie. At the same time, Ye Lian also extended her hand towards the arm of the mutated zombie, used using to wring it down.

However, this mutated zombie is indeed different, not only being faster at reaction but resistant against control.

During this life and death battle, it's impossible for Ling Mo to try a second attempt, but seeing the mutated zombie's one arm is being wringed down, and his own short knife is stabbing him, presumably the fighting will be over.....

However, to Ling Mo's complete surprise, the moment while this mutated zombie's arm was wringed down, he still shows resistance. He did not have the intention to dodge, but directly rushed over towards Ling Mo.

At a distance this close, just hearing the sound of the knife cut into the flesh, while the mutated zombie was wounded by the critical point, he also approached Ling Mo, that hand which is sharp like knife, hard as iron also went to grasp Ling Mo's neck...

At this critical moment, Ling Mo's expression still did not show panic, and Ye Lian acted instantly, grabbed this hand, then once again the sound of "click".

Fortunately while the blood splattered out, Ling Mo has already pulled out the short knife and dodged to the side, or else he would have been sprayed to his entire face.

"Almost...." Ling Mo now felt somewhat strength loosening, this mutated zombie like the one previous in the supermarket all have a higher combat ability. This is not hard to understand either, there are a lot more people within the urban district, presumably more zombies trapped with them.

The more brain gel they get to eat, the higher the evolution process mutated zombies will experience, and also the stronger combat ability.

Chapter 23 That touch of deep gully

After Ye Lian extracted the brain gel from this mutated zombie, Ling Mo immediately took it, and compared it with the previous gel.

These two gels all came from mutated zombies, but the color is different from the ones before. Much more bloody red, with a more pungent odor. This shows that the brain gels in these mutated zombies are much pure, the condensation out of the focus has changed along with it.

It's obviously right to come to the main city center; only in the densely populated zombie areas will have much stronger mutated zombies!

After tucking away the gels, Ling Mo took Ye Lian to walk upstairs through the staircase. A closed building like this, there is definitely more than just one mutated zombies. And even though there is danger in hunting mutated zombies, but compared to the harvest, the risk is nothing.

In the end of the world, people who did not dare to fight will for sure not live good days. This point, Ling Mo sees particularly clear. When Ye Lian was evolving, for sure there are other mutated zombies evolving as well, and nobody knows the final stage of these mutated zombies' evolution.

But one thing is certain, the higher the degree of evolution, the more dangerous the mutated zombies' strength! If we don't improve, and only seek stability, it will not only make us more vulnerable, but also drag down Ye Lian! You know, mutated zombies' priority targets are their own kind!

And right now Ye Lian is under my control, regardless of when she regains her consciousness, I must think for her sake.

What does adventure count? Before meeting even stronger mutated zombies, we have to do as much as possible to increase myself and Ye Lian's strength, which is the first priority!

Factual evidence shows that Ling Mo's guesses are right. Several classrooms inside the science building were closed at the time of escape, and the zombies who are trapped inside only had the choice of killing each other. But to Ling Mo's surprise, in one of the classrooms on the second floor, there are no mutated zombies produced, but are clean dead. This is indeed an unexpected discovery, but after he carefully observed for a while, then find out why.

It's not because there wasn't, but because that mutated zombie escaped through the broken windows...

For a time Ling Mo could not help but to worry about Shana, in this situation, it means that at least more than one mutated zombie is wandering around the campus, it's highly possible they might encounter each other....

"With that chick's skill, it should be no problem right?" Ling Mo glanced outside the window, through this window he could see the avenue after the playground and the tall educational building not far away, and also could see several buildings that looked like dormitories. The Third High School has taken a lot of ground, but right now looked desolate dilapidated, with blood everywhere, and everywhere you can see slow wandering zombies.

But Shana and Liu Yu Hao are nowhere in sights. Shaking his head, Ling Mo then turned his attention back to the hunting...

For nearly an hour, Ling Mo worked in the science building and the laboratory building in the back, killed six different mutated zombies. Right now within his chest, there are now several gels, in addition to the two gels with darker color, the other five looked very polished.

This assembly of such virus would shun normal people, but Ling Mo is holding these gels, and delighted at heart.

With these gels, for sure we are able to evolve again! By that time maybe my body strength will also subsequently upgraded to a new level!

Right now Ling Mo's spiritual power has been evolved; he could even control two mutated zombies at once. Not to mention ordinary zombies, it will be no problem to control four at once. Most importantly, he could feel that while he was controlling Ye Lian, there was not more sense of that kind of estrangement, but felt as if Ye Lian is part of his body. As a result, the two coordinated much more naturally.

But the drawback is that, even though Ling Mo's spiritual power was able to evolve, his physical strength did not get the same breakthrough. After a whole morning battle, even though he was not exhausted, he still felt somewhat powerless.

"If the body could also experience evolution, it would not be this bad...."

In fact Ling Mo's physical strength is much more stronger than that of an average adult, but looking at Ye Lian who is still breathing evenly, he still felt grouchy.

Grabbing Ye Lian using one hand, and on the other hand also took some deep breathes for a while, Ling Mo finally felt that he regained some strength. But just as he got up, he took a closer glimpse of Ye Lian's neckline.

Ye Lian is wearing a collared shirt in which he randomly found from one of the store, probably because the movement is too big during the battle, the buttons on the shirt has collapsed, revealing a hit of deep ravine. The motion in which Ling Mo raised his head, his nose just stopped before the gully, suddenly feel dizzy by that shaking fair skin, abdomen instantly raised a flame.

Staring at that deep gully for a long time, and he could not help but to go much closer, Ling Mo finally came back to his consciousness.

"Restraint! Restraint!"

Usually helping Ye Lian to dress and bath is something unavoidable, but to take advantage in this situation, Ling Mo does not want to do this to the girl he loves. Not to mention one look is considered fortunate enough..

Helped Ye Lian with the buttons, Ling Mo then took Ye Lian to continue to the next destination. Since it took so much effort to come to this school, it's naturally that he will need to hunt more mutated zombies, to acquire their brain gels.

But Ling Mo did not notice is that, shortly after he walked away, a figure covered with blood suddenly appeared before the avenue, a pair of pernicious, but looked fully congested like eyes, stared strongly at the other end of the avenue, to those heavy piles of buildings.

This man's upper body is heavily bandaged, but to one's dismay is that whenever the exposed skin were torn into pieces and bits. And through his nails, it's full of blood and flesh mixed mud. The most horrifying thing is that face, it's been scratched pliable, mouth opened slightly, revealing scarlet gums, a pair of bloodshot eyes could not be stared by people.

Although completely changed appearance, almost out of human shape, but it's not hard to tell that this person is Lu Xin who was left out at the supermarket by Shana and those people.

"Giggle...."

After squeezing out a pole sneer hoarse sound from the throat, Lu Xin suddenly jumped forward, soon crossed the avenue and rushed into the building complex.

At this time, Ling Mo has just brought Ye Lian into that nearest educational building, but he doesn't know that just as soon as he stepped onto the second floors, less than 50 meters away from him, Lu Xin is just rushing by.

"What?"

Ling Mo suddenly felt a hint of longing from Ye Lian, but right after he showed a hint of smile: "This building really has mutated zombies ah!"

Chapter 24 Shana's Resolve

While Ling Mo and Ye Lian is carefully searching for more mutated zombies inside the dormitory of the school, Shana and the rest are also fighting one mutated zombie.

And this mutated zombie is very tall, plus its face is not distorted like ordinary zombies, therefore even though its face is bloody and mauled but one still could see that it was a good-looking young woman.

But as it gave a muted muffled roar, its sense of beauty was completely lost as it forced Shana and the rest back.

Shana somewhat resisted the female mutated zombie's madness attack, from her movements, her arm was apparently strained and right now completely relying on her own willpower struggling to fight back. And not far behind her, there lies another mutated zombie's corpse.

As for Liu Yu Hao, he is looking dispirited, although he is still besides Shana, and from time to time helping her with some pressure, but it's obvious that he is almost at his limit. And among the three of them, there are only two people left. One of them is Wang Cheng, the other one is the boy who almost killed Wang Cheng. But from their expression, they all seemed to be in great shock.

In fact, they really did encounter a huge psychological impact.....after they part ways with Ling Mo, they went straight to this dormitory building. Before they left, the rest of the teachers and students stayed in this dormitory, and before Shana and Liu Yu Hao left, they moved all the food from the school's supermarket to here. These rations will not last very long, but a large group of people staying here is not a long-term plan either, so a portion of people leaving to find other ways is necessary.

The best results would of course be finding rescue personnel, such as military, the worst result would be finding a safe house, avoiding starving themselves to death.

However, those willing to follow Shana all did not have true heart in contributing to this group, but simply thought that it would be much safer by following Shana. To put it more bluntly, they didn't believe that Shana will come back.

In fact, Shana actually did not fully comply with the agreement; last time she returned a few days later than the promised time.

This is although without choice, in order to break out, many students who could fight were all dead, the rest are cumbersome. To rely on Shana and Liu Yu Hao alone to hold off the zombie is impossible to immediately rush back, let alone safely pick up the rest of those people.

Even so, Shana did not give up, so when she did find out that Ling Mo is indeed very powerful, and took her home's "good", she could not help but ask for help.

But as Ling Mo expected, from the moment when they stepped into the school, Shana had been well prepared. Maybe those people are already dead...

The things that she never even thought of appeared right before her is that kind of horrible scene!

Originally a dorm with twenty people, besides seven or eight living people, the rest of them all been grazed into bone shelves...

Shana did not see much more bloody scene than this, but this scene of cannibalism really let her feel disgusting deep from her heart, and also with deep coldness, along with deep chill! And Liu Yu Hao and the rest of them, all were completely shocked! The two of them even threw up on the scene.

Zombies eat people, we can still call them monsters, but the people right before all are ordinary conscious thinking humans! They would rather kill their comrades, eat their flesh instead to venture out in search of food!

The most disgusting thing is that, when seeing the appearance of Shana and her people, they even happily rushed up!

When the closest middle-aged teacher rushed up to Shana with a smile, she almost unconsciously swung the long knife in her hand.

"Cuckoo...."blood splattered from the middle-aged teacher's neck, and he covered his neck, eyes revealing the unbelievable look, stared at Shana's pale face and slowly fell down.

The others went dull for a moment, and Shana did not hesitate to turn back and leave here. The moment when she turned her head back, she suddenly remembered the word said by Ling Mo: moth.

Before she had figured Ling Mo as somewhat a cold-blooded ruthless person, but right at this moment, she suddenly also emerged a strong sense of revulsion to these "moths".

Strength of the weak, the need for protection, this is not a sin. But complacency, and even adapting this kind of behavior as a matter of course, these kind of people is not less harmful compared to those zombies.... The only way to deal with these scum is to let them fend for themselves.

The moment when Shana left, Liu Yu Hao and the rest of the people although were still in the moment of shock, also emerged deep sense of disgust and fear to these cannibalistic madman, they all turned around at the same time to keep up with Shana.

But Shana only wanted to put down the cannibals, but did not know that after killing one, the rest went mad!

"That b***!"

"We waited so long for her, she actually....."

"Kill her, kill her!"

Strong resentment swept through the mind of these people, and impulse is contagious like the virus and made them completely lose their last vestiges of reasons. They frantically rushed out, rushed on Shana...

What happened next in the dormitory corridor is a brutal massacre. From the moment when they rushed over, Shana's psychological defense also completely collapsed, she is almost unconsciously engaged in resistance and slashing. Even she did not notice herself that when she showed off unmatched strength, a number of people who woke up immediately turned around to run away, but she did not let them escape, but rushed forward with a strange smile on her face, and surgically one by one cut them down by the sword.

At that time in Shana's mind, there is only one thought and that is these people deserve to die, these kinds of people do not deserve to live in this world.

Until the sudden appearance of two mutated zombies, drawn to the chaos, finally pulled Shana back from this tranquil fury. Obviously, these two mutated zombies were attracted over by the strong smell of blood, and with Shana's dwindling strength, it is impossible to deal with two mutated zombies at once.

Shana finally managed to cut down one of the mutated zombie using the environmental hazards, yet the other mutated zombie rushed over.

And right now within this dormitory building, in addition to the seven or eight fresh corpses, only Shana and her group remained alive. That female student zombie already was torn to pieces when the mutated zombies appeared. Right now its corpse is not even complete.

If Shana had not promptly regained her senses, it is most likely that Liu Yu Hao and the rest of them will also suffer. With Liu Yu Hao's battle strengths, he could only protect these people to not be harmed by those crazy people, but to fight against mutated zombies is still impossible.

Killing the first mutated zombie has already consumed too much of Shana's physical strength, plus having encountered that turn of events, result in making Shana's mind very tired, therefore while she is battling this female mutated zombie, she is completely at a disadvantage.

This female mutated zombie is also not biting its teeth on Shana entirely, once the opportunity arise, she will also attack others. And within this process, Wang Cheng and the other boy will fall into danger from time to time. But they just not dared to leave too far, fear of been attacked by other zombies.

Looking at that mutated female zombie, Wang Cheng's eyes shimmering, finally at the moment when Shana was driven back, he quietly lift up his leg, and gave a quick kick on a dead cannibal boy's body!

"Ah!"

At the same time when the scream came, the corpse was also pushed between Shana and that mutated female zombie.

"Poof!"

The female mutated zombie's hand poke directly through the boy's abdomen, and Shana also seized this gap, used her knife and dug into the heart of the mutated zombie.

Chapter 25 Dark Plot

"Hu..." with the sigh of relief at the same time, Wang Cheng's eyes also flashed with a hint of vicious color.

Looking at that belly with an extra big hole, eyes wide open but not the slightest alive boy, Wang Cheng felt a deep pleasure of revenge. But at the same time, he suddenly felt tingling against his scalp.

As he looked up, Shana is looking at him indifferently. And with the contact of Shana's eyes, Wang Cheng's heart immediately jumped.. "I...."

"Shut up." Shana waved, interrupted him. Although she was driven back from the moment before, she had seen clearly that this boy would not have rushed forward voluntarily, but if it wasn't for him, it was most likely the rest of the three of them would die here.

Although Wang Cheng's move is selfish and vicious, she just does not want to say anything about it. Perhaps in some ways, he has done nothing wrong. If Ling Mo is here, maybe he will even appreciate this move, right? But even if he is really here, he would have likely finished off these two mutated zombies without using the boy.

Shana felt chaotic thoughts stirring in her mind as she joined Liu Yu Hao and Wang Cheng and walked slowly downstairs, but in the absence of awareness, she did not notice a human figure staring at her intently from the dark corner.

"That Ling is not here, where did he go!"

"But oh well, first I will get rid of you guys then it will not be late to..."

The instant when Shana stepped down the stairs, that dark shadow rushed out, Shana only felt an enormous force came from the back, her whole body was blown flying in an instant from the corner, and collapsed at the bottom of the stairs.

She felt as if her body is breaking apart, but only her hardened combat endurance was enough to stop her from blacking out. As she struggled to get up, a bloody silhouette appeared in front of her.

"Shana, you did not expect to see me this soon right?"

Lu Xin sneered wickedly as he grit his teeth in attack, landing a devastating blow on the back of Shana's head, knocking her out for good. Triumphant, he hauled the unconscious Shana over his shoulder.

"Lu....Lu Xin...."

Liu Yu Hao who was still standing above the stairs was horrified by the scene before him, but the moment when Shana was hit, he jumped to action and frantically rushed over to help.

But even though Lu Xin is carrying a person, he is still far more agile than an exhausted Liu Yu Hao. After escaping from Liu Yu Hao, he pointed his middle finger at him with disdain, and taunted "I am at the boys' dormitory, call Ling Mo for me or else I will kill Shana!"

"Lu Xin you son of a b***!"

Liu Yu Hao loudly cursed at Lu Xin who was nonchalantly hauling Shana's unconscious body away, but with his speed, he could only watch him exit. But just as he got up to chase after him, Wang Cheng rushed over and grabbed his arm "don't go over there, you are looking for certain death, didn't you see Lu Xin's appearance? He must have mutated, no longer a human being!"

"mother*****..." Liu Yu Hao cursed under his breath, but reluctantly stopped chasing. He knew in his heart that Wang Cheng is right, from Lu Xin's demonstration of strength and speed, he is absolutely no longer a human being, even if he is not yet a zombie, he is rapidly mutating towards becoming one. Even if Lu Xin will not kill Shana before Ling Mo shows up, when he loses his sanity after the mutation completes, Shana will be dead for sure.

But with only him and Wang Cheng, how could they beat the current Lu Xin?

"Big brother Ling, where is Ling Mo?"

Liu Yu Hao anxiously looked around the surroundings, inside the empty campus, in addition to the zombie corpses beheaded by Shana, there are no other people! Instead a few zombies appeared not far away as they were attracted over by the noise and smell of blood. The moment when the zombies saw him and Wang Cheng, they immediately rushed towards the survivors.

"Damn!"

In this situation the only option is to run, and while running Liu Yu Hao is also yelling Ling Mo's name in his heart. After separating, Ling Mo did say that he still had some business to take care of at this school, but Liu Yu Hao does not know if he has already left. If Ling Mo really has left, most likely he could only risk his life to go save Shana....

Right now in Liu Yu Hao's heart there are one million thoughts rushing past, should have just killed Lu Xin earlier, how could he let Shana be in danger! That treacherous worm!

But no matter how much he cursed will not bring back Shana, Liu Yu Hao brought Wang Cheng and dived into the educational building, and finally escaped from those few zombies.

These two hid inside one of the classrooms, not even daring to breathe, whole body is thoroughly soaked by sweat.

Finally after the surroundings quieted down, Liu Yu Hao carefully extended his head to look out, and seeing that the corridor is empty, waved at Wang Cheng to come out from the classroom.

"What to do now?" Even though Wang Cheng desperately kept up with Liu Yu Hao, he is still in shock, voices trembling.

Liu Yu Hao bit his tongue and answered: "What else to do! Find Ling Mo! Must save Shana at all cost!"

"This...."Wang Cheng clearly does not want to continue to follow with Liu Yu Hao on this hopeless quest, but right now Liu Yu Hao is his only teammate, therefore he began to wonder how to convince Liu Yu Hao out of it.

But unexpected of both him and Liu Yu Hao is that, when they carefully climbed the staircase, they unexpectedly encountered Ling Mo and Ye Lian walking downstairs.

"What?"

The sudden appearance of two people, Ling Mo at first was surprised, then relaxed, then surprised again and barked: "why are you guys here?"

There are nobody else besides zombies in this building, and is not a suitable house as a safe place, the people which Shana are looking for are definitely not here. Therefore, how could he encounter Liu Yu Hao and Wang Cheng?

But not waiting for Liu Yu Hao to answer, Ling Mo immediately noticed something is amiss. From these two's expression, they have clearly emerged from fierce fighting, and appear to be removed from the others, or else should have seen Shana with the two.

"Where is Shana?" Ling Mo said with a sinking feeling of dread in his heart.

Liu Yu Hao was still stunned at meeting Ling Mo so quickly, but hearing his question, he reacted immediately, anxiously replying "please save Shana, she was taken by Lu Xin!", he rushed up three steps before Ling Mo grabbed his arm, eyes filled with panic and fear, staring intensely at him.

"Taken? By Lu Xin?"

The news came too sudden; Ling Mo is having a hard time digesting the information.

"Yes! Lu Xin mutated, but not completely turned into a zombie, but far too powerful for me to fight against him. Shana has been caught and kidnapped! He said to ask you to find him, or else he will kill Shana! Big brother Ling, I beg you...." Liu Yu Hao was at the verge of tears at this point, his words incoherent, but still managing to express the meaning. During the process, he has been clinging tightly to Ling Mo's arm, in fear that Ling Mo would refuse.

And as Ling Mo heard it, his face also suddenly became gloomy. This Lu Xin, besides of a brain thinking nothing good, was also not expected to be this ruthless.

Chapter 26 The gradually decaying body

Ling Mo was not surprised that Lu Xin appeared to be mutated, but he was unexpectedly still sane, having taken Shana as hostage while taunting the survivors.

Ling Mo suddenly became engrossed at Lu Xin's consciousness, as his greatest wish is to let Ye Lian be able to regain sanity as soon as possible. But aside from the last evolution, after Ye Lian has showed little signs of self-consciousness, there was no further signs of progression down that line.

Ling Mo was obviously frustrated, as this is not a problem to be solved overnight, but he still immediately embarked on hunting mutated zombies, hoping to accelerate the evolution process in order to enable her to regain sanity sooner.

But the strangeness from Lu Xin's body let Ling Mo think that, he could probably find some new clues from this Lu Xin!

Even if there is little possibility of success, Ling Mo still wants to find and confront Lu Xin, not to mention that he still has Shana, and to top it all off, this idiot even threatened him by his own name. To Ling Mo, one mutated zombie does not pose great threat, Lu Xin thought that he has turned from a mouse into a sick cat will allow him to take revenge on Ling Mo. He is really naïve.

"Big brother Ling! I beg you, Shana and I accumulated some friendship along fighting side by side, I beg you..." Liu Yu Hao repeatedly pleaded, looking increasingly anxious.

"Where are they?" Ling Mo made up his mind, then asked.

Liu Yu Hao is suddenly overjoyed, and immediately dragged Ling Mo to run downstairs: "they are in the boys' dormitory! Hurry, I am afraid that Lu Xin will lose his sanity immediately, by that time Shana will really be dead!"

"Indeed! Let's do it." Ling Mo felt his scalp tighten at his resolve, picking up his feet to move out. And Ye Lian who is still under his control followed up.

Liu Yu Hao is eager to save these people, despite his exhaustion, he was still keeping up with Ling Mo and Ye Lian who ran just ahead. On the other hand, Wang Cheng is already panting like a dog on a hot summer day, if it wasn't for trying to save himself, most likely he would already be on the ground. Too bad that the others in front of him have no intention to stop and wait...

Therefore when Wang Cheng looked to the back of those three people's shadows, his eyes betrayed his frustration, but soon he covered this emotion.

On the road leading to the dorm there also appeared several zombies, all attracted over by the fresh corpses on the floor. Ling Mo observed that while these were indeed ordinary, non-mutant zombies who do not attack their own kind, they still will eat other zombie corpses ....

These few zombies that appeared before the boys' dormitory are currently having a feast on the few zombie corpses on the floor, whose blood-red eyes all but confirmed that they once belonged to zombies, not humans. Ling Mo could not dare to believe that he is seeing such a scene unfolding in front of him.

This is why...But in this case, won't there be more mutated zombies?! Even the whole zombie population will slowly evolve and become even stronger as time passes!

Although their speed of evolution is far slower than mutated zombies who emerged through killing each other, the overall slow evolutionary advantage within the ordinary zombies will gradually be reflected.

"FML!" Ling Mo secretly swore in his heart, at the same time waving his blade and charging against the few zombies that noticed him. Relying on the zombie puppet control ability and his own battle-hardened combat skills, these few zombies stood no match against himself and Ye Lian.

It's certain that these fresh zombie corpses will also attract even more zombies to be eaten ...But as a survivor himself, he does not have the time and energy to cleanly dispose of the corpses, the whole zombie evolutionary process is simply unstoppable.

"Who knew that zombies also eat zombies!" Ling Mo frowned while looking up again at the picked clean corpses.

Liu Yu Hao looked up at Ling Mo with some doubt, and quietly replied "Of course they eat, big brother Ling you didn't know?"

Ling Mo reluctantly held his mouth shut. Liu Yu Hao and his people had been living closely with ordinary zombies, so they obviously were aware of this, but Ling Mo lived far away from zombies, and controlled zombie puppets while searching for food. Even if they killed zombies, he will not run back to purposefully check up on the bodies. There was no way Ling Mo could have known.

But this again proved his conjecture is right, the only way to challenge increasingly difficult foes would be to keep training his own strength....

After killing these few zombies, Ling Mo and others finally entered the boys' dormitory.

The narrow dormitory corridor is nothing short of hellish, with dark brown blood plastered all over the walls and floor. And some of the dormitory doors were held ajar, heightening the anxiety felt by the group, as if a zombie would burst out from the door like in a horror movie.

This dormitory has five floors, a rough estimate by Ling Mo suggests hundreds of suites, presumably trying to find Lu Xin and Shana will not be an easy task.

But Ling Mo is not worried about searching every room, because he immediately turned his head towards a trail of blood on the floor.

He extended his hand and lightly touched the blood and asked: "Lu Xin's wounds has opened, or is Shana wounded? It was also there on the steps, I saw fresh blood on the road, but because there are zombies' corpses close by so I am not too sure about where it came from. But there is nothing else that could have recently bled around here; this blood must have been left by one of them."

"It's Lu Xin." Liu Yu Hao hurriedly replied, "When I last saw him he was covered with blood, but I don't know why."

"As long as it's not Shana's." Ling Mo nodded thoughtfully, looking down the direction of the bloodstains.

These blood spots were very faint and almost indistinguishable from the brown bloody ground, it would be difficult to discover by ordinary people, if it wasn't for Ling Mo's sharp observation, he would have not noticed it either. But most likely Lu Xin did not intend to hide his traces. Just as Ling Mo brought Liu Yu Hao and others walked on the third floor along the bloodstains, they saw Lu Xin in the corridor. But they were not expecting to see him like this...

In a timeframe of no less than two hours, Lu Xin's appearance became utterly unbearable to look at!

Before his appearance was somewhat repulsive, but right now he was downright horrifying! The skin on his body is not only been scratched to a pulpy mush, it has already begun to fester, the turbid pus and blood dripping down his stained trousers. The thought that he just used his hand to touch blood dropping from something like that, Ling Mo immediately wanted to wash his hand.

But that pair of bloodshot eyes reveals the same look as before, arrogant and disgusting.

"Lu Xin! Where is Shana!"

As soon as Liu Yu Hao looked at Lu Xin, he became agitated, if it wasn't for Ling Mo holding him back, he would have already rushed up to fight this menace.

But Ling Mo felt that Lu Xin's current appearance is frighteningly abnormal. He does not seem to be turning into zombie, but more like little by little... rotting!

Yes, rotting it is! His eyes, his change of power all seemed like zombie, but his body was somehow not changing like a zombie. Could it be because it was overloaded with mutated zombies' virus and not be able to take it?

Compared to ordinary zombies, the virus emitted by mutated zombies are much purer, of course the toxicity is much stronger!

Lu Xin's change all but proves that ordinary people infected by zombie virus, and did not die immediately, will turn into zombies. But if a survivor was directly infected by mutated zombies and suddenly exposed to a high purity virus, the body is literally unable to keep itself together.

Chapter 27 Infected

"Have you seen enough? Don't you think my appearance is too repulsive for you?"

Lu Xin gazed at Ling Mo and the others viciously, and madly snarled, "Ling Mo, Look at what you've done! If you didn't abandon me for dead, I would not have turned into this!"

With a look of malice in his eyes, he reached to grasp the skin on his face, a patch of skin and rotten flesh immediately fell down and made a sickening plop on the floor, sending shivers down the spines of all the survivors.

"See? This is all your fault, traitor! At that time you could have saved me first, but you were too selfish!"

"Do you really think that all four ocean are your mother! (meaning you really thought that everyone is your mother!) I did not bother save you because you were a lost cause, right now I am here for Shana, where is she??" Ling Mo gave a cold gaze and asked sharply.

Lu Xin cackled in response "Shana...you want to see her so badly? Fine! Give me your hand which you used to slap me, and that is the hand you will cut off!"

Hearing this, Ling Mo suddenly could not help but to roll his eyes in contempt.

This Lu Xin is really an idiot! First of all, not to mention that his relationship with Shana is not deep enough to cut a hand for her, but just his remarks is laughable! This kid must have seen too much movies, he really thought that with his little strength now, he can challenge the heavens themselves!

However, overwhelmed by the chaos, Liu Yu Hao immediately looked at Ling Mo with a frightened look, then turned to Lu Xin and shouted "Lu Xin how could you do this, if it wasn't for big brother Ling we would have been all dead!"

"I don't give a rat's *** about your business!" Lu Xin fiercely spit out a mouthful of bloody spit, "if it wasn't for you and Shana that is looking for trouble at this accursed school, and let this Ling joining us, and even finding these people by going back to school, how could things turn out to be like this! Don't think that I don't hate you people, it was you guys that left me there!"

Liu Yu Hao is mortified, but he clenched his teeth, then actually raised the kitchen knife in his hand: "how about cutting mine?!"

He said as he brandished his knife, but was stopped by Ling Mo, who was rushing at lightning speed towards Lu Xin.

Both parties' now faced each other no more than ten meters apart, with Ling Mo's speed, this close distance is a distance of less than one breath. He directly rushed at Lu Xin.

Lu Xin only saw a dark shadow brush past himself, then felt a flash of cold steel before his eyes.

Lu Xin's mutant reflexes were fast enough for him to actually turn his head to the side to see that his right shoulder was directly slashed open. His entire body suddenly felt like it was being crushed by an enormous pressure that made his knees go soft, almost directly collapsing on the ground.

Ling Mo slashed directly on Lu Xin's shoulder, but did not have the intention to stop, instead he smoothly crosscut the knife straight up, directly going for Lu Xin's throat.

A strong shadow of death instantly enveloped Lu Xin, but driven by instincts, he still backed up a step, barely escaping this fatal blow. But the tip of the blade has already pierced an artery, blood gushing out from the wound.

Lu Xin's eyes become even redder, he screamed after reacting to his wound. Refusing to fall and die, he rushed directly towards Ling Mo in a desperate counterattack.

But after all he is still an ordinary human being, how could he compare to Ling Mo who has eviscerated several mutant zombies, each far more powerful than the rotting living corpse of Lu Xin. Capitalizing on his still-standing posture, Ling Mo thrust the knife forward the instant Lu Xin started to charge, piercing his bloated abdomen and forcing him down into the ground.

The sharp blade opened a big wound on Lu Xin's belly. Just as Lu Xin was pinned into the ground, Ling Mo stomped on his chest, staring down at the abomination, and taunted "Looks like you don't feel pain anymore?"

Lu Xin's body was on the verge of falling apart at the seams. The skin on his whole body is all peeling off, revealing the grotesque layers of putrid muscle and fat underneath, coupled with the two deep gashes inflicted by Ling Mo. Nonetheless Lu Xin still does not show off any painful expression. He obviously was not some hardcore guy before his mutation; the only explanation is that he no longer feels any pain.

Lu Xin looked at Ling Mo biting his teeth. Even though he cannot feel the pain of his intestines flowing out of his open abdomen, Lu Xin knew that he did not have much longer to live.

"Kidnapping Shana and daring to threaten her right in front of me? You should know your own strength!" Ling Mo spitefully spat out those words.

"Oh, you think I am stupid?" Lu Xin's eyes suddenly become clouded, and started to laugh madly, "you really think I am stupid! I knew that I was a dead man long before you showed up, but I will not let you guys off easily. Even though I did not get to kill you, I will still triumph in the end! Ha ha ha ha.....Didn't you guys abandon me and let me suffer? I will let you vermin have a taste of your own medicine, what kind of expression would you guys have! Ha ha ha..."

At the same while he was laughing hysterically, his mouth was still ejecting blood, coupled with the froth emerging from his lips, he has lost all semblance of his dwindling humanity.

But Ling Mo has had enough of this madman's ravings; he chopped down Lu Xin's neck in one swing in one final splattering of blood, ending his strident laughter. Lu Xin's head rolled several times on the floor before coming to a final halt, his face still contorted in that demented composure.

Ling Mo looked back at the doors in the dormitory hall. Shana should be in one of the dorms, but for some reason, Ling Mo's heart started to get a little uneasy, Lu Xin's final words still ominously ringing in his ears.

Liu Yu Hao did not think that much of his words, seeing that Ling Mo terminated Lu Xin using two or three swings, he immediately rushed into the hall, and madly started to search within the dormitory for Shana.

And Wang Cheng followed over frowning, after glancing at Lu Xin's headless corpse with a calamitous expression; he also started to search following Liu Yu Hao. But this survivor also has some little tricks under his sleeves, he seemed to care a lot for Shana's safety, but in fact he is following tightly after Liu Yu Hao and does not even go near those dormitory doors. Under the emergency circumstances, most people will not notice his little movements.

Ling Mo also started to search along the corridor with Ye Lian, but the dorms he past by are almost all completely empty, without a trace of anyone.

But not soon after Liu Yu Hao's anxious voice came from one of the dorm: "she is here! Shana is in here!"

Ling Mo's heart tightened up, hurriedly rushed over.

As soon as he reached the door, he saw that Shana's limbs has been tied to the bedposts by what seemed like a clothing rope, and her head was lowered, still appearing human. But thinking back to what Lu Xin said, Ling Mo knew that something must have happened to Shana's body.

"Shana, are you all right!"

As Liu Yu Hao gingerly released Shana's restrictions, Ling Mo instantly saw her palm, suddenly feeling his heart become cold. He immediately grabbed Shana's left palm, and Liu Yu Hao also turned his puzzled look over. Wang Cheng who is beside them also saw what has happened.

Not a single word was traded between any of the survivors, but aside from the emotionless Ye Lian, absolute horror and disgust were plastered all over each of their faces.

Ling Mo was first to break the silence. Looking at the pale faced Shana, he cursed in a low voice and biting his teeth: "Lu Xin, you are really not a human being!"

On Shana's left hand, a fresh deep wound is the first thing they saw. But the putrid blood and flesh surrounding the wound all but confirmed that after Lu Xin cut open Shana's left hand, he grasped the gash in order to infect her with the mutant zombie virus.

And among everyone's horrified look, Shana slowly raised her head, in that pair of usually determined and energetic eyes, right now is full of despair: "It's too late..."

Chapter 28 Mutation Start

The long silence presses people breathless. Shana's words, and her lifeless eyes all made Ling Mo's heart suddenly sank to the bottom along with his mood becoming very heavy.

"I'd rather die....than become a zombie.." Shana whispered with some trance, as she slowly stood up leaning on the bed. And Liu Yu Hao is just staring at her, apparently also caught in extreme shock.

When she was unconscious, Shana's long knife have been left in place, but soon she turned to Liu Yu Hao, eyes suddenly flashed a determined color, suddenly reached out to Liu Yu Hao's hands to seize the kitchen knife. She would rather end it herself than suffer through the agony of turning into a zombie.

But as soon as she moved, Ling Mo also suddenly came back to his senses, immediately grabbed back the kitchen knife with lightning speed. Shana at this time is also very exhausted, simply could not withstand Ling Mo.

"I don't want to turn into a zombie! I do not want to become that kind of monster!" Shana's eyes become lax again as she rambled on and on; she jostled Ling Mo like crazy, and tried to reach out again to grab the knife from Ling Mo's hands.

But Ling Mo has already thrown the knife to the ground viciously, one hand caught Shana's shoulder and said fiercely:" Do not do anything stupid! You still have not changed right? There must be a way!"

"Ah! Give me the knife, give me the knife!"

However Shana could not listen to any of Ling Mo's words, instead cried hysterically. Ling Mo who is without a choice but to extend his hand and patted on Shana's head, then caught her limp body into the arms.

"Infected....Shana...."At this time Liu Yu Hao stood up trembling, looked incredulously at Shana who is collapsed in the arms of Ling Mo, could not even say a full sentence.

Even Wang Cheng is looking pastel-colored, without Shana, the possibility for him to go back to his moth life is almost impossible.

"Will Shana....become...something like that Lu Xin?" Liu Yu Hao suddenly turned to Ling Mo, asked in a low and worried voice.

Indeed, Lu Xin's appearance is even more horrifying than zombies, if anyone really becomes like that, not to mention Shana, even Ling Mo could not accept it. Looking at Liu Yu Hao's eyes that is on the verge of collapse, Ling Mo sighed in his heart, and slowly said: "Calm down, Shana is the one who is suffering the most. Don't you want to think of a solution for her?"

"Solution?" After hearing Ling Mo saying this, Liu Yu Hao suddenly woke up a bit, but the tears are streaming down involuntarily, "what kind of solutions..."

"According to Lu Xin's situation, coupled with the time between our separation, we can roughly estimate that the time from been infected to onset of symptoms is about half an hour. Therefore we should find some solutions within this half an hour, trying is better than sit and wait for death." Compared to Liu Yu Hao who is on the verge of a nervous breakdown, Ling Mo is much more calm, the most important reason is that because right next to Ling Mo, there is a mutated zombie, Ye Lian.

Therefore from Ling Mo's opinion, there is still hope if turning into a zombie, but if the body is rotting like Lu Xin, then there really is no way.

"How about.....cut her hand....."Liu Yu Hao's eyes suddenly flashed with a hard color, and proposed.

Ling Mo shook his head: "useless, it has been far too long since she's been infected."

"Then what else can we do?" Liu Yu Hao's face grew dark again.

But Ling Mo's mind has immediately began to wonder again. Lu Xin was infected directly by a mutated zombie, under the circumstance where the body could not withstand the intensity of the virus that led to it falling apart. Shana here should be a case of secondary infection; the infected virus should have been diluted through Lu Xin's body. But even so, it should still have a much higher concentration than the virus in ordinary zombies.

With Shana's physical strength, is her body able to withstand it and hold itself together? The answer is unknown.

Ling Mo looked down to Shana who is in his arms, his heart also could not bear the thought of her turning into another Lu Xin. He knew that the words he just said were merely for comfort; in fact he also does not know how to prevent Shana's mutation. In reality he knows that it's guaranteed that Shana will for sure mutate, the only outcome still in the air is whether she will turn into a "normal" zombie, or an abomination like Lu Xin.

While Ling Mo is still debating back and forth, Shana has slowly woken up, but in the semi-conscious state between human and zombie, seemed to be deeply drawn by something and leaped into Ling Mo's arms.

Ling Mo's heart jumped and quickly looked down at Shana, and saw that he still underestimated the extent of the virus infection. Shana's eyes is half open, a touch of carnage is clearly visible. She has begun the mutation.....Most likely only about twenty minutes has passed since Lu Xin used his own blood to infect her to the appearance of the mutation symptoms.

Liu Yu Hao also realized Shana's abnormality, he immediately reached out to pull her arm: "Shana, how are you?"

But Shana did not respond to him, and was still tightly affixed to Ling Mo's chest, the other hand is even directly going to grab something.

Ling Mo's scalp suddenly feels numb, he immediately pushed away Shana, but his shirt has already been torn a hole. And Shana who was pushed away has completely her eyes, now an upsetting red color, again rushed over, her mouth vaguely forming the words "give me...."

Ling Mo had no idea what Shana had wanted him to give her, and can only hold her in place as he tried to piece together what she meant.

And it was in this short tenth seconds, Ling Mo realized what she really wants ...

Brain gel! Shana wants the brain gel hidden in his chest!

"Shana!" Liu Yu Hao was stunned by Shana's movements, and Ling Mo quickly grabbed Shana's arm, pressed her to the side of the bed and put himself between her and Liu Yu Hao and Wang Cheng's eyes. He quickly took out one gel that is of the lowest purity into Shana's mouth.

"Wu wu..."

Different from Ye Lian, the current Shana still has some sanity, it's just that under the domination of instincts there emerged a mad desire for the gel. Now thatshe has swallowed the gel, she has immediately calmed down, spread her arms lying in bed, a pair of glowing red eyes looking at Ling Mo in a daze.

"How is she!" Liu Yu Hao nervously came around, but saw Shana's pair of inhuman eyes, suddenly his heart thumped and could not even stand properly.

And Ling Mo is also nervously watching Shana, paying attention to her reaction. He knew what he has just done was a reckless, and perhaps even harmful action. If it wasn't for that Shana had a strong desire for the gel, Ling Mo could not even have thought about this. Fight fire with fire? What if it accelerates Shana's mutation process? This kind of thing is not absolutely certain; he would have never dared to try on his own.

But since Shana was full of desire to the gel, and this deep desire came from her own instinct, this means that the gel must be good to her.

Maybe it might be able to neutralize toxins in the body, and return her to normal? As soon as the idea appeared, Ling Mo's mood immediately became excited.

Chapter 29 I want....

After anxiously waiting for what seemed like an eternity, Shana still just stared blankly at Ling Mo, without any response. Fortunately, excluding her blood red eyes, Shana did not appear zombie-like, nor did her body start rotting like Lu Xin, which makes Ling Mo finally feeling a little relieved.

"There is nothing else we can do for her, let's get out of here first."

Ling Mo gave a helpless sigh, and went to pull Shana up. Of course before moving her, Ling Mo first tried to restrain her in order to test if she still kept her sanity. A strong shove from her direction gave Ling Mo some headaches at the same time also made him feel a hint of joy. As long as there is consciousness, it means that she has not yet fully become a zombie.

After all, the difference between ordinary humans and zombies in terms of mental aspect is obviously very large. Normal people have the ability to think independently and have changing emotions, but zombies are like machines dominated by instinct, completely without independent thought. And although Ling Mo has better spiritual power than other humans, he still could not suppress thoughts of another human. The only way Ling Mo can completely mentally control Shana would be for her to lose all of her self-consciousness, and be driven entirely by zombie instincts.

Even though Shana does not seem to be mentally active right now, she is still wholly aware of her surroundings, if he were to manipulate her in this condition, there is no possibility.

For the sake of safety, Ling Mo commanded Ye Lian and along with himself where each of them clutched each of Shana's two arms, and picked her up. As a result, even if she went berserk halfway, with Ye Lian and himself striking at the same time, they will be able to prevent her from hurting anyone.

"Big brother Ling, where are you taking Shana?" Liu Yu Hao is now completely out of ideas, asked awkwardly.

Ling Mo turned around to look at him, and said: "it's far too dangerous here, the smell of blood will attract zombies within the school, if something happened to Shana again, how are we going to deal with it? First we need to go somewhere safer."

"Yes, you are right..." Liu Yu Hao was at first lost in thought, then hurriedly nodded his head, then he added sincerely, "big brother Ling, as well as big sister Ye Lian, thank you."

This "thank you" contained a lot of things; Ling Mo smiled but did not say anything. As for Ye Lian, she is originally a mutated zombie, even though you cannot tell from her appearance, but naturally she will not have any reaction to Liu Yu Hao's words.

Fortunately Liu Yu Hao does not mind, most likely among his impression, Ye Lian is a shy pretty big sister.

After passing by one of the dormitory, Liu Yu Hao suddenly asked Ling Mo to wait for a bit, and he ran inside the building, then quickly took Shana's long knife and rushed out breathlessly: "this knife was handmade by Shana, very good quality, it would be a pity to lose it, she would also feel very bad."

For the purposes of travelling under the radar, a blade is a superior companion. Not only are firearms and ammunition extremely rare, even a skilled crack shot would quickly become overwhelmed by the hordes drawn towards the sound of gunfire and the smell of blood. But good sharp weapons are equally scarce, slashing zombies is not like chopping pork, it is very easy to cause dullness, cracks are likely to happen if overexerted. A short knife like the one Ling Mo has, not only is very light weighted, sharp bladed, the quality is also very good.

Shana and Wang's handmade knives belong to the same maker, well-maintained and sharp, that long knife does looks very extraordinary, and you can see that she always gives it serious maintenance, really cherished this long knife.

Liu Yu Hao always showed deep feelings for Shana, it's natural that he went to recover this knife for her, even though who knows how Shana will become what....

"You treat Shana well, very humane...."Ling Mo somewhat said it emotionally. How is he not like that to Ye Lian, even though she has already become a zombie, even a mutated zombie, but he still did not give up hope.

But Liu Yu Hao is showing a hint of strange look: "Big brother Ling you may have misunderstood, I am not in that kind of relationship with Shana. Shana, she...she does not feel that to me...."

That's why....in the process of getting along Ling Mo has already seen that Liu Yu Hao has a special feeling for Shana, but Shana on the other hand is relatively unreceptive towards him.

"I did not do it because I like Shana...."Liu Yu Hao hurriedly explained.

"I know." Ling Mo nodded understandably. Most likely among Liu Yu Hao's feelings to Shana, there are more gratitude and admiration for the majority, after all in their old team, they basically relied on the support of Shana, no matter how much Liu Yu Hao worked, he was still merely a young teenager, whose combat ability is not comparable to Shana's.

Ling Mo decided to bring the knife with them, letting Ye Lian hold on to the weapon. Seeing that Liu Yu Hao is so attached to this blade, Ling Mo is suddenly somewhat touched.

As for Wang Cheng, even though he is also tired as a dead pig, he is much smarter than Lu Xin, he is persistent while biting his teeth, not saying a word but followed tightly besides Ling Mo.

The survivors soon left the campus, and entered a high-end apartment complex on the opposite side. Although these buildings provided more than adequate shelter from the wilderness, Ling Mo was concerned about the zombie population inside the complex. This kind of place is not a suitable place to stay, but now they are with Shana, have no choice but to hold out for now.

Looked around, Ling Mo brought his people and got into an apartment that has multiple easy pathways to escape through the staircases.

Because they would only stay for one night, Ling Mo did not bother to scan the whole apartment for zombies. They chose to make camp into one of the suites on the second floor.

This residential room has the door opened, the inside is already a mess, but fortunately no zombies have stayed in here. After ensuring the suite was clear of threats, Ling Mo then put Shana within one of the bedrooms.

At this time Shana's emotion is still relatively stable, even feels like she is venting a little bit of thinking. If it wasn't for that pair of eyes keeps on getting redder, Ling Mo could have thought that she has completely returned to normal. But just as Ling Mo carried her to the bed, she is frantically struggling again, eyes staring at Ling Mo's chest hard.

"I.....I want...."

"Still?"

Ling Mo's heart skipped a beat, but Shana's hand has already reached over, Ling Mo could only take out another gel that is of lower purity.

As soon as the gel appeared before Shana, she could not wait and snatched it over and downed the thing whole, then her eyes suddenly widened, and all of a sudden become limp, and slowly closed her eyes.

Ling Mo panicked, thinking that he just killed Shana. He quickly directly put his ear to Shana's chest.

Fortunately, there is still heartbeat...then that reaction, could it be like Ye Lian, about to evolve soon? But she has not even become a zombie yet!

What is going on? Ling Mo looked at Shana with a complicated and flabbergasted look, heart filled with doubt. But right now Shana is unconscious, and nobody knows how long it will take for her to wake up. But there was no way they could wait long enough in the apartment for her to wake up again.

Chapter 30 To relieve, or to abandon?

For safety's sake, Ling Mo left Ye Lian inside to stay and care for Shana, this way even if Shana suddenly mutated into a zombie, he could immediately restrain her through Ye Lian. On the contrary, Ling Mo knows that he needs to rest, instead of guarding Shana. Ye Lian as a zombie, she is much more stronger and sensitive to her own kind. As soon as Shana turns into a zombie, Ye Lian will immediately alert him.

As soon as he walked out of the door, Liu Yu Hao jumped straight at him anxiously: "Big brother Ling, how is Shana?"

"Right now is uncertain." Ling Mo was completely honest. Shana's situation is just way too mysterious, not even a zombie master like himself could predict Shana's prognosis.

Seeing Liu Yu Hao full of concern, Ling Mo was moved "If Shana mutated, what will you do?"

"Ah?" Liu Yu Hao is suddenly stunned. But on the way to here, he was thinking this problem in his mind. If Shana started to mutate, should he kill her to put her out of her misery, or to leave her to die, like what happened to Lu Xin? But until Ling Mo asked this question, Liu Yu Hao painfully discovered that, he still does not know what to do!

"It's alright, don't think about it, let's talk when she awakes." Ling Mo seeing that Liu Yu Hao with such concern, whole person is going into a daze, could not help but to sigh secretly, reached out and patted on his shoulder. But as he brush past him, Ling Mo lightly added another phrase: "If it was me, even if the girl I like has turned into a zombie, I will not give up on her."

Liu Yu Hao is immediately shaken up! Even if Shana would turn into zombie, he would still not give up.....

Even though this was only a lightly spoken phase, Liu Yu Hao stood there for a while, letting that idea ferment in his head. In his mind, besides the thought of killing Shana, there is only the thought of abandoning her, but he never thought about to work hard for her....Indeed, among his knowledge, turning into a zombie is a one-way road, explaining the devastating effects of this outbreak on humanity.

But without hope is one thing, he did not have the thought of working hard for her, this to Liu Yu Hao is most terrifying.

For a time, Liu Yu Hao could not help but raise his hand, and gave himself two hard slaps. But the pain is on the face, his heavy mood, did not become more relaxed because of this....

At this time Ling Mo has already walked to the balcony, through the windows and looking outside. From far away he could see numerous zombies wandering inside the campus of Third High School, most likely attracted by those fresh corpses. There are also some zombies inside the district, but the numbers are small. Even though there are not that many zombies within his vision, but Ling Mo is sure that as soon he or his group makes any unnecessary movements, there will be at least hundreds of zombies flowing out of the school into the apartment.

Just within this apartment, it is unknown of how many zombies there are, maybe there are even mutated zombies. As far as Ling Mo is concerned, this is really living inside the nest of zombies.

Touching the gels in his chest, Ling Mo had to suppress his to immediately evolve. Right now Shana's situation is unknown, and he and Ye Lian must stay alert at all times, conserve strength. If they faint at this time, who knew what would happen during that time period?

But Shana is showing strong desire for those gels; this fact really puzzled Ling Mo. She obviously still has some of her senses, and did not completely became zombie, more like in the process of mutating, but why is she so interested in the gels? It was known that Ling Mo who as a normal person almost fainted when he only smelled the gel a little, not to mention swallowing this kind of thing into the stomach.

Even for Ye Lian who is a mutated zombie evolved several times would not be able to swallow two gels in such a short period of time. Even swallowing one gel will take a long time to digest. Of course with the growth of strength, the time in which Ye Lian's need for the next gel is also shortening, but compared to Shana's case of swallowing two gels less than half an hour, still has a big difference.

On Shana's body, just what is happening that people don't know about? Through Ye Lian's perspective, even if he is at the living room, he could observe Shana's current condition, but just like when he left, Shana seemed to be in deep sleep, without a single movement.

This kind of situation is making Ling Mo somewhat depressed, he feels that hours have passed when it has only been 30 minutes.

Seeing Ling Mo and Wang Cheng all holding their own thoughts, but all quiet, Wang Cheng who is beside them is like sleeping on a bed of nails. He is also restless, not just for Shana, but for himself who does not know the future.

Even though he predicted that Lu Xin would eventually become insane and try something like infect Shana, he still felt like he wanted to slap himself for what he has done to his greatest friend.

Ingratiate himself to Ling Mo? It's not difficult to tell from Ling Mo's practical and sometimes callous attitude that it is almost impossible to seek food from his hands.

Wang Cheng right now knows that he is completely out of options, he knew that with his own lack of fighting ability, it's best to not to anger Ling Mo and stick with the group for the immediate future.

Deciding to help out the group somewhat, he started to clean up the suite voluntarily. Although there was no evidence of any humans nor zombies, there definitely has been a struggle, as shown by all the overturned furniture as well as several dried bloodstains. Even though it's not possible to completely clean it up, but he could still try to make the environment better.

Wang Cheng's charity did not go unreturned, when the sun started to go down, Ling Mo threw him a bag of cookies and a water bottle.

This is much more useful than scavenging for scraps! After Wang Cheng took the food, he immediately revealed a hint of joy, but then he looked deeply at Ling Mo. No wonder Ling Mo did not care about the food given by Liu Yu Hao, he has his own food supply. Looking at that bag's size and fullness, the food in there could at least last for a week.....

Wang Cheng knew that Ling Mo did not just scavenge all those supplies on his own. No wonder that in the end of the world, strength is first, and not just to fight off zombies....

Liu Yu Hao originally wanted to say that he does not have any appetite, but Ling Mo looked at him with disdain, and said: "tonight we will be taking turns to stay on guard, if you don't eat and sleep, what if something happened during your shift guarding?"

"Eh...."Liu Yu Hao suddenly could not argue back, after been silence for a while, he grabbed the food from Ling Mo's hand, "I am sorry, I will eat."

The way he eats is that he chews very detailed, slow speed, this movement is the same as Wang Cheng. In fact before mastering the zombie puppet techniques, Ling Mo also ate like this.

Eating slowly is the only way to feel as full as possible through the small amount of food.

"By the way, is big sister Ye Lian not going to eat?" Even though Liu Yu Hao's mood is twisting, but did not forget his character as a baby sitter, after just taking a few bites, he turned to Ling Mo and asked.

The food that Ye Lian wants to eat, besides the gels, most likely is the meat off your own back....Ling Mo twitched his mouth, stood up and walked to that bedroom: "I will go check on Shana's situation, and to see if there is a corpse to feed to Ye Lian."

Chapter 31 Awaiting

In the bedroom, Shana is still unconscious, but Ye Lian is sitting on the bed, her pair of unusually bright eyes virtually riveted on Shana.

Ye Lian obviously could not eat food for normal humans, but Ling Mo wasn't intending on feeding her. But since he said that he is to deliver the meal, he would have to disappear for a while. By using this time, Ling Mo again walked over to Shana, carefully observing her for any changes to her vitals.

For a person who has consecutively swallowed two virus gels, Shana's reaction is way too calm. She is breathing calmly, her face not discolored, and does not have any trace of painful expression. But one thing is for sure is that, under the guise of the calmness, there must be a virus storm raging inside Shana's body. But nobody knows, what will the aftermath of the storm leaves Shana.

After carefully observing Shana for more than ten minutes, Ling Mo returned to the living room. At this time the sky has gradually darkened, for safety, Ling Mo pulled down the curtain from the balcony completely, and also used furniture to block the door. This way even if something starts attacking, there's at least somewhat of a barricade.

Wang Cheng and Liu Yu Hao also started to become tense, to stay in this completely unfamiliar environment to stay for a night, for them is still a bit too much. Who knows when the zombies will pass by the door?

"Don't make too much noise." Ling Mo's expression is almost stoic, as he whispered under his breath.

"Then how will the watch be arranged tonight?" Liu Yu Hao is clearly treating Ling Mo as the leader.

Ling Mo gave a little thought, then said: "each person takes turns for three hours, Shana will be guarded by Ye Lian at all times, but I will also go check one them both when it's my turn."

"No, just me and Wang Cheng rotate. Big brother Ling, you and big sister Ye Lian guard Shana." But Liu Yu Hao slowly shook his head, and said: "you have to defend, but also guarding Shana, this is way too exhausting for you. Me and Wang Cheng have nothing to do right now, the only thing we could do is this."

Wang Cheng also nodded on the side, indicating that he has no objection. Seeing them insist, Ling Mo could only reluctantly agree.

In fact, to be on watch duty is not an easy task. Not for the things you can fight off, but for the gradual drain on your sanity. As soon as the night comes, inside the supposedly abandoned building, you start hearing sounds, most of which you don't know if it's coming from your own head! To make matters worse, no lighting in the hallway means that a passing shadow could be anything from a scampering rat to a mutant zombie, ready to attack.

Occasionally there would be a slightly louder voice which would send the person on duty to jump up like a frightened bird, then nervously stare out into the hallway, looking for any danger, further fueling their paranoia....

But Wang Cheng still felt that even if he had to stay in the living room afraid and paranoid, it would be better than staying with the current Shana. Therefore he not only offered to be on duty on the first shift, he even took a stool to sit at the doorway, intently gazing outwards. After all if there is trouble, he will most likely be the first one to die among this group regardless.

And although Liu Yu Hao is full of anxious thoughts, he was simply overworked from the day's stresses, and was physically exhausted. He almost instantly fell into a deep sleep on the couch.

And Ling Mo moved a sofa chair into the bedroom, sat down on the far most corner, closing his eyes to meditate. This day Ling Mo was also exhausted, he could not be compared to zombies, if he doesn't seize the time to rest, his physical strength will not be recovered by tomorrow. Facing a few zombies is no challenge for an awake Ling Mo, but if he encountered another horde, his speed and physical strength would quickly be sapped.

Through constant exertion using zombie puppet control, Ling Mo's exceptional mental fortitude allows him even get the most out of his sleeping time. By alternating between very deep sleep and being completely awake over a matter of minutes, he is both able to keep watch of his surroundings and sleep better than ordinary survivors. This kind of sleeping mode is most likely mastered by all survivors, but Ling Mo is exceptionally proficient at it.

The so-called spiritual power, from Ling Mo's perspective, is most likely a general name for concentration, observation and other mental capacities. He has the ability to control zombie puppets, it is to separate his own spiritual power to use to control zombies who are without senses and can only rely on instincts. To use one heart in two places is not a simple task, especially applying it into battle. Life and death battle, the emphasis is on speed of response of nerves and flesh, if one cannot concentrate, how could he keep up with the zombies' action?

Therefore in the beginning, Ling Mo is only using the controlled zombie puppets to combat, while he is hiding behind the scenes, safe from harm, and later use the cover by zombie puppets he would rush out to battle to claim brain gels. When he began to manipulate a mutated Ye Lian, Ling Mo then started to master fighting along with zombie puppets. In this process, Ling Mo's spiritual power has already received enough practices, therefore when Ye Lian evolved; Ling Mo underwent an explosion in spiritual power, and evolving as he controlled two mutated zombies at once.

The evolution of spiritual ability is a relatively vague concept, only Ling Mo could understand that kind of feeling. In simple terms, before when he controlled Ye Lian, especially controlling her to battle, he always has to be concentrated, or else Ye Lian will tend to easily get out of his control. And even though Ling Mo's reaction time is very fast, but when he deliver his command to Ye Lian, he always feels as if he is lagging behind by a fraction of a second. If Ling Mo likened commands as transmission center, then his spiritual power is like a connection hub, and in the process of data transmission, if this connection hub is not strong enough, there will always be delays, like a poor internet connection.

But after evolution, this connection hub is instantly leveled a notch as well, and the transmission of commands had therefore become even more stable and effectively instantaneous!

For example like right now, Ye Lian in Ling Mo's feeling is like a shadow clone of himself of which he could manipulate without hindrance. Of course, Ling Mo did not really meant to treat her as his primary weapon. In fact during the combat, Ling Mo has been consciously training his own strength, and not to completely rely on Ye Lian. In most situations, he is the main one, and Ye Lian as the support. Even though ordinary people and zombies have huge differences, Ling Mo still tries his hardest to defeat them single-handedly, coming on top as a result.

The reason that zombies can strike fear in people is that as soon as they discovered their prey, they will madly and relentlessly attack until they are literally ripped apart at the seams. Ordinary survivors tend to fear zombies, and when one comes around to attack, they are so concerned about not being injured and subsequently infected that they hold back in attacking, an oftentimes fatal mistake. But to Ling Mo who has been dealing with zombies, and even living together with one, zombies are not that scary!

Put aside the fact that zombies usually charge in hordes, in the case of encountering a single zombie, even an unarmed survivor has the advantage! Zombies only know how to attack, and while that may appear to be frightening, it is also their downfall against a level headed opponent, who knows how to defend and counterattack.

But Ling Mo also knew that most people still need to hold on to a group to be able to barely survive, because most of them were civilians before the apocalypse, never harming anything larger than an insect in their whole lives. Not only that, in this kind of urban city, there is just such a large number of zombies. One madman is not terrible, but what about a group of mad people? Millions of bloodthirsty mad undead wandering in the city, what kind of terrible sight is that!

Even for Ling Mo himself, even if he relies on the zombie puppet ability, and with a mutated zombie like Ye Lian next to him, the combat couple stands no chance against a group of chargers. Reflecting back at the revolving door in the commercial building, even if they used the advantage of environment to wipe out that group of zombies, causalities still occurred among the group. And Ling Mo thought to himself, in that situation, if there were only himself and Ye Lian, they would have perished that day. If it wasn't for the crazy fighting Shana...

Shana!

Only instinct could provide an explanation as to why Ling Mo bolted out of bed, threw aside his blanket, and dashed towards Shana.

Just this moment, Shana who was under the watch of Ye Lian, suddenly opened her eyes....

Chapter 32 Bipolar

It was midnight in the pitch black room when Shana opened her eyes after being almost vegetative.

Also at a distance, Ling Mo could already see Shana's pair of nearly glowing red eyes. More concerning to him, however, was the observation that Ye Lian appeared almost restless. Ling Mo learned to trust the instincts from a mutated zombie such as herself as a warning signal.

Was Shana fully mutated? Ling Mo carefully approached, waiting with bated breath to observe more carefully at Shana's reaction.

But just as he walked to the bed, Shana suddenly stood up, in the almost-pitch-darkness, instantly rushed over and effortlessly dashed towards Ling Mo.

If it were normal people standing against such a charge, they would have only felt a rustling in the air before they would be sliced into ribbons. In the dark, zombies are much stronger than average people, and in terms of vision, they hold absolute advantage.

Ling Mo naturally could not clearly visualize Shana's movements in the pitch black room, but he could feel Ye Lian's actions and thoughts, and by proxy, have his eye trained on Shana, enabling him to predict Shana's move. Ling Mo immediately rolled sideways as Shana leaped, and Ye Lian who was quietly sitting on the bed also suddenly jumped out from behind and grabbed Shana's arm from behind. Although Shana's reaction is super fast, and immediately turned to attack Ye Lian, Ling Mo has already recovered from his evasive dodge, and picked up Shana to hurl her under the bed.

This is zombies' weakness, it is lack of judgment, they only know how to attack with instincts, and very easy to be diverted of attention.

It was only after restraining Shana that Ling Mo realized as his heart skipped a beat that Shana was fully mutated. Ling Mo was thankful that Ye Lian had grabbed her arm to distract her so he could recover from his roll, otherwise he would have been pulverized on the spot.

Ling Mo reached under Shana's bed and yanked her arms out. But just as Ling Mo turned her over, and ready to manipulate her, Shana suddenly spoke out in a somewhat confused, but wholly human voice, whispered: "what are you doing??"

Ling Mo leaped back in shock.

If he has not just seen Shana's super strong attacking power, Ling Mo could have thought that Shana is still a normal person!

Under the shock, Ling Mo somewhat confused and looked at Shana's pair of eyes, and found out that that pair of eyes that were bloody-red a moment ago right now returned to the normal state!

Even in the darkness, Ling Mo could still make up a vague impression of her face. Ling Mo felt thunderstruck at seeing Shana's drastic reversion into what is seemingly a human face after believing that he had lost her to the zombies.

Ling Mo has seen this sudden gaze of clarity and consciousness prior to the cusp of evolution of Ye Lian. It both seemed like regaining a faint trace of consciousness, and also almost like a budding of thinking, a trait far distinct from a zombie who was trained to only kill. Even though that look soon disappeared from Ye Lian's eyes and was lost till this day, it has stubbornly carved itself into Ling Mo's memories. This means to Ling Mo, it's kind of a hope, a hope that he looks forward that Ye Lian will be able to completely regain her consciousness some day!

But right now, he even saw the same expression in Shana's eyes, and different from Ye Lian at that moment is that she still knows how to talk...

"Shana? Shana???" Ling Mo took quite a while to start talking again, and quickly grabbed the shoulders of Shana and rattled a few times, whispered rapidly.

The movements inside the bedroom has also alerted Wang Cheng who was on duty in the living room, even awakened Liu Yu Hao.

"Big brother Ling! Did something happen to Shana?" Liu Yu Hao anxiously asked repeatedly outside the door.

Ling Mo said without turning his head back: "Do not come in!"

Not even Ling Mo knew what happened to Shana, who was exhibiting the clarity of a human, but still possessing the aggressiveness of a mutated zombie. Letting these two inexperienced survivors in is sure to cause even more unnecessary chaos.

Shana gathered herself and began to rouse herself, apparently being roused by Ling Mo's shaking, but she did not answer Ling Mo. Instead, she began to frantically struggle to stand up, her eyes has once again become bloody-red. That sense of fierce rage that belonged to zombies once again occupied her mind.

Ling Mo needed to act fast before she started to attack again. He quickly let Ye Lian firmly grasp Shana, and he is using the zombie puppet ability trying to control Shana. She must not be allowed to continue to mutate like this, it will eventually be lose-lose, it is necessary to stop her from attacking anyone.

As Ling Mo began to merge his consciousness with Shana's, he saw something that was astounding. Shana's consciousness seemed to be rapidly switching between the rage-fueled zombie state, as well as a free-thinking human state! Right now, it's obvious that the violent component is having the upper advantage, and Shana has become extremely violent because of this. Even her consciousness was violently resisting Ling Mo's attempts at controlling it, reacting with unprecedented pressure.

Fortunately, Ling Mo's spirit of power has evolved several times, although very difficult, but when Ling Mo was almost at the point of collapse, he finally suppressed Shana's instinct and seized control of Shana's body!

But because Shana is still behaving with some sanity, Ling Mo did not decide to forcibly and completely control her, but just like he controlled Ye Lian before, he only maintained a spiritual connection with her. This way, he would be able to rapidly mentally restrain Shana if she ever reverts to this mutated zombie state.

Finally, Shana quieted down. Ling Mo looked down at himself and saw his whole body has been soaked by the sweat after this work out. Ling Mo slowly removed himself from the bed while rubbing his temples, eyes looking at Shana perplexedly.

Shana's current situation where she suddenly is a zombie, and suddenly showing a trace of rational ways, allowed Ling Mo unconsciously thought of a word: "schizophrenia."

The two brain gels she swallowed obviously had something to do with her current state. As Shana started to mutate and structurally deform under the load of the virus, the gels stopped her body from falling apart like the late Lu Xin. Instead, the virus must have been redirected into her brain, causing degeneration of consciousness and sanity. A truly bittersweet outcome!

Ling Mo, still extremely cautious, decided to forcibly control Shana's body movements for the moment. Controlled by Ling Mo, and her desire to attack being forcibly smothered, Shana once again calmed down, even that pair of eyes has slowly returned back to normal. However, her eyes were extremely hazy, almost as if she was in a semi-conscious trance. Even so, to maintain control against her under this condition Ling Mo still spends a lot of his strength.

Of course under the current situation, it's already good that she could maintain spiritual connection with him, but to control her actions would be difficult.

Controlling another mutated zombie, a somewhat schizophrenic zombie, this to Ling Mo is really a huge pressure.

Liu Yu Hao could not wait another second, being overwhelmed by temptation and rushed in. His jaw dropped at the sight of the bedroom.

His eyes glazed over the damaged bed, and stared at Shana, who was apparently peacefully sitting in bed. Liu Yu Hao suddenly exclaimed with surprise: "Shana did not become a zombie, she actually did not become a zombie! Ha ha ha, Shana!" As he said, he rushed before Shana, excited trying to reach out and embrace her.

"Don't touch her!!!"

But Ling Mo was still a step late, as Liu Yu Hao's hand brushed by Shana's arm, Shana who was previously unconscious suddenly turned violent again, her eyes glowing a bright crimson. If she wasn't tightly restrained by Ling Mo, she would have most likely started to attack Liu Yu Hao.

Liu Yu Hao was horrified and stepped a few steps backwards, then looked at Ling Mo with a terrified look, his heart beating in his throat: "what is going on?!?"

Ling Mo cannot tell him that he is currently mind controlling Shana, otherwise he would fear that Liu Yu Hao will go insane as well. Fortunately, he quickly thought of another answer "I guess she is still in the aftermath of infection, and is very mentally unstable ....you better not mess with her, otherwise she would lose her sanity for good."

"Like a hangover?" Liu Yu Hao widened his eyes, but did not have slightest doubt for Ling Mo's words.

Indeed, there is no better explanation that could better explain Shana's current situation. And right now Shana's eyes revealed bloodthirsty breath, and appeared no different from an ordinary bloodthirsty and savage zombie. But Ling Mo did not feel any desire to leap out and strike, suggesting to him that Shana was consciously suppressing the urge to attack.

Chapter 33 Survivor Group

All through the night, Shana was alternating between sane and mad, interspersed with a few spells of deep stupor. Finally, in the morning, she appeared to be somewhat more stable.

But just as Ling Mo feared, the current Shana did become a zombie, but at the same time still have a trace of reason. The current Shana is only a line away from zombies, but the strength is already much stronger than the ordinary zombies.

Thanks to Liu Yu Hao's foolish actions last night, Ling Mo realized that there was indeed a pattern to Shana's current bipolar situation. Normally, Shana would exist in a seemingly human form, being able to reason and mumble out a few words, albeit at a much lower mental capacity. But when she has encountered something stressful or physically threatening, she will immediately lose those shreds of reason, and transform into a vicious and murderous zombie.

But under Ling Mo's manipulation, her mood gradually stabilized, and does not hold strong hostility towards Liu Yu Hao and Wang Cheng. But because of the special spiritual connection between her and Ling Mo, it seems that the people closest to Shana is Ling Mo.

For example right now, Shana is staring blankly at Ling Mo, one hand tightly pulling him...

"Shana, do you recognize me?" After crying out her name hundreds of times, Shana did maintained impression to her own name, she will react as long as someone calls. But that was as far as she could respond to someone talking. Ask her a question, and you would get nothing but a stupefied expression.

But Shana has demonstrated strong interest to her own long knife, whenever seeing Shana holding the long knife, somewhat sluggish and in the state of confusion, then suddenly grabbed at the scabbard of the sword, that sense of momentum is even stronger than the prior Shana!

But then she refused to put down her long knife, and Ling Mo always felt that Shana is the same as Ye Lian, they should all have the opportunity to completely regain sanity, therefore he did not force her to give up the long knife. As long as there is obsession, it's much better than completely reduced to senseless zombies.

It can be said that in Shana's current situation, it completely firmed Ling Mo's confidence. Zombies are indeed terrible, but the culprit behind the zombies is after all, the virus. And from the current situation, Ling Mo already has a mind forming. With the continuous evolution of virus, zombie's strength will continue to grow, and at the same time, they will eventually grow into rational monsters! Shana's situation illustrates this point! She absorbed too much virus at one point, and appeared to the current state, and Ye Lian who after evolution also show signs of senses.

Therefore different from Liu Yu Hao who is in the mood of grief, Ling Mo right now is full of energy!

"Big brother Ling.....Shana's current state right now..." Liu Yu Hao right now is afraid of getting too close to Shana, he could only sit far on the sidelines, watching every move of Shana. It's not difficult to tell from his expression that, he is not only filled with doubts, but also feel sad for Shana.

Any normal person, would not want to become zombies, even if not so completely...

Ling Mo deeply looked at him, said: "instead of letting Shana die, or turn into something like Lu Xin, don't you think that the result have been very fortunate?"

"This...." Liu Yu Hao's face emerged a hint of hesitation, then nodded heavily, "yes, right now at least is better than dead.....and at least she is not showing hostility to big brother Ling."

As he said the last sentence, Liu Yu Hao's tone is somewhat bitter. Ling Mo did not tell him about his ability to control zombies. Therefore Liu Yu Hao thought that Shana is close to Ling Mo is completely out of her instincts, but happens to not have any memory to this comrade who has been fighting side by side, this of course made Liu Yu Hao a little heartbroken.

"Uh...." Ling Mo rubbed his nose, said, "maybe, I am talking that perhaps, Shana will slowly recover her senses."

"What?" Liu Yu Hao is surprised, no longer having a depressed air, suddenly locked his eyes on Ling Mo's face.

Ling Mo slowly said: "as you have seen, Shana right now is different than those ordinary zombies, you could not say that she completely still have her senses, but at least not completely controlled by instincts. This situation probably never occurred on any zombies before....But no matter what, as long as her rational ability is not completely erased, then there is hope to restore. But this time frame might be short, or it might be long."

What he said were all predictions, but Liu Yu Hao's eyes have already become extremely hot!

"Hope is good! But...right now Shana only sees you...." After the excitement, Liu Yu Hao then again became depressed. With Shana's current situation, he could not even be too close to her, not to mention be the same as before.

Just as Ling Mo was going to reply, he suddenly saw Wang Cheng running like a trail of smoke, then stopped at a place that is quite far away from Shana, said with a joyous face: "there are people on the street! Survivors!"

"Survivors?"

Following Wang Cheng to the balcony, Ling Mo see through from the window, and of course see the survivors.

But after one look, Ling Mo could not help but twitch his eyes. There is not only one survivor down there, but an entire survivor group!

There are about twenty young women and men, all carrying different kinds of backpacks and holding all kinds of weapons at hand. They seem like they have been searching for food from early morning, but right now was attacked by dozens of zombies. After watching for a while, Ling Mo realized that even though this group of people are normal people, but there are a few young men with very good combat ability, and they attack much more viciously than others.

But what made Ling Mo pay attention is that, is there methods of killing zombies. Those few young men rushed at the very front, the rest of the people is scattered around, using the automobiles as cover and started to deal with zombies. Even though their combat abilities are not very strong, but they become horned into each other, take care of each other, even if they could not confront the zombies like those young men, but they could get rid zombies one by one during the process.

Seeing here, Ling Mo could not help but want to call out good, this kind of team in his perspective is the real survivor group.

But they are after all does not have enough battle personnel, in a place like zombie dense area, they are soon in the state of danger. Attracted by blood, more and more zombies from all directions drilled out and lunged wildly at them. And after these people persisted for a little bit, they had to stop the battle and retreat, eventually they actually retreated into this area, and directly toward the building where Ling Mo and his people is staying!

Soon, there came the muffled “bang” sound from downstairs, obviously these people have already rushed into the safety staircase. But soon after a loud sound immediately came over, it is those zombies crazily hitting the staircase door. Listen to the sound it seems that not for long, the staircase door will be forced open, at that time a group of zombies will swarm inside, and Ling Mo and his people who are hiding inside the house may also be in danger.

At this time the best way is to hide in the house and not making a sound, but with the sound of messy footsteps, Ling Mo suddenly somewhat despondent.

These people, they actually came upstairs, and they even rushed into the corridor on the second floor!

Chapter 34 To jump off building or not?

In fact, it is not difficult to understand when these survivors fled into this building; their reason is probably the same when Ling Mo and his people chose here. First of all, this building is the closest to the door, and it also has the best geographical conditions here. One side is the artificial creek; the other side is the Fountain Square, which has a certain distance between the surrounding houses. This way they will not fall into a zombie horde, and still have several escape routes.

Most likely this group of people wanted to go through this building to temporarily break free of the horde, then try to take the opportunity to escape from the other side of it.

But as soon as these people stepped on second floor, followed by a loud noise from downstairs, the door was apparently completely broke down. This movement and their footsteps also immediately lured out zombies that were hiding within the building. Then, a cacophony of chaos erupted from the hallway down the floor, sounds of flesh being stabbed and screaming of survivors being ripped apart by the zombies greeted Ling Mo and the rest of his group.

Ling Mo quietly walked to the door, looked out through the cat hole, and saw these people have retreated to a suite diagonally opposite, and quickly locked the door, a large group of zombies is densely packed in the corridor, frantically charging at the door. The sound of tearing and chewing are amongst it, Ling Mo guess that they must have appeared causalities, and now the corridor should also be full of corpses, zombies and human alike.

Retreating into a suite like this will not hold off the zombies forever; most likely that group of people is planning to jump off the building to escape. That would be a good way to attract the zombies that were chasing into the staircase, then jump out of here, so even if not to completely throw off the zombies, they still acquired enough time to escape.

To jump off from the second floor is actually quite dangerous, but Ling Mo knows that it's all grass field outside of this building, as long as you are not particularly unlucky, should not be able to broke your leg. Especially in this kind of emergency situation, is not easy to find another foolproof solution. Coming up an apartment meant that you have just cut off your routes to escape to only the stairwells, which has been rendered impossible by all the zombies clamouring about, or out a window.

"What should we do, big brother Ling, should we help?" Hearing the sound from outside, Liu Yu Hao walked to Ling Mo's side with an extremely fearful expression, whispered.

Ling Mo looked at him sideways, said: "there are at least thirty zombies outside, as soon as we open the door we will be turned into human hamburgers with extra giblets, how can we possibly help them??"

Liu Yu Hao is suddenly speechless, and Ling Mo is secretly shaking his head in his heart. Liu Yu Hao has a heart of gold, and would never let someone suffer in his eyes. But that means that he does not know when to back off, and let people go. Sure it may make Ling Mo sound like a heartless jerk, but sometimes you have to save yourself first.

But hearing more and more zombies outside the door, some zombies even started to bang on the door here, Ling Mo's face suddenly becomes somewhat gloomy: "we cannot stay here, let's go."

Zombies hitting the door does not necessarily mean that they found Ling Mo's trail, but in the temporary loss of the target, and stimulated by the smell of blood where they reacted extremely violently. Not only banging on the door at Ling Mo's place, but also the other doors are also being struck.

Wang Cheng has already been scared to death by the movement outside, at this time he subconsciously asked one thing: "from where do we go?"

"Down!"

But even though saying words like this, Ling Mo will not rashly jump off the building unless it is absolutely their last course of action. If they land and break a leg, they become sitting ducks. Fortunately he has used furniture to block the door last night, at this time even though the doors were knocked with "bang bang" ringing. The barrier appeared to be too sturdy to break down, but the zombies were piling up at their door, finally realizing that there are survivors within. Time is running out for Ling Mo.

Ling Mo quickly dug out a climbing rope from the backpack which was salvaged from breaking down a barrier from a general store, he never imagined it would be useful up until now.

He quickly tied it into a knot, then fixed it after, Ling Mo then manipulated Ye Lian and Shana went down first grabbing the rope. The second floor is not high, and the window air conditioning unit can also be used to break their fall, plus these two zombie sisters skill is much more flexible than average person, they soon dropped to the ground and immediately started to clear the area of zombies nearby for Ling Mo and his people.

Liu Yu Hao's face is white as a sheet, and he insisted to not go first, Ling Mo yanked on the rope twice to check if it's steady, then grabbed the rope to jump on the air conditioning unit, then rappelling down, jumped down and let go of the rope when there he is still one meter above the ground.

Soon followed by Wang Cheng, and at last when Liu Yu Hao is jumping, zombies finally breached the barricade and forced the door open, several zombies directly rushed to the window and did not hesitate to jump down.

But how could zombies know how to use the rope, as soon as they jumped down, they fell flat face first on the floor. More zombies rushed out the window and landed on the crushed zombie corpses, charging to attack. Ling Mo and Ye Lian did not give them the opportunity for them to get far. Shana's eyes immediately turned red as she started to attack, but Ling Mo's scalp went numb, quickly strengthened control over her, and not letting her to continue attack.

"Go. Now!!"

In the blink of an eye there are soon several more zombie bodies on the ground, it is conceivable that soon the entire horde will divert their attention at them, thus Ling Mo immediately brought Ye Lian and the rest to bolt away towards the side entrance of the district, which was relatively less populated by zombies.

But just as they went along this residential building to the back of the lane, they bumped into that group of survivors!

These people jumped from the other side, their target was also to escape from the side door.

As soon as Ling Mo saw this group of people, he realized with a sinking feeling that they must have attracted the horde over. But only a few isolated zombies found them, and the rest of the horde remained at the back of the apartment.

"You..." One of the young men is running in front, most likely opening the road, therefore immediately seeing Ling Mo and his people, suddenly exclaimed loudly. Most likely they never thought that there are still survivors in this residential building, and much less coincidentally bumping into them.

Ling Mo rolled his eyes; taking advantage that these people are left behind at the rear, to quickly escape is a serious matter. Who knows what kind of methods they used, that group of zombies did not appear for a while. When Ling Mo brought Ye Lian and his people running all the way out of the compound, then heard the movement of zombies coming over.

"Hey!" The young man from before still is persistent, panting and called out to Ling Mo and his people.

Been forced to give up their temporary foothold this early in the morning, Ling Mo's expression is not looking very good, and his tone is also unhappy: "what?"

"That....."The young man was by no means stupid, as soon as he opened his mouth he started to apologize, "sorry, we didn't know that you guys are here, we dragged you down. This is not the place to talk, how about come with us to our camp?"

Camp? This group of people still has a camp?

Ling Mo suddenly showed a hint of surprised looks, originally he wanted to refuse, but then he glimpsed at Liu Yu Hao standing behind him.

Of course, he does not want to go to any kind of survivor camp, what with him having a growing posse of zombies behind his every step. Wang Cheng's life and death he also does not care, but Liu Yu Hao this person gave Ling Mo good impression. But his personality decided that Ling Mo could not keep him by his side. The best result is to let Liu Yu Hao find a good place to go, with the survivors.

Chapter 35 Deuce in broad daylight

The young man anxiously looked at Ling Mo, realizing that he would be the leader of the group.

"Where is your camp?" Ling Mo frowned and asked after a long moment of silence.

The young man probably did not expect Ling Mo to hesitate so much when being asked to join him. Any ordinary people encountering another survivor group will all rushed up like gummy bear (editor's note: means to stick together like glue)! The reason of why he invited Ling Mo and his people is that partly because he felt guilty for driving them out of their hiding spot, on the other hand, he is somewhat surprised by the combat ability by Ling Mo and his people.

Although on the road to the direction of the side door, there weren't that many zombies, but there is always a few coming out to block the way. Originally the young man thought that they would not stand a chance, and would have to sacrifice a few survivors just to get past those zombies.

But to their great surprise is that, this seemingly very weak team of strangers-two strange looking red-eyed girls, two teenagers, and one young man are exceptionally strong! These scattered zombies did not even cause the slightest effect on them! A group of people like this one is obviously not a burden, but well worth any food they want!

"District Ginkgo! How about it, would you like to join us back to the camp?" The young man somewhat eagerly asked.

District Ginkgo is not very far away from here; just two blocks detour to go. But this gang evidently seemed just left camp, why go back so soon? In such matters, Ling Mo did not intend to conceal and opened his mouth to ask.

Young man quickly said: "you are mistaken, we came out two days ago, gathering supplies in this neighborhood, originally we planned to take the risk and look for something today around this area, but did not think that here is really the tiger and dragon's den (indicating full of zombies). Right now we are set back, we intend to immediately return, to avoid greater injury to persons."

That's why...Ling Mo nodded and looked back at Ye Lian and Shana. At the moment Shana is emotionally stable, same as Ye Lian where one could not tell that she was truly a zombie from appearances, but for safety reasons, Ling Mo quickly manipulated Ye Lian and pulled out a cap to wear on Shana.

This little movement did not rouse the attention of the young man, because at the same time, Ling Mo was speaking with him.

"Well, then we will go back to camp with you."

"Great! Let's go." Young man showed a hint of joy, to the camp, newcomers generally mean two cases. First, one more mouths to feed, second, an extra boost. Ling Mo and his people are clearly the latter, regardless of the place these people are welcome anywhere.

The people of this team did not object to Ling Mo and his people's joining, most of the people even nodded at them, to show welcome. A closer look at these people allowed Ling Mo having a much more intuitive understanding. There are both men and women in this group, they all seemed very young, the oldest is only in his early thirties, youngest looked about fifteen o sixteen.

Although just experienced a life and death battle, but these people do not look frightened, just their forehead is covered with sweat, showing tiredness. The only one that had a heavy expression is a girl in her twenties, her eyes were red, but did not shed tears.

In the process of advancing with these people, Ling Mo heard that young man whispered a few words of comfort to that girl, then he knows that girl's elder brother was one step late in jumping off the building while he was trying to delay the zombies, and was pulled back in front of her eyes to the window. He's probably no more than a skeleton now.

Intend to give up the search for supplies; the group then detoured to a small alley from the main street. Ling Mo also had some doubts, but the young man who was leading the way seems to be very familiar with the route, then he put down some of his doubts.

There are not that many zombies within the alley, because this alley is caught in the middle of two buildings, both side have fences, and except the occasional scrap vehicles, there is little obstacles. After walking through this alley for about five minutes, these people then turned on to a narrow street, and more zombies also appeared.

The group's organized way of fighting, coupled with Ling Mo from time to time reduce stress for them, it did not take very long to go through this street. Soon, this group of people arrived at Ginkgo District. Compared to the high-end residential building across The Third High, even though Ginkgo District is also a luxury real estate, but was only repaired recently, not many people stayed formally, this also means that a relatively clean environment, and fewer zombies within the district.

But at the gate there are still a small amount of zombies, this is entirely determined by the location, what can we do when there is a busy commercial street near it...

The young man said that their camp is situated in an elevator apartment within the district. This apartment's gate was constructed well, can also play a protective role, although it will be useless if facing a large horde, but it is no problem to withstand a small amount of zombies. And there are people guarding right behind the gate, seeing the young man brought back a few strangers they only looked at Ling Mo and his people with a few judging looks, and did not say anything else.

"Our people here have to take turns on duty, and there are also people upstairs to watch, if the situation is going south, they will organize us to evacuate or conceal." The young men seeing that Ling Mo seemed to be curious, he explained voluntarily.

Walked the second floor along the backup staircase, these people then entered a residential site. To Ling Mo's surprise, there are no one living here, only a bespectacled woman helped these people to take down the bag, took out a notebook, making detailed records while counting the inventory brought back by these people.

"You guys wait for a bit." After the young man accounted Ling Mo for one sentence, then he took off his own backpack, Ling Mo stood by the door for a bit, and found out that these people did brought back quite a lot of things. In addition to a variety of goods, there are a mess of drugs, clothes, and even some female products.

After that woman finished indexing the goods, he let the young man signed then indicated that they could leave. And those supplies were all categorized by her, and moved inside the room. Ling Mo looked from a distance, realized that bedroom has been converted into a warehouse, glimpsing between the opening and closing of the doors he could see that the supplies deposited in there is not small.

Young man came out with a smile: "you see, I did not had the time to tell you that in fact, I am not qualified to permit you guys to join, we had to ask the big boss . But don't worry; our boss is a good person. Right now I will take you guys to him!"

Ling Mo nodded indifferently, eyes suddenly flash, he asked tentatively: "what you guys just did was?"

"Oh, nothing but registration. Our people here are divided into three teams, each squad turns out to search for materials, it is necessary to register storage when back here, then signed by the captain. By the way, my name is Li Yu, the captain of team two. "Li Yu's eyes flashed a hint of proudness.

When other people came out from the storage, they all returned to the other residence room, and Li Yu took Ling Mo to the third floor.

For this so-called leader, Ling Mo is still interested. After all, to establish such survivor camp within a short time, this means the boss can be considered quite the leader. It's not easy to arrange for such a rigorous style of leadership in such a chaotic time, and Ling Mo is indeed impressed that these group of survivors were able to pull it off.

Before meeting this boss, Ling Mo's mind made a lot of assumptions, but he did not think that when the door at third floor opened, appeared before his eyes turned to be a little girl that looks a little sick.

But this is not the focus.....what really let Ling Mo stared is and instantly transfixes is that, this girl, he actually know her!

That neighborhood girl, whom he thought died in Wang's handmade sword shop, is Wang Rin!

And when Wang Rin looked at him, Ling Mo almost unconsciously blurted out: "oh hell no....."

Chapter 36 Return my first time

When Ling Mo last saw Wang Rin, he thought that he had left her for dead with the mutated zombies. His last thoughts of her was that delicate beautiful girl being turned into a pile of bones as her flesh was being ripped apart by the horde. He could not have expected that he would actually see Wang Rin alive, much less here at the same camp!

And Wang Rin also blandly looked up, about to give the standard introductory talks to yet another group of survivors. But after seeing the group of people standing by the door, she immediately widened her eyes, her whole body "teng" jumped up from the chair, a slender arm lifted up, pointing them, she tightly and tensely said: "you you you..."

"Hey, you guys know big sister Wang Rin?" Li Yu's surprisingly asked, having no idea of their past relationships.

Big sister?! This girl who looked at most seventeen or eighteen years old, you big man is calling her big sister? Ling Mo still did not completely recover, then went into a shock, his eyes looked to Li Yu also suddenly become somewhat incredulous.

Li Yu blushed after looking at Ling Mo, he whispered: "big sister Rin is very strong, sometimes even the boss could not control her, last time she even took the boss back to home....."

Before he was finished, Wang Rin has took a deep breath, strangely returned to calmness, she walked slowly in front of Ling Mo and his people, with some strange eyes, one by one looked at them.

Just as Ling Mo is still trying to think of a way to open the conversation, Wang Rin has already spoken with a slight tone of disdain: "yo, Shana, you are still not dead ah?"

Ling Mo's heart suddenly made a "thump" sound! He was too much in shock the moment before; he forgot that this chick is Shana's relative! But listen to Wang Rin's cold tone, it seems like she have some faint hostility towards Shana? But think about her expression a moment ago, it was obviously very excited, but when she spoke, it has turned to be very cold. This Wang Rin, must really hate her guts!

Hearing someone shouting her name, Shana actually gave little reaction. Her dazed eyes turned toward Wang Rin, after glancing back, she actually silently looked away.

This is not because of her haughty attitude, but the after effects after been infected and become a zombie.

But Wang Rin knew nothing, seeing Shana giving this reaction, suddenly emerged a hint of anger: "being an ice queen? Sure, people like you will never die, but seeing I am still alive, don't you feel very disappointed?"

Obviously Shana will not answer, and Ling Mo is suddenly showing a hint of a strange look.

But listening to Wang Rin's tone, it's not only sour, but still seemed a bit aggravated?

Was it because that Shana's reaction is too calm after seeing her? But if it's Ye Lian, Ling Mo could still manipulate her to suggest some reaction, such as nodding and shaking her head, but Shana.....be able to suppress her and not attack randomly is already good, he could only make her follow him by forcibly controlling her movements. Even though she is not a mutated zombie, but the difficulty of manipulation is not any lower than mutated zombies, but even more complicated.

Had Ling Mo's spiritual power not gone through evolution, he really could not be able to control both Ye Lian and Shana at the same time, much less continue it at non-stop.

Shana is not speaking, Wang Rin gave another heavy cold sneer, looking at Ling Mo and his people, her expression has become even more bitter: "who the f*** are you guys?"

Ling Mo suddenly froze for a moment, but then he showed a hint of smile. He indeed remembered this chick, even felt a bit sad for her supposed "death", but never thought this chick completely did not know himself! He was glad that she did not go Lu Xian's route and try to exact vengeance on him.

It's no wonder, no matter from which point of view, Ling Mo is the most normal person, thrown into the crowd and no one would take another look. Even though this chick met with him face to face a few times, but it's normal to not remember. Since he is just a nondescript ordinary person?

On the contrary Liu Yu Hao suddenly said with a little surprise: "Rin....seems like Shana has a cousin named Wang Rin!"

"Humph!" Wang Rin gave an unhappy cold cry, looked at Shana sideways, seeing that Shana is still not showing any reactions, her eyes suddenly expressing fire. But just she was about to get angry; she suddenly caught the short knife by Ling Mo's waist.

This time her attention immediately shifted away from Shana to Ling Mo. From the start when Ling Mo walked in, Wang Rin did not see him properly, but right now is locking her eyes on Ling Mo's body: "hey, you are the one that stole my short knife! How could you be with Shana?"

"Steal? What is stealing! In the end of the world, a completely abandoned shop, anyone could walk in. Or else you want to say that mutated zombie is the owner?

But Wang Rin seemed to be indicating something else! Could it be that on the day when he went into the Wang's handmade sword shop, this chick is hiding somewhere and peeping?

Ling Mo is still thinking, when he looked towards Wang Rin's eyes, it seemed to reveal this kind of meaning.

"See what! Right, give me back my knife! I made it, how dare you taunt me by holding it right in front of my eyes!" Wang Rin stared at Ling Mo once, then barked very bluntly.

Return back the knife? At first Ling Mo was stunned, then his shocking expression slowly faded away, replaced by a little touch of indifference, and some gloomy. Indeed, Wang Rin initially made this cold knife, but it was Ling Mo who took the risk and pried it out of a mutated zombie's cold claws for it! Right now this chick is standing before him with a breeze, extending her hand to ask him to return back the knife, where could you find something this cheap?

Moreover, for this knife, Ling Mo had already paid a certain "price," and that is helping Shana and her people break into The Third High. Reasonable in the circumstances, he does not owe Wang Rin anything.

Looking at Wang Rin with an impatient look, Ling Mo somewhat coldly asked: " why should I return it to you?"

Wang Rin was suddenly stunned, and Li Yu on the side is looking at Ling Mo with a somewhat baffled look, secretly tugged Ling Mo's sleeve: "this is big sister Wang Rin's treasured blade, you dare to keep it? Return it to her at once." His expression right now is filled with regret, if he knew that the people he brought back would get into conflict with Wang Rin at first meeting, he would not have bothered.

But Ling Mo only gave a grunt, and did not answer. But his expression is clearly indicating his resolve. This short knife, he will not take it out.

"What do you mean by why??" After Wang Rin returned to her senses, she immediately said with a raging tone, "this knife is originally made by me, and it is the first finished product that I am satisfied! You went into my family's shop, took the knife I made, how could it be any different than a thief? Right now the owner is asking you to return it, and you dare to ask why??"

Wang Rin's cold tone is making Ling Mo feeling very uncomfortable. A deep sense of superiority, and there was that high above the momentum all showing that this seemingly sick chick, exudes sheer style in her command.

Not to mention Ling Mo, even Liu Yu Hao's eyes looked to Wang Rin have become somewhat unhappy. His is secretly thinking in his heart that even though they are cousins, but Wang Rin is much less compared to Shana....

As for Wang Cheng, he is somewhat looking at Wang Rin warily, and quietly went back a step or two. He did not want to be involved in this dispute. Wang Rin seemed to have some status in this survivor camp, but Ling Mo's strength also left Wang Cheng a deep impression these two days.

He even had the feeling that though Wang Rin spoke very bluntly, her look also seemed vicious, but Ling Mo will not buy it....

But at this time, the inside door suddenly opened, and a man about thirty walked out. He was clearly alarmed by Wang Rin's brawl, as soon as he walked out he asked depressingly: "Wang Rin, who are you with in a argument again?"

Seeing Ling Mo and his people, this man suddenly froze for a moment, especially when he saw Shana, his expression becomes somewhat wonderful.

The same as when Ling Mo saw Wang Rin, this man's eyes looked towards Shana also seemed like seeing a ghost.

"This...Wang Rin's cousin...a few days when we went to her house, weren't' there no more living people?" The man blurted out, without noticing that Wang Rin's ugly face stared at him.

Ling Mo's brows raised, he thought in his heart that maybe this girl is really cold outside but warm inside towards Shana...

But this does not mean that Ling Mo will be impressed, no matter what, something he took risk to acquire he will not return it back to Wang Rin.

"You are also here!" The man quickly turned to Ling Mo, and spoke to him as if he already knew Ling Mo, "that day when you killed that mutated zombie, I also seen that, you are very powerful! Did not think that you would be coming to our camp with Wang Rin's cousin...this beauty is the one that were with you that day right?"

Then Li Yu also timely interrupted: "this is our big boss Song. Boss, these people are the ones we met at The Third High district."

"What boss, just call me Song Tian." Song Tian smiled.

Ling Mo deliberately ignored Wang Rin who is glaring at his eyes, also smiled and said: "I am Ling Mo, with Shana....and Wang Rin's cousin is....."

Speaking to here, Ling Mo himself is somewhat tangled, right now Shana is a bona fide zombie, if Ling Mo slips up for a second she will be a monster. But with Shana's strength, and his hearts some faint trace of bearing, Ling Mo does not want to give up on Shana.

Therefore Shana's relationship and him should temporarily be...."Friends, I am Shana's friend. And these two boys are Shana's classmates." Ling Mo said.

"It really is fate!" Song Tian literally clapped his hands, and his face emerged a hint of embarrassed look, "Wang Rin, you still miss your knife?"

"Of course!" Wang Rin's brow rose, said with a natural course, "it's Ling Mo right? Hurry up and return me my knife!"

"No!" Ling Mo also answered firmly, "this knife is made by you, but it was me who took the risk and got it out. You say you want it now, this is really gangster logic?"

Hearing Ling Mo rejected her directly, Wang Rin's face immediately turned very ugly.

But Song Tian laughed " Haha", spoke with some rounds, "Wang Rin, knock it out, we will talk about the knife case later, you finally see your cousin, why don't we ask them to stay first. What do you say, Mr. Ling?"

Chapter 37 To trade a person with the knife

Song Tian has a plain and ordinary face, but his body is very tall and burly, his stance vaguely showing off his military experience. Although Wang Rin appears to be cold and arrogant, she seemed to listen to Song Tian's words, therefore right now she only gave a cold sneer, then turned away and shut her mouth.

But her eyes still occasionally looked back at Ling Mo with derision, sometimes also stared at Shana impatiently. Unfortunately, neither Ling Mo nor Shana responded to her disapproving looks.

After asking Li Yu about the situation, Song Tian then sent him away, then invited Ling Mo and his people into his "office".

After all he is the camp leader, his room on the third floor was much more upscale than the rest of the survivor's dorms downstairs, not only is it renovated and furnished, it seemed that the rooms were well maintained even as the zombie apocalypse rolled through the area. And Song Tian's bedroom is one of the bedrooms that were fully cleaned. The excess furniture were all removed, leaving only bed and desk, and also stood a four-seater sofa.

Wang Rin also followed inside, with a look of unhappy expression she slouched over on the bed.

"Sit down, don't worry it's all been cleaned." Song Tian himself also leaned on the desk, motioning the crowd to sit down on the sofa. But his last sentence gave Liu Yu Hao and Wang Cheng a hint of strange look.

Song Tian's sentence clearly meant that someone just died on the sofa, or was killed...

But after many days fighting and killing in the end of the world, even Wang Cheng had already cultivated a psychological resistance against death during these two days. He could sit among the corpses, not to mention a sofa in which someone died on it.

"Li Yu also said a moment ago, it was my team's people that dragged you guys down, I am really sorry about it."

Hearing Song Tian opened his mouth to apologize, Wang Rin immediately gave a dissatisfied and bitter grunt on the side.

Ling Mo originally wanted to say something to make up with the boss, but seeing Wang Rin's reaction, he suddenly gave a sneer remark and said: "we were originally living well over there, as soon as your people got there, we were forced to give up the place to the horde. It's not big deal of switching places, but it's regretting that the supplies in which we waste a lot of effort in gathering were all left in there."

After listening to Ling Mo's words, Liu Yu Hao and Wang Cheng's expression all became somewhat puzzled. They did leave in a hurry, but besides a climbing rope, Ling Mo should not have lost anything right? He said this kind of thing at this time; did he want the other party to compensate? Don't forget, here is their camp, and in the apocalypse, supplies are much more important than lives, even if Song Tian's attitude seemed to be very gentle, but to ask him to compensate with supplies, then it is somewhat far fetched.

But the things they could thought of, how could Ling Mo not? Since he dared to open his mouth with outrageous remarks, then he must have something to back his words on.

First, there is the presence of Shana, if Song Tian wants to do something violent, then Wang Rin will not allow him therefore they won't have too ugly arguments about it. Second of all is that they have the combat ability as a backup resort. Not to mention Ling Mo himself, just Shana and Ye Lian these two female zombies, they are enough to deal quite considerable damage to the camp. Even though there are some people among this camp that can hold their own in a fight, but compared to two mutated zombies and Ling Mo, they stand little chance.

Most importantly, Ling Mo, despite appearing to be brutal, did not want to rob the place.

After he finished, he especially glanced at Wang Rin, and Song Tian immediately and accurately catches this glance.

Ling Mo's intention is clear; you guys dragged me down, caused me to lost my supplies, and even asked me for my knife back!

Song Tian suddenly feels some headaches. That day, the scene in which Ling Mo killed mutated zombie is still fresh in his mind, therefore he is somewhat afraid of Ling Mo's strength. Because of this, he temporarily stopped Wang Rin and intended to seek a more modest way to ask for the return of the knife. But since Ling Mo has opened his mouth, even if Song Tian has a much thicker skin, he would be too embarrassed to ask.

Assume a tough stance to insist? Even though they are at their own camp, but Song Tian worked very hard to build this kind of camp, of course he would not want to see any trouble. Since the camp is only built recently, even though it appears to look orderly, but internally there is still a lot of problems. Forcibly taking a knife from a survivor would set a horrible precedent for the rest of the survivors, as the leader is implying to encourage his followers to steal from one another.

In the end of the world, strength is the money to talk, but in the early establishment of the camp, Song Tian knew that he still need to win over the hearts of the people below with trust, not fear.

Most critical point is, as soon as Song Tian sees Ling Mo the first time, he hatched an idea, which is to make Ling Mo and his people stay! A strong person that could kill a mutated zombie single without a bead of sweat and joins the camp, it is tantamount to inject a shot in the arm (editor's note: means to get super powers)!

"I am really sorry about it...." Song Tian bit the bullet and ignored the crude shot thrown from Wang Rin, and said: "what do you propose to do, Mr. Ling...."

"Just call me Ling Mo." Ling Mo frowned carefully and paused for a moment, and said: "I know that you have a lot of people at your camp, you must also be short on supplies, I'm not going to make you guys compensate...but this short knife...."

Withstanding Wang Rin's almost killer looks, Song Tian pretended and boldly smiled: "Just a knife, it's a gift to you!"

One knife to trade a new member whom is with very good skill, it's worth it! As for Wang Rin.....no big deal but to eat her rolling eyes for a few days....

"Humph, coward!" Wang Rin angrily swore and stormed out.

Song Tian smiled awkwardly, and spoke again: "made you guys lost the place you live, and lost your supplies, I am really sorry about it. How about it, our camp is in need of hands right now, why don't you guys join us?"

Although the camp is small in size, and Song Tian's need for strong survivors is evident, but Ling Mo still somewhat admired him. But to join the camp? Come on, bringing two female zombies together with a large group of survivors day and night, this is the equivalent of dancing on the tip of knives. Moreover, two female zombies, especially Ye Lian still needs to swallow more gels to achieve evolution, there are too much restriction in joining the camp, and he still needs to hunt mutated zombies.

Therefore Ling Mo shook his head without hesitation, and said: "Thanks, but me and these two girls still have some business to complete, we cannot join you right now. But my friend right here does have some fighting skill." As he said, he turned to look at Liu Yu Hao.

This result suddenly made Song Tian very disappointed, but seeing that Ling Mo did not reject in an absolute tone, therefore Song Tian vividly felt that this business still have some hope. After all Shana is Wang Rin's cousin.

Therefore thinking here, Song Tian's disappointed look became much lighter, and looked along Ling Mo's eyes to Liu Yu Hao: "you are willing to join? What about that one?"

His second target is naturally Wang Cheng. Hearing this, Wang Cheng then glanced at Ling Mo somewhat cramped, then resolutely nodded: "I am in!"

This camp obviously is not a place to keep moths, and whole healthy bodied teenagers like him will naturally go out to search for supplies, therefore Wang Cheng's decision can be considered that he put down a lot of determination.

Not joining? Ling Mo will not feed him! Most importantly, he knew in his heart that, Shana by Ling Mo's side is actually a zombie!

Staying with a zombie from day and night, this kind of thrilling thing, Wang Cheng felt that his heart will not take it. But with Wang Rin here, he would not dare to expose this secret. Who knows what is Wang Rin's attitude towards Shana, especially Shana's appearance looked the same as ordinary people, would anyone believe him if he spilled the truth that Shana is a zombie? Under the uncertainty situation and the threat of crossing someone like Ling Mo, this is a death sentence.....

Chapter 38 Promise

When it was Liu Yu Hao's turn to go, he showed some hesitations.

It's not difficult to tell from his expression that he could not let Shana go. Although his heart clearly knew that, the current Shana is impossible to stay with him.

As for Ling Mo.....Ling Mo's relationship with them could not be said as very close, it was clear that the two parties were together for the purpose of mutual survival, but that was as far as their bond went.

Keeping such dangerous Shana by the side already made Liu Yu Hao extremely grateful to Ling Mo, if it was for someone else, even if not killed Shana, for sure they will immediately leave her behind to die like any other zombie.

Of course, this was because that Liu Yu Hao did not know that Ling Mo has a special ability, zombie puppet, and did not know that during the process of Shana's mutation, Ling Mo even took out two virus gel taken out from the mutated zombies' brain, fed Shana....

Nevertheless, in Liu Yu Hao's opinion, if Shana wants to continue to live like a person, the only way is to follow Ling Mo. And it's impossible for him to give her back before she turns back into normal.

But follow Ling Mo and leave? Liu Yu Hao not only once thought about this idea, but Ling Mo's attitude is very clear that he does not need to have draggers around. He seemed pretty stoic about his goal to slaughter and harvest brains from mutated zombies.

But is he a burden? Liu Yu Hao asked himself this question a lot. He naturally knew about Ling Mo's strength, even though Ye Lian rarely fight, but it can be seen that her strength is not weak, not to mention Shana, after turned into zombie, her strength is not only not diminished but in a way much more stronger. In contrast, Liu Yu Hao is only someone with somewhat greater courage, an ordinary teenage that only knows a little about slashing and dodging.

Thinking here, Liu Yu Hao looked at Ling Mo with a complicated look, he wanted to receive some tips from Ling Mo.

And Ling Mo also became aware of it at once. To Liu Yu Hao, Ling Mo does have some good sentiments towards him, especially compared him with his classmates. But he is taking two zombies with him; still needs to continually hunt mutated zombies to power up, bringing Liu Yu Hao will certainly be inconvenient. Moreover, Ling Mo still does not want anyone know about his ability of zombie controlling. Therefore from the moment when he successfully controlled Shana, Ling Mo has already thought that he is ready to find a place to let Liu Yu Hao go, hopefully some place safe.

The survivor camp built by Song Tian from Ling Mo's view is a very suitable place!

Therefore when Liu Yu Hao turned to look over, Ling Mo looked at him deeply, then casually eyed Shana, then nodded.

Liu Yu Hao's eyes immediately flashed a hint of disappointment, but it also had a decisive faint taste of resolve.

"Ah, I will also join!"

Even though right now is still cumbersome, but someday.....

Although Ling Mo and the two girls refused to join, Song Tian still seemed very happy because he got to keep the two healthy youth. A survivor camp like this one that was just established, every day they lose a handful of survivors to the horde from searching for supplies. Bringing suitable survivors back to the camp, this has become a requirement. But besides a handful person like Ling Mo, most people would have joined the camp with overjoy, after all one person's survivor ability is very limited.

"Even if not join, but isn't this Miss Xia not Wang Rin's cousin? How about stay for the day." Song Tian's proposal can be considered reasonable, but Shana will not answer for this.

And Ling Mo always felt that Shana's situation is still not very stable, the longer they stay here the more dangerous, what Shana decides to go unleashed, wouldn't that be even more terrible?

Therefore he smiled and refused: "I do want these two to catch up, but we do have some emergency matters. How about it, after we take care of our business, I will bring Shana back."

These remarks are purely to fool the leader, Liu Yu Hao and Wang Cheng all knew what is going on, and they all knew, after departing, Ling

Mo will not return, and most likely they will never meet again.

This is the end of the world! Zombies everywhere, everywhere there are hidden crisis of death! You could say that, the survivors that are living on this world, anyone can die at any time. To make a promise under this situation, it all seemed a bit feeble.

Wang Cheng secretly give a relieved sigh, he is afraid of Ling Mo, but even more afraid Shana who has turned into a zombie! Who knows what she can possibly do!

Liu Yu Hao's eyes is somewhat red as he's trying to choke back tears, his eyes kept glued to Shana, but just happened that he does not dare to go near her. Besides Ling Mo, Shana does not recognize anyone....

"I see....Then I could not force you. But before you get going; still let Miss Xia meet with Wang Rin and talk. By the way, she's always that bitter, don't mind it." As Son Tian sees that he could not invite them to stay, he turned and said.

Do not care? That kind of attitude, how could he not care? Before Ling Mo still feel some pity for Wang Rin, but after this encounter, he no longer has any good impression to Wang Rin.

But Song Tian is right, after all Shana is her cousin, if not letting them see each other before they go, then is not justified.

As Song Tian got up to leave, Liu Yu Hao suddenly pulled Ling Mo, he whispered in a quiet sincerely voice: "big brother Ling, I hope that you can take good care of Shana, even though she is....zombie, but you have seen that she won't hurt you. If you could help her to recover her senses, that is the best, even if not, don't abandon her....I beg you." Tears flowed down his face as he spoke.

Looking at Liu Yu Hao's looks, Ling Mo is still somewhat touched, he secretly sighed, patted on Liu Yu Hao's shoulder: "You also live well."

"Wait...." Just when Ling Mo was about to move, Liu Yu Hao again pulled him to a stop, but this time, his tone has more firmness, "I will also become much stronger than right now. Therefore I think that, one day I will go find you guys."

This sentence suddenly surprised Ling Mo, but then he showed a hint of smile: "Then you keep working!"

The chance for Liu Yu Hao to find them should be very very low. But a person living in the world, they should have some hope, may it will be a good thing. Besides, to bump into someone like Wang Rin again, means that this world is truly smaller than it appears...

Song Tian went around the building and searched for a while, he finally took Wang Rin who still is very unhappy and walked over. And at this time, Ling Mo and his people already walked to the building gate, ready to leave for good.

Not be able to get back the knife, lost face in front of Ling Mo, the expression when Wang Rin look at Ling Mo is very unfriendly, and her eyes did not look any more hospitable when she looked at Shana.

Probably because she is not convinced, Wang Rin directly walked before Ling Mo and Shana, even reached out and gave Ling Mo a heavy punch. Ling Mo could have totally avoided this punch, but little girl's pink fist, how lethal could it be, it would not hurt an itch when hit on the body. That Li Yu is really scared of Wang Rin, and even said that she is "very strong"? In addition to momentum, Ling Mo totally did not see where the little girl is strong.

"Don't think that when the two of you become allies and will be able to bully me! That knife, sooner or later I will have you to spit it out!"

Mercilessly dropped such a sentence, Wang Rin then turned away to upstairs, but just as she went on two steps, she suddenly turned over and said: "don't bully my cousin, or else I will not let you go!"

Ling Mo is stunned to see that Wang Rin went up stairs "thump thump thump". This chick, she knows how to throw merciless words, but before she yelled hard, but still sold by Song Tian?

As for bullying.....Ling Mo turned around and looked at Shana who is beside him, his mouth suddenly showing a hint of strange smile.

What he is doing to her now, would it be considered bullying?

Chapter 39 Left a little mark on your body

Watching Ling Mo's trio leave from upstairs, Wang Rin's mouth suddenly revealed a strange trace of a sneer: "I've got you in my sights..."

And behind her, Song Tian patted his head that is somewhat with headache: "you did something on his body right?"

"None of your business!" Wang Rin bluntly glared at him, and then blinked slyly, "you don't help me, I will do it my own way."

Right now Ling Mo who is walking out of the Ginkgo district did not know that, Wang Rin has quietly left a small mark on his body.....

Ling Mo was finally relieved when he has put a large distance between himself and the camp. He rubbed a hand on his forehead, and put in front of his eyes; his palm is full of cold sweat.

And Shana on the side, her eyes glowing a faint hint of bloodlust.....to firmly suppress Shana is too difficult.

"Shana, what has he done to you....." Ling Mo looked deeply at Shana.

The moment when she met with Wang Rin, Shana's mood suddenly appeared very volatile, if Ling Mo did not forcibly restrain her from acting, most likely she will go berserk and decapitate someone.

It now appears that his decision to leave the camp and the others was too hasty, but from the results, it is still with great satisfaction.

Settled Liu Yu Hao somewhere safe, got rid of the freeloader Wang Cheng, right now only his side, Ye Lian and Shana, leaves two female zombies. One is a mutated zombie that is evolving to become stronger; the other one still retains the final point of reason, at the verge of between normal people and zombie.

Ling Mo already has a lot on his plate without these two zombies ...

But on the other hand, without any other survivors nearby, Ling Mo's mood is more relaxed. With others at the place, he must always keep an effort at suppressing his powers, lest someone see him openly control another person's mind.....

But the most important business right now is not to immediately chase down mutated zombies, but to scout around his surroundings to secure a safe point. A place like Third High district is absolutely inappropriate. Once Ye Lian has swallowed virus in the brain gel and start to evolve, he will also be strongly impacted, and will probably be turned into a sitting duck. And if he encounters a horde the likes of this morning again, most likely he would be a pile of bones right now. Therefore this foothold must be hidden.

Touched the gel in his chest, Ling Mo showed a hint of smile, he jogged briskly with Ye Lian and Shana, soon turned into a deserted street, taking comfort in the silence without anyone else to impede his work.

This neighborhood environment, Ling Mo is not familiar with, but he knew that along this street, he would be able to find a suitable place.

After all it is by the downtown area, shops are on the two sides of the street, upstairs is residential building, from time to time they will encounter zombies. But with Ye Lian opening the road at front, zombies were put down to the ground before they had the time to react.

But Ling Mo is not daring to wander on the street blatantly, he was very careful to stay hidden in the shadows, slowly sneaking forward.

It's not because that there aren't any suitable hiding places here, but it's too close to Gingko district, which to Ling Mo is not very safe. For others, a survivor camp like that is the perfect sanctuary, but for Ling Mo, controlling two zombies mixing among a large group of people, this is much more dangerous than living in zombie central.

After going through this street, a square appeared in Ling Mo's eyes. This newly built plaza Ling Mo had been to a few times, surrounded by shops and even a grand hotel.

Ling Mo observed from far away for a while, then set his eyes in a small-two story riverfront residential building. The ground floor is a small building shop, while the second floor is a teahouse. What Ling Mo set his eyes on was that the narrow staircase that go through the teahouse, and there is an iron gate to completely close it. Plus there are some distances with the building next, the backside is a shallow river, even if surrounded, there are opportunities to escape.

Most importantly, it's at a relatively secluded location, it looks somewhat inconspicuous....

After slowly touched downstairs, Ling Mo first let Ye Lian went into the first floor of the shop. Unsurprisingly, there are still two zombies left in the shop, but these normal zombies will not attack Ye Lian, and after Ling Mo gave some thoughts, he did not kill them. Leaving the mutated zombies, even if there are survivors passing by, they would not imagine that there are still people living up there.

Shana of course will also not attract these two zombies' attention, but rather Ling Mo held his breath, manipulated Ye Lian and threw a rock to attract their attention, then he quickly went upstairs.

At this time Shana has done a thorough search inside the teahouse, she found a total of three zombies, which she quickly killed two, while the last remaining one spotted and frantically rushed towards Ling Mo. There are numerous obstacles inside the teahouse, he was just blocked by one of the tea table, and Shana has already caught up from behind stabbed it down using the long knife.

This method of attack, compared to Shana's tyrannical blade that is self-awareness is much weaker. But wins in faster and more ferocious force, the knife stabbed and directly stabbed these zombies' necks.

Skills are important, but when their strength reached a certain level, it is rather that this kind of straight attack is even more amazing.

And Ling Mo vividly felt that this so-called mutation, is to make humans completely driven by instincts, body's potential can therefore become emerged, but defects are also more obvious, and that is they don't understand about tactics, and does not know what is advance and retreat.

For example, when Shana is conscious, Ling Mo might be better at killing zombies than her, but if the two of them fight, most likely Ling Mo will not be stronger than her. Even though he has improved in all aspects, but his combat skills have all been figured out through actual combats, and is not comparable to Shana's knife skill.

And even though Shana who's after mutation feels stronger, but Ling Mo felt, if facing Shana in this state, even if he could not beat her if they lock blades, but it is easy to dodge the attack.

As for evolution...evolution is the key in allowing zombies becoming strong! After Ye Lian went through mutation, she appeared to have a hint of awareness bud! Mutation may only let humans completely become monsters, but evolution will let zombies become sensible monsters!

If a bloodthirsty monster has received sanity, what kind of horrible fighting machine would it be?

But this idea just flashed across Ling Mo's heart, he did not catch it, because soon his attention was quickly shifted to the current more pressing things.

Rummaged a little in the teahouse, Ling Mo found a big lock from the inside, it should be used to lock the iron door downstairs.

Manipulated Ye Lian to go lock the door downstairs, Ling Mo then let Shana to throw these zombies one by one out of the window with him, thrown into the river on the back. As for the bloodstains on the floor.....they could only pretend not to see it.

There are no beds in the teahouse, mostly is a two-seater sofa, barely able to lie down.

After locked the door, and then used some heavy furniture to blocked the door, Ling Mo finally showed a hint of smile, took out the viral gel from his chest.

But as soon as he took out the gel, Ling Mo's face suddenly becomes a bit strange: "what is going on here?"

Chapter 40 Ability is good, but don't reveal the secrets

Ling Mo has spent an entire day farming zombies for their gels. He gave two of the least pure virus gels to Shana, the rest have been carefully hidden in his body.

However, in order to avoid being infected with the virus himself, he carefully packed these gels into a plastic bag. Even touching these gels for a mere second made Ling Mo queasy to the heart, thinking of all the destructive impacts that this virus caused.

Using the bag as a shield between his hand and the virus, Ling Mo pulled out the gels to inspect his spoils.

When given Shana to swallow yesterday, the gel's appearances have not changed, but after only one night, the gels has turned out to be like this....

Originally there were still a handful of gels, but unknowingly they quietly merged together, could only barely separate them. What's more shocking is that the overall volumes have been reduced more than half than before!

Is it possible that between the virus gels, they could actually devour each other? Ling Mo moved the bag before his eyes, and realized that the gels from yesterday even looked far different from a freshly harvested one!

More transparent, and more bloody red....originally those red parts are like blood vessels distributed inside the gel, but now almost completely enveloped the virus gel.

"What exactly is this virus...." Ling Mo is full of doubts. But he does not have the relative knowledge to this part, his understanding to the gel all came from the observation from Ye Lian. But virus gel becoming more pure will be even more useful to Ye Lian, this point is always correct.

But Ling Mo did not expect that as soon as he took out the gel from the plastic bag, Shana's mood immediately appeared a glimmer of volatility.

Her eyes quickly become enveloped in a layer of red, both eyes staring intently without blinking at the gels in Ling Mo's hand.

Even though she has been infected and mutated into a zombie, but Shana's situation is still much different than ordinary zombies.

Ordinary zombies, their biggest feature is a complete loss of rational thought, but Shana under the absence of craziness, occasionally show off a hint of dazed look, as if she was in thought, and to familiar people such as Wang Rin, she even showed some reaction. Not only that, as long as someone calls her name, she will turn her attention to the other side. This is not something that can be done by an ordinary zombie.

But on the other hand, Shana has also completely gained a zombie's characteristics, and that is offensive. Most likely because during the process of mutation, she has swallowed two viral gels, even though her strength is not as strong as mutated zombies, but her behaviour is completely the same as mutated zombies. Relentless attack to her own kind, and also the desire to the gel....

At this point Ling Mo took out these two viral gels who have obviously went through an upgrade, not only Ye Lian immediately convey the desire to Ling Mo, even Shana has started to become restless.

But Shana's speed in devouring gels are just way too fast! She already swallowed two mutated gels, not even forty-eight hours has passed!

Ling Mo somewhat hesitantly looked at Shana, but a slight tingling immediately came out of his mind, and the redness in Shana's eyes has also become more and more bright....Seems like if she does not get the gel, she will most likely break through by force, and directly pounced to rob it. Ling Mo felt as if her willpower is starting to slip through his mind control ability.

Without a choice, Ling Mo could only hand one of the gel to Shana, and as soon as Shana took the gel, she immediately stuffed it into her mouth, as if she were a starving human finding food for the first time in weeks.

But after devouring this extremely pure viral gel, Shana immediately grew extremely pale, as if her skin was wrapped with a heavy sheet of cellophane.

Ling Mo is very surprised, but just as he extend his hand to hold Shana, he immediately felt something strange. From the outside, Shana's body temperature is supposedly to be very high, but just as he touched Shana's skin, he felt nothing but coldness!

And followed, within Shana's eyes, she appeared to have a hint of struggled look, she even whispered her lips, as if trying to say something.

Not only this, Shana's brain seemed to be actively fighting back Ling Mo's mind control. If it wasn't for Ling Mo who bite his teeth and persistently suppressed her, most likely Shana would have broken free.

But this situation only lasted half a minute, Shana then crooked her head, and then collapsed.

Ling Mo finally exhaled a sigh of relief, and also slumped to the ground. The moment where he just forcibly controlled Shana, already made him felt very difficult, he could not even keep it for one minute.

Fortunately Shana finally could not withstand the impact of the virus, completely fainted, and her brain also instantly went from a boiling state to the calm silence.

This silence, it is somewhat weird.....Even when Ye Lian was just controlled by Ling Mo, it was not completely silent. That time, her instinctive desire, is already stronger than average zombies.

But average zombies, also could not be described by silence, they are rather completely empty, without any feelings of emotions. But Shana's current emotional state is like as if all movements have stopped, but under that calm surface, maybe there is a tidal wave.

Unfortunately Ling Mo's spiritual power is not strong enough to peek into others' mind, right now he could only feel all the desire that came from Shana, resistance all disappeared completely, but just not completely blank like average zombies.

After Shana has swallowed the gel, Ling Mo also felt a hint of subtle change. Most likely because his connection to Shana is still not very strong, and her current mind is also completely quiet as water, therefore before she had been transformed by the viral gel, the connection through to Ling Mo is not very deep.

But even though, Ling Mo could feel that with a trace of emergence of rage from deep within his head, his heart beat also started to become very strong.

At the beginning this feeling made Ling Mo cared somehow, but after waited for a while, there was not further change. Ling Mo thought that, maybe the change Shana brought to him is only this level.

"This Shana, what will she become eventually...." Looking at Shana who still tightly holds her long knife even she fainted, pale face, lips pinched, Ling Mo could not help but to emerge a hint of pity.

She used her own ability to survive in the end of the world, and even fed so many of her classmates, but in the end was hurt by one of her own, and ended up turning into this.

And Ye Lian....if it wasn't for coming to make dinner for him, she would not have been trapped in the bus, most likely still have the chance to survive, but now has turned into a mutated zombie.....

Ling Mo secretly sighed, carried Shana to the sofa, and took the last piece of viral gel and walked to Ye Lian.

This piece of viral gel has greater volume, and the color is even more red!

Different than Shana, Ye Lian has been starved for a couple of days. And since the start of encountering Shana and her people, Ye Lian have not eaten any viral gels, until today, her desire has reached a limit.

This is why Ling Mo is in a hurry of separating from Liu Yu Hao and those people. Even though he felt that Liu Yu Hao is a good person, but still not enough to trust a lot, not to mention completely ingratiate.

No matter of the ability he has grasped, or this method of accelerating the evolution of zombies, he does not want anyone else to know. After this kind of methods, in the eyes of others, is not only strange, but also simply madness and horror! The thought of helping one's enemies become stronger does not sit well with any survivor.

Not to mention that among the subjects of his manipulation, there is Shana....

Until separation, Liu Yu Hao has thought that because Shana has remnants of vestiges of reason, coupled with been close to Ling Mo, therefore does not have the intention to attack Ling Mo. He could have never thought that, a normal person like Ling Mo actually have the ability to control zombies!

If he knew, most likely the situation will be very different. And the things that Liu Yu Hao could not accept, could Wang Rin accept it?

Not to mention these people who have connections with Shana, even for a stranger, they would not completely accept this kind of fearsome ability.

Therefore even though the puppet control ability is good, but if he is not strong enough to a level, he must keep it a secret to all people...

Chapter 41 Zombie love

TL Notes and editor's note:

yeah this is why we warned you about the sexy times, note that necrophilia is illegal in many states therefore we STRONGLY do not suggest you try lovemaking to a zombie IRL.

In China , there is https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ghost\_marriage\_\(Chinese\)) ]

---

Seeing Shana is not going to be awake for a while, Ling Mo handed over a viral gel to Ye Lian.

The spiritual connection between him and Ye Lian has been very strong, even though Ye Lian's eyes looked very hot when she looked at the gel, but she did not hide her intention in snatching the gel up. And when faced with Ling Mo, her instinct reaction has also weakened a lot.

This is not a surprise, right now he and Ye Lian is like one mind controlling two bodies, manipulating Ye Lian is liking controlling a second copy of his own limbs, naturally there will not be problems like Shana.

But while it seemed okay controlling a couple of normal zombies, but to control Ye Lian and Shana at the same time for a long time, not so easy. Ling Mo knew that he still needed to power up in order to maintain full control ...

"Eat." Ling Mo somewhat lovingly touched Ye Lian's cheek, watched her swallowed this piece of high purity gel.

With the gel going into the body, the high-purity virus will also spread to Ye Lian's whole body, eventually will most likely gather in the back of her head. Just did not know what exactly is that virus doing inside her brain, or how much it has changed already.

But at the same time while staring at Ye Lian, Ling Mo also become very tense in an instant. Different than Shana, once Ye Lian evolved, he will also be greatly affected!

The last time when Ye Lian evolved, even though he indirectly received great benefits, but the process was still very painful. And that time, she only swallowed one piece of gel, but this time instead she swallowed an extremely pure viral gel!

Even if the contact does not exaggerate to the extent of one to ten, but one to five is certainly there! (indicating that the pain will be maximized at least five times)

Sure enough, as soon as Ye Lian swallowed this gel, her throat immediately issued strange sound of "giggle". Her eyes have already turned black after last evolution, but after just swallowing the gel, the whites of her eyes all of a sudden instantly became bloody red! Even the pupil also seems to cast a red mist in general.

Luckily, she did not have any signs of resistance, nor did she faint directly like Shana.

The trembling Ye Lian's eyes is full of bloodthirsty atmosphere, if a stranger walks by and notices her demented appearance, the stranger would assume that a dormant beast is about to strike!

Before Ling Mo thought that "murderous intent" thing is simply bluffing, simply did not exist. But look at the current Ye Lian, Ling Mo finally deeply appreciate what is called murderous intent!

Although she is not moving while sitting on the chair, but Ling Mo who is standing close right before her did not even dare to move! As if he even slightly budged his little finger, it will lead to her attack.

Of course, this is just the feeling of the moment, because the spiritual connection between Ling Mo and Ye Lian was not shaken, it is impossible for her to attack on her own.

Even so, Ling Mo still felt very surprised! This undisguised fury breath, is something Ye Lian never had before.

And then, the impact conveyed through the spiritual connection also suddenly startled Ling Mo, a surge of violent thoughts instantly swept his mind!

Different than before, this time Ling Mo did not feel any discomfort on the body, on the contrary, at the same while his eyes reddening, fists clenched, what he felt was a strangely comfortable and almost pleasurable state!

Upper and lower body, as if every pore is completely open, the mind clearer than ever, even though his vision has been saturated with red, but that feeling of power filled each of Ling Mo's arms and legs, leaving him feeling very satisfied.

But at the same time, his mind was also completely affected by violent murderous intent, everything that appears before the eyes, he wants to destroy madly.

Although the pleasure on the body has already been allowing him feel fantastic, but Ling Mo felt that if he could let go and destroy everything, his inner heart could only be really satisfied, the pleasure will also be doubled!

He even felt that at this moment, his way of thinking, the feeling conveyed from his body is exactly the same as the zombies!

If it wasn't for that his spiritual strength went through an upgrade, perhaps Ling Mo will completely fall down in this feeling and start wildly attacking, but just as he is gradually slipping to this warm grasp on his body, there came a wave of revolt from Ye Lian and all of a sudden awakened Ling Mo.

He just appeared this trend, and Ye Lian almost went out of his control...

No wonder zombies lose sanity, and became monsters that only knew how to kill, that feeling of handing over the body to instincts is like pressed down a button that was as addictive as cocaine, and as soon as this gate is opened, most likely will no longer be closed.

Ling Mo who has once again become sober felt fear on one hand, on the other hand is resisting very hard to keep down this new sensation that's still sweeping through his body.

But even if he has extraordinary willpower, in this case he still could not help but involuntarily started having coarse breath, covered in a slight tremble. This is not because of the pain, but because of the waves of pleasure, getting more and more intense...

Ye Lian who is sitting right before him also has a flushing red face, eyes looked at Ling Mo, seems to have also fallen among that feeling.

Ling Mo finally lost control to his urges and suddenly flew on to Ye Lian's body, and clutched her firmly in the arms.

Only in this way, he could shift his attention, to allow him be freed from that desire in wanting to destroy everything! However, hold firmly is not enough, he still needs more!

Ling Mo suddenly lifted up Ye Lian's cheek, under her bloody red eyes gaze, he is trembling, suddenly kissed her on the lips.

That cold lips, and warm tongue finally let Ling Mo's violent heart felt a trace of calmness. He hugged Ye Lian, selflessly draw her sweetness, warm and crazy kisses landed on Ye Lian's cheek, neck like rain drop, his palms also wandered around Ye Lian's waist, caressing her delicate spine, smooth and rounded shoulder, that slightly raised collarbone...

Did not know how much time has passed, Ling Mo gradually woken up, and by the time he recovered, he and Ye Lian has already rolled together on the carpet.

He has already torn ye Lian's shirt into pieces, just with that small pieces of underwear alone could not completely obscured her impressive peaks.

On her chest, he even left a hickey, which is naturally the masterpiece by the mad Ling Mo.

In the case of almost losing the soul, Ling Mo was completely out of instinct, completely woken up the desire to Ye Lian, to resist that kind of violent feeling. It now appears that the effect of distraction is good...

However, kissing with a zombie? Press the zombie under the body?

He must be the only one that could have done this kind of thing....but whatever, who says zombies cannot be kissed! This taste is also very good.....

Of course, Ye Lian in his heart is not a bloodthirsty zombie, and not some sort of monster. She may be not a person, but in Ling Mo's eyes, she is still the girl that moves his heart!

But after gradually calmed down, Ling Mo suddenly felt as if someone poured a pot of ice water down from the head!

Lu Xin and Shana's current existence all but confirm that virus can be transmitted through blood. What about saliva? Just a moment ago under the condition of losing sanity, he took a lot of saliva from Ye Lian's mouth and unnamed orifices!

And the most critical problem is that, Ye Lian also just swallowed a piece of viral gel! Is this not directly equal to drinking the virus?

When a person's head is swimming, they will lose the ability to think, not to mention with the influence of the external forces, it was already good that Ling Mo did not directly lose control of his senses and gone mad on the spot. But taken the time to calm down, Ling Mo suddenly broke into cold sweat.

As long as you are a normal person, they would not want to become a zombie, and as soon as he mutates, Shana and Ye Lian would instantly be unleashed. Most likely Ye Lian will strike and empty his own brain on the spot, then disappear in the horror city that is filled with zombies...

What about Shana? Most likely she will not escape from Ye Lian either. What to do!

Ling Mo is sitting there coldly, started at Ye Lian blankly, mouth gradually emerged a hint of a smile.

His first kiss, turned out to be life-threatening!

Chapter 42 Pushing down a long way down the road

10 minutes later....

Ling Mo still felt as though his blood was burning up from panic. But strangely he is still very clear; in addition he didn't feel like he's been infected by the virus.

Ling Mo's mind desperately thinks about countermeasures, he did not know whether he will join his girlfriend and Shana as a zombie, or god forbid, to be something like Lu Xin.

Ling Mo still does not want to give up until the last minute. Right now he also deeply felt Shana's mood at that time, that kind of desperation feeling slowly floating up to the heart!

But Ling Mo does not regret it! If he had not released his tension to Ye Lian a moment ago, most likely he would have already became a violent madman. That kind of extreme freshness and desire while scouring and caressing a person's body is very easy to let people become crazy.

And right now....even if becoming a zombie, at least in the meantime, he still resolved the problem with first kisses, and it was with Ye Lian!

Should he be like Shana, first swallow some viral gel? Or a more direct approach, to drink some of those zombie blood...

Maybe in the end he will be like Shana, still have a trace of sanity...

Thinking to this point, Ling Mo then turned his attention to that plastic bag that has been thrown to the side. While the gel has been already fed, there was still some traces of the virus in the corners.

But while he is completely sane at the moment, eating this kind of thing, even for Ling Mo who has been spending time with zombies every day, he still felt an enormous psychological pressure.

This was pulled out from the brain of the mutated zombies ah....Just these small amount of toxicity, most likely is much greater than the virus in an ordinary zombies.

But in terms of completely becoming a zombie, or to retain a line between sanity, Ling Mo's heart of balance still gradually favored the latter. He frowned, holding out his hand, slowly picking up plastic bag cautiously, not daring to touch the inside of the bag.

Just as he picked the plastic bag before his eyes, an extremely pungent taste form the inside drilled out into Ling Mo's brain to make him violently cough. But he is joyful instead of angry, and his heart also became a little relaxed. Since he is still extremely aversive to this viral gel, it means that he has not yet began mutating.

This gel has an extremely strong pungent taste, and to eat this thing under the condition of pre-mutation, Ling Mo had no doubt that he will throw up from his stomach as soon as he opened his mouth. Therefore he chose to wait. As soon as there is any sign of mutation, he will eat this residue. A little hope is much better than completely giving up.....

"Bang bang bang!"

Heart beat sounds are ringing next to the ears like a percussion ensemble, he also felt that his body was sapped of all strength, as if he had just returned from a college party.

Twenty minutes....most likely it will be soon, Shana also started to mutate at this time.

Ling Mo sighed in his heart; he nervously clenched the plastic bag in his hand. As soon as there is slightly sign, he will eat it! Rather to fight strong than to die!

Even though he had survived this long in the end of the world, but Ling Mo naturally does not want to die, he wanted to live! But once this crisis is on his head, he did not lack the courage to face it.

Most importantly, he had spend days and nights with zombies, therefore this zombie thing, does not have that kind of deep fear like other humans.

Become a zombie, is to obliterate a large living intellect and turn into killing monsters. Although this is much more terrible than death, but better to let him die immediately.

Ling Mo waited with paranoid air for a whole hour, delusions about transforming manifested themselves in his head.

However, not only did Ling Mo not show any signs of mutation, his heartbeat also slowed down gently, lost strength also came back to the body little by little.

What is happening? Could it be that saliva is not contagious?

Originally Ling Mo who was already depressed, after realizing this problem, he instantly became very excited!

Not contagious through saliva! Does that mean it will also not be contagious through...Ling Mo's eyes subconsciously looked over at Ye Lian's body, especially that pair of legs together....

Not contagious is good! Not contagious is good!

Ling Mo jumped to his feet, if not for the fear of disturbing the zombies downstairs, he would have already laughed three times! Originally he thought that he is dead for sure, but did not expect that saliva is not contagious!

However, in ecstasy, Ling Mo did not notice that in the hour-long wait, he gradually stopped having the resistance expression to the plastic bag. He did not even notice that originally pungent smell is no longer working on him....And once he confirmed that he will not mutate, that plastic bag has also thrown to the ground by him.

Just as Ling Mo is silent laughing, Ye Lian's eyes has also returned to normal, when Ling Mo looked at her, she is staring at him firmly with a somewhat dazed eyes.

This made Ling Mo's heart suddenly "thump" sound, he immediately rushed past, grabbed Ye Lian's shoulders, firmly shake it: "Ye Lian?"

Ye Lian looked at Ling Mo, suddenly stretched out a hand, touched on Ling Mo's hand. Then she slightly wrinkled brow, seemed somewhat confused as she looked at her hand.

This action is already very human, Ling Mo's heart suddenly light up, stared at Ye Lian, but unable to speak.

Usually he only maintained spiritual connection between Ye Lian, did not bother to deliberately control Ye Lian's actions, therefore Ye Lian's movements right now all came from her! Sure enough, as Ye Lian continued to evolve, her sanity will also gradually be restored!

But seeing that Ye Lian did not intend to open her mouth to speak, Ling Mo's excitement in his heart also calm down gradually. He knew in his heart that, Ye Lian's recovery is not something to be done by overnight, to reach things to such an extent has already been very good.

Sure enough, after some brief confusion, Ye Lian resumed her deadpan look. But the look when she stared at Ling Mo is no longer emotionless like before, but there are subtle hint of ....dependent!

Whether because of both spiritual connection, or because of some other things, right now when Ye Lian is seeing Ling Mo, there has already been some subtle change that take place!

But knowing that Ye Lian's saliva will no longer be harmful, Ling Mo could not help but to hold her tightly, and give her lips a fierce peck.

"I would be the first human to kiss a zombie? Ha ha ha ha!"

The spiritual connection between Ye Lian and Ling Mo is very tight, even though he has made a close move to Ye Lian, but Ye Lian does not show any resistance, of course she does not have any reactions.

Her performance only shows in her look to Ling Mo, as for the rest....Ling Mo is not in a rush anyways, rice has to be spooned one bite after another, the road is a step by step to come out.

At least he could be rest assured to do more intimate contact with Ye Lian! Just be careful not to be stained with blood....Thinking here, Ling Mo suddenly showed a hint of an extremely incomprehensible smile.

No blood? Then my wish to push down Ye Lian, how could it be achieved?!

Ye Lian, she...she is still a young bird ah ! (indicating she is a virgin)

Chapter 43 How about another pinch

After swallowing a piece of fine high purity virus gel, Ye Lian not only received encouraging progress on her intellect, her body physically also seemed to be showing some changes.

Even though her skin still was a morbid shade pale, but among that delicate body seemed to reserve a vast amount of power.

It is not possible to unleash full-scale trials in the teahouse, but when Ling Mo allowed Ye Lian to try small maneuvers, he only found out that Ye Lian's speed has become extremely rapid!

Before Ye Lian could only be said to be like a cheetah, but this time she almost entirely transformed into a shadow, moving around quickly, as if charged by lightning!

"Amazing....." Ling Mo could not help but be somewhat dazed, but soon, he is caught between excitement and eagerness!

When he was kissing crazily with Ye Lian, although that continuous sense of freshness was forcibly thrown into the back of the head, but the impact on the body is real.

But when Ling Mo clenched his fist, he did not feel the increase in power, which makes him suddenly frowned.

But soon, he turned his eyes to Ye Lian who has stopped, then suddenly revealing a hint of understanding look.

His evolution is intricately linked with Ye Lian, if Ye Lian's evolution started to lean towards speed and agility, then maybe is the same for him.

Thought of this, Ling Mo then walked to one side of the teahouse, and then took a deep breath, took off and started to run.

To run in an environment where there are numerous obstacles, under the condition in which you do not have the immediate nerve reaction and the corresponding physical reaction rate, there is only one result, and that is fall badly!

Although Ling Mo felt that his body indeed achieved some flexibility, and perhaps the speed is also much faster, but has not yet achieved the ability like Ye Lian to fast shuttle through the obstacles.

But Ling Mo miscalculated! He did not think that when he run at his best, the speed is that fast! Even though it is still incomparable to Ye Lian, but is still much faster than average folks!

And at such a breakneck speed, to rush before the sofa table is only a blink of eye.

Most importantly, on that sofa, there is still Shana who is lying unconsciously...

Oh ****, can't dodge, impossible to dodge! Ling Mo swear in his heart, but foot brake was too late, just as he was about to hit that coffee table before the sofa, Ling Mo suddenly twist his body a bit in this critical moment.

To make evasive action while moving at high speed, this is a lot of difficulty, but to not let himself get injured, and to not let Shana suffer unexpected calamities, Ling Mo bite his teeth and did it!

But the temporary action, even if you succeed, but the effect is still greatly reduced. Ling Mo only had the chance to tilt the body, although he escaped the table, but the foot has lost its balance and fell forward directly.

"Ah!"

Just as Ling Mo uttered a low scream, his body already soared upward, then fell down.

"Hurts..."

Ling Mo landed on his knee, despite the floor being carpeted, he still suffered a nasty scrape. But fortunately Ling Mo's upper body did not fall, or else he would have definitely blacked out from the impact...

A faint scent floated into Ling Mo's nasal cavity, and when Ling Mo tried to stand up with both hands, his left hand seemingly grabbed something soft...

"Huh?"

Ling Mo subconsciously looked up, suddenly froze. Although he did his best in avoiding of falling on Shana, but things did not go planned, his upper body still hit Shana's body. And right now his right hand is pressed down on Shana's flat belly, left hand is clutching one of Shana's breast!

Probably instinctively, subconsciously Ling Mo even further tightened fingers, and pinched. Ah....very soft...

But then, Ling Mo's face suddenly became redder than a beet! Because when he turned to Shana's face, he only found out that Shana has already opened her eyes, that pair of substantially different from ordinary people's eyes is staring at him right now!

Ling Mo's heart suddenly dropped into the floor.

Although he did not do it intentional, and also knew that after Shana became a zombie, she should not have any feeling to this "violation", but Ling Mo still gave a concealed cough, then slowly released Shana.

But what made him froze instantly was that on Shana's face, suddenly emerged out of a trace of fury, then spoke two short words using clear voice: "pervert!"

"Ah? What, what did she say? Did I heard it wrong?"

Ling Mo suddenly jumped to his feet. Before Shana swallowed the viral gel, then also spoke after woken up, but after that she never opened her mouth. Therefore in Ling Mo's eyes, at that time she was still in the process of mutation, not counted as a zombie completely, thus to speak one or two sentence under the state of daze is no big deal. But after a day and night of observation, Ling Mo is sure that even though that time when Shana had not become a complete zombie, but certainly right now she is a zombie without mistake!

When he found Ye Lian, she is already a mutated zombie, and has been through an evolution, does not yet know how to speak, even though Shana's general situation is different than ordinary zombies, but...

Would it because that after eating a high purity gel, Shana did not mutate further to become more like a zombie, but more like a human?

However, this virus thing, who could make it clear....

Ling Mo looked Shana with somewhat dizzy head, his heart is both excited, and full of doubts.

And Shana also looked at Ling Mo, then turned her look to Ye Lian, after a brief confusion, she frowned and said: "I know you guys...."

Nonsense, of course you know us! After hearing Shana speaking again, Ling Mo suddenly uttered a scream, hands directly reached to Shana's shoulders: "are you back to normal?"

Did not know if he used too much force, originally Shana who have returned back to normal, eyes suddenly turned red, even though she did not directly attack Ling Mo, but that dice bloodthirsty breath instantly broke out.

This made Ling Mo suddenly surprised, fortunately although he was excited, but the ability to respond is still there, he used force while grabbing Shana's shoulders, then once again pressed her down on the sofa.

After several minutes of struggling, Shana again calmed down, then slowly returned to normal.

But Ling Mo finally has seen through, Shana at this point has completely become "schizophrenic"! Under the condition in which no one provoke her, she is half human, with a little judgment, but once someone make a move at her, or made her felt hostile, her zombie instincts will immediately be stimulated!

As for Ling Mo's manipulation.....What made Ling Mo depressed was that, before Shana's spiritual world has appeared that kind of strange change, but after she woke up, even though the connection between them still exist, but he could no longer control her! Not only that, even if he wanted to further enhance control is also temporarily impossible, because as long as Ling Mo enforce this idea slightly, there will come a strong rebound from Shana's mind.

Fortunately even if just maintaining connection with Shana, she would not attack Ling Mo.

Ling Mo suddenly felt, the current Shana is much more trouble than the real zombies!

Fortunately the contact can be gradually deepened, perhaps once after his own spiritual connection is enhanced, maybe he will again be able to manipulate her!

Thought here, Ling Mo slowly creped up, overlooked Shana who is on the sofa, suddenly asked: "could I pinch one more time?"

Shana looked at Ling Mo slightly dazed for a moment. Her judgment ability is clearly not yet fully recovered, but the "violation" a moment ago inspired a girl's nature, and right now most likely for self-preservation instinct, she rejected with some poor voice: "No!"

"How about two times?"

"....I don't know..."

"Three times, cannot be less."

Chapter 44 Murder in a dark and stormy night.

This night, Ling Mo is in a very good mood!

He even opened a can of beer to treat himself. A long-unopened gift given to him from Liu Yu Hao when they parted for good.

And in front of him, there sit Ye Lian and Shana these two mutated female zombies. In Ling Mo's perspective, Shana also counted as a mutated zombie, and seemed to be in some sort of evolution process. It's just that her evolution direction compared to Ye Lian's is totally opposite.

Ye Lian herself already have great strength, among her evolution process, even though her rational recovery clearly very slow, but the strengthen of the flesh can be clearly seen the result after each evolution. It's clear that she's becoming a better and better zombie with every gel she consumes.

But Shana is different, she was originally affected through secondary sources, and did not completely fell down among the mutation process, as the virus continued to absorb from the host, it did not only allow her to become a zombie completely, instead allowed her to slowly be restored to the normal side. As long as she did not feel threatened, or when she was not subjected to danger, Shana is the same as normal people, except that the brain is somewhat....less active.

But on the other hand, when her zombie instincts awakened, she would go crazy like zombies to fight madly, without any tiredness.

Although the appearance are two pretty beauties, but only Ling Mo clearly knows that no matter Ye Lian or Shana, they are both horrible humanoid killing weapons.

And Ling Mo's wish is to let these two weapons gradually regain the sanity of human beings, it would be best to be restored back to normal people....Shana's "spilt", Ye Lian's trace of changes all made Ling Mo even more determined that one day his wish can come true.

No longer have to face Ye Lian's emotionless eyes, occasionally Shana would even speak a few sentences, this result, how could Ling Mo not be happy?

Not to mention his own speed also received great improvement, even though the strength was not as great as he would like it to be, but when facing zombies, to have a pair of running legs is also pretty good!

While drinking beer at the same time, Ling Mo turned his head and opened the corner of the curtain, looked out to the window.

The shadow that appeared on the square from time to time, are all zombies. Compared to ordinary people, they have an advantage at night, so nights like this, basically you would not see any survivors on the streets.

When those zombies don't attack, they go into a sort of power saver mode. Slow movements, bodies shaking unconsciously, most of the zombies will remain in this state for a very long time without the disturbance from survivors.

But zombies also get hungry, even though their physical exertion is much less than the average person, but eventually, they also need a lot of food.

This square is an open terrain, no supermarket around to scavenge food, therefore Ling Mo is certain that there haven't any survivors appearing for days.

And people like Ling Mo right now who have the courage of hiding in a two-floor building, quietly watching these zombies are not many either.

Ling Mo's relaxation was suddenly pierced by a bumping noise suddenly coming from the shop downstairs.

One zombie under the eyes of Ling Mo, suddenly rushed out of the shop. With the help of moonlight, Ling Mo vaguely saw her covered with blood.

"Hey, the other one was eaten by her?" This is very likely, that slight movement a moment ago sounds like wild dogs gnawing on a bone!

It really is a murder in a dark and stormy night! Hands off during the day, but had to wait during the middle of the night when there is bad light....

This is the first time when Ling Mo seeing ordinary zombies attacks their own kind, he only saw them eating the bodies of their own kind, but never seen the first step towards a real mutation, and that is to attack their own kind!

Ling Mo is suddenly very interested, his eyes are firmly fixed on that middle aged female zombie who rushed from the store, he wanted to see what she would do next.

After this female zombie got rid of her own kind, she directly rushed to another one of the nearest zombie on the square.

That zombie was still catatonic, therefore it did not even struggle and was relieved of its head privileges by the female zombie. And she is eating madly holding that head, too far across, Ling Mo did not know whether or not if she pulled out the brain and eat it.

Watching zombies eating human flesh.....even if the target object to be eaten is a zombie, but to Ling Mo, it still made his scalp somewhat tingling. Even though he has two zombies by his side, but they don't have this kind of bloody eating habits...

These zombies, to put it bluntly they are living people who are infected by virus, different than those zombies who were revived after death in the movies. But because they attack living people, and have the kind of eating human habits, most likely no one is treating them like humans.

Originally there were not that many zombies on the square, and most of them gathered on the other side, relatively far from the location where Ling Mo is at. But this middle aged female zombie's actions immediately attracted these zombies.

Dozens of agile figures quickly rushed over, if not seen with his own eyes, who would knew that one second ago, they were still slowly shaking?

These zombies did not come to attack the female middle-aged zombie, but to eat. Their own kind's bodies, to them are no different than living people. When a large number of zombies move together toward one direction, inadvertently some other zombies were torn to pieces by the ravenous crowd.

Zombies also do not have it easy ah...Ling Mo suddenly thought.

However their number advantage is the most important thing. Who cares if there are zombies dying everyday? The numbers of survivors were reduced much faster than zombies!

Seeing her own kind rushing to snatch for food, middle-aged female zombies again showed her extremely vicious side, she made a dive for the nearest zombie, but to Ling Mo's surprise, she encountered a revolt!

This zombie mostly likely is on the edge of going mad, originally he could have honestly continued to wandered slowly if he were given something to eat, but this female middle-aged zombie was the first one to attack him.

Stimulated by blood, strong sense of hunger been provoked within this diminutive zombie, it suddenly became mad.

Fight between ordinary zombies is the first time Ling Mo seeing it, he opened his eyes widely, afraid to miss any detail.

When the two of them tussled, the other dozen zombies have already eaten clean that corpse. Their speed of eating, is really a terror...

But obviously, one mere body was not enough to eat, and at this time that two zombies who were battling like beasts all have new wounds on their bodies.

When seeing those zombies turned attention to them, even Ling Mo who is watching at a far distance is aware that most likely on this square, there is an outbreak of a total brawl.....

Compared to ordinary people, zombies' speed, stamina, strength, all are much better. Especially their kind of crazy attack, most likely normal people would be terrified if seen.

As long as there is one breath left, these zombies would not back down, and their battles are more like fights between beasts.

That middle aged female zombie is probably the one who got to eat the most; therefore her performance is the craziest. Ling Mo saw with his own eyes that he caught one zombie's arm in the midst of the battle, then she tear it down.

This force is too horrible, even one zombie could not do that, this is why zombies usually use their mouth. Compared to the power of their hands, their bite force is much stronger.

For a time fleshes are flying on the square, zombies' throats issued muffled roar, the bloody scene would make people vomit.

Even though Ling Mo is curious about zombies' mutation, but only stuck for a little then did not want to see anymore, but when he turned his head, he saw that Shana stood up unknowingly, and is staring out the window.

This scene to Shana who still have some sanity remained, what kind of effect will it be on her? Ling Mo somewhat thought with curiosity.

Chapter 45 The most unfortunate zombie in the history

The zombie brawl soon ended, but the sole winner was not the middle-aged female zombie, but a male zombie that looked very thin.

It seemed that physical strength is no longer useful after turning into a zombie, middle-aged female zombie obviously belong to the brute type, but after she was cornered by a few zombies, her strength also could no longer follow up. Even though she had no intention of withdraw, her attack power was not enough to fight back. On the other hand that thin male zombie relied on his nimble movements, he eventually had the last laugh.

Dozens of mutilated corpses were sprawled over on the wet pavement as the male zombie began to feast.

Even though this process is disgusting, but to figure out exactly how zombies evolve, Ling Mo still paid full attention to watch his movements.

In the beginning there was nothing special, he was eating flesh like any other zombies....but when he ate that middle-aged female zombies' head, he suddenly frantically started to roll on the ground.

"What the hell?"

After all the lighting at night is very bad, the distance is also far away, even though Ling Mo's mental strength and vision are very advanced, but to be able to clearly see that male zombie's every movement is not very easy.

Fortunately this zombie soon returned to normal, but after standing up, he no longer has interest towards any of the other corpses.

"Full?" Ling Mo stared curiously at this zombie. He'd like to immediately let Shana or Ye Lain to capture this zombie and to observe it, but the zombie got up and made a frantic dash back into a building.

Ling Mo immediately looked in that direction, even though it was difficult to identify clear, but he did vaguely see some pitch-black shadows...

"So there are zombies attracted over." Ling Mo suddenly showed a hint of sneer.

Night thoroughly belongs to zombies, and in this totally dead city, perhaps things like this happens everywhere. Zombie evolution will happen even if there were no survivors there to see it happen...

Another group of zombies' fight broke in the other corner of the square, even though he could not see from this far away distance, but fortunately he still has two mutated zombies at his side.

Taking into account that Shana's situation is not very stable, therefore Ling Mo manipulated Ye Lian to go open the door downstairs, then turned around to lock the door, then flew towards the brawl, eager to see first hand what is happening.

Under the night, Ye Lian's agile figure is like a strange shadow that shot across the square, and stood quietly under the eaves of a shop, looked toward the "battlefield" not far away.

This distance is the limit of Ling Mo's manipulation, but with Ye Lian's vision that is not limited to light, she could already be able to clearly see where everything happened.

That male zombie came back again after the brawling zombies started to die down, and again he did not eat these corpses completely, but only targeting their heads, precisely, it is the back of the brain....

Through Ye Lian's perspective, Ling Mo is watching all while frowning. It seems that normal zombies' back of the brain also have the presence of the virus gel. However to Ye Lian's kind of mutated zombie, she is no longer interested in the gel inside normal zombies, she needs mutated zombies' brain gel.

And Ling Mo could see it clearly; this male zombie did not pull out the gel using his hand, but instead stuffed their brain into the mouth.

This scene immediately reminded Ling Mo when he first found Ye Lian, those zombie corpses inside the bus. He did not look carefully at that time, but thinking now, those zombies' brain were indeed being hollowed out, and not like Ye Lian's technique in which she only take brain gel. With such thought, Ling Mo's heart suddenly felt a hint of weirdness, but he soon dispelled this feeling.

So what of eating human brains! He is going to take Ye Lian for sure! Besides these zombies, they are no longer people.....

After pulling out these zombies' brains, this male zombie seemed to feel as if not enough, he even went back and dug out the remaining zombies' brain.

Even with zombie appetite, he has more than enough to eat, to continue to eat his stomach will most likely burst.

But after eating, he actually turned his head and uttered a quiet, but menacing growl, making Ling Mo's heart suddenly skip a beat.

This zombie, is he actually going to mutate? Even though at a relatively far distance, but Ling Mo clearly see that the redness in his eyes is even brighter, and when he gave the low growl, the bones of the body seemed to be crackling. Although this is only a feeling, but Ling Mo feel that he is really seeing! His body suddenly stretched a little, bloodthirsty eyes light up even more hotness.

Mutated zombie! Although slightly weaker than the mutated zombies he have seen, but it is really a mutated zombie that born under his eyes!

Ling Mo is suddenly very excited, he knew that the smell of blood will soon attract other zombies, therefore while this newborn mutated zombie is still growling, he manipulated Ye Lian and rushed at the back of this zombie!

The mutating zombie stood no chance against Ye Lian and promptly received a dagger down his neck.

When zombies attack, they only focus on dealing as much damage as possible, not on self-preservation. As this zombie was scrunched over and beginning to mutate, he had absolutely no chance to evade the blade.

Satisfied with the kill, Ling Mo commanded Ye Lian to bring the zombie back to him.

Ye Lian appeared to be very relaxed while dragging an adult male zombie with his frail body, no struggling at all. At this point there are no more zombies in the shop downstairs, therefore Ling Mo did not take caution, ran down personally and opened door for Ye Lian, then locked the Iron Gate.

"Research zombie ah...."

After going back upstairs, Ling Mo immediately sat in front of this zombie with excitement, involuntarily rubbed his hands.

Chapter 46 Feels good, just a little small

Ling Mo did not know a lick of medicine, and the only piece of information he could remember from science class was that the mitochondria was the powerhouse of the cell. So his research method is very simple and crude, dissection!

He ordered Ye Lian to drag this zombie into one of the booths in the teahouse, then used Shana to perforate the zombie's abdomen.

At this moment although Shana would not be manipulated by Ling Mo, but she is still Ling Mo's "zombie puppet", still listened to simple commands. Not to mention that as she regained some sanity, to Ling Mo's words, she can understand some simple tasks like disemboweling.

This time Shana showed her zombie side, her expression is very indifferent, no mood swings, as if the body she cut open is not a human.

When the thick smell of the blood drifted out of the corpse into her nose, her eyes flashed a hint of carnage.

Luckily, her eating habits are the same as mutated zombies, as she was not interested in the flesh of corpses, but rather that juicy brain matter.

But after Shana is done, she somewhat looked at Ling Mo in a haze, apparently did not understand what he wanted to do. However even if there is doubt, with Shana's current stumbled thought process, she could not sort these issues into a sentence, not to mention to open her mouth to ask. But even so, she quietly stood aside, closely watching Ling Mo's every move.

This kind of dirty work naturally Ling Mo would not make Ye Lian to do, therefore he took out a knife, and then picked open this long wound. Ling Mo was sure to lower the curtains around the teahouse before he turned on his flashlight to look into the corpse. The last thing he wanted to do was to serve as a lighthouse beacon to a hungry zombie as he performs surgery without a medical license.

Even though Ling Mo was still far to inexperienced to understand human anatomy, his experience with eviscerating zombies after the apocalypse sure played in his favour when he realized this zombie's innards looked nothing like a normal human's.

As Ling Mo stared at the viscera, he realized that the organs were covered with some kind of blood-red screen, glassy in appearance. This substance had the same meshwork consistency of the veins in the brain gels Ling Mo always used, suggesting that this tissue was thanks to the virus. Even though this screen looked thin, it appeared to be still pulsating and moving...

No wonder....Probably mutated zombies' tyrannical strength came from here....These virus are sure enough transforming zombies' bodies. Most likely it also happens in ordinary zombies' bodies, but because the absorbed virus is too little, therefore it was not obvious, and this mutated zombie just swallowed numerous pieces of brain gel, at this time the virus is rapidly spreading throughout the body.

Somehow, this zombie was still alive, and was beginning to struggle and twist around to try to get up. Ling Mo quickly commanded Ye Lian and Shana to pin the zombie back down, so that he could not move. But his body is still desperately struggling and twisting, at the same time when blood gushed out, Ling Mo could not see anything.

"Hey, rest assured, you'll soon be liberated."

Ling Mo smiled at this crazy zombie, then used the short knife and went for the throat...

Trachea was cut, mutated zombie's long breath that originally could not be heard soon became the bellows sound, he spit out a futile last breath, and died for good.

Honestly fresh human brain Ling Mo did not want to see it at all, but when this human brain was pulled out, he could not help but to glance, then showed a look of shock.

Inside this newly minted mutated zombie's brain, the virus has not yet appeared in the state of gel, but his brain surface is filled with that red thread that were filled on the internal organs and blood vessels.

Presumably if he were given more time, these threads will gradually gather together and condensed into a focus at the back of the brain to become the much desired viral gel.

Gazed steadily at that group of brain for a while, Ling Mo suddenly slapped his thigh: "I understand!"

Normal zombies' brain also is full of these threads, but because the amount of virus gel is too little, low purity, therefore it is invisible to the naked eye. But this new mutated zombie absorbed large amount of virus as it feasted, so this threads then appeared visible to the naked eye. After the virus has taken hold, it begins to alter the zombie's mind to start going straight for the brains, instead of eating the flesh.

As the viral gel condenses it grows smaller and more pure. Maybe to a certain extent, it will become a very small one, and at that time, the zombie that has it will perhaps restore sanity!

Shana's special point was that, originally she has smaller volume of virus in her body, and before it was fully spread to the brain, she continued to swallowed two viral gel, later swallowed a piece of extremely high purity gel.

As a result, before her brain was completely eroded, the virus may have simply condensed into a small point in her brain, not being able to completely wipe out her conscious mind!

Ling Mo does not know whether his thoughts are right, but to see from the current mutated zombie's condition, this is the probably the closest answer!

Sure enough his direction is right!

To the current Ling Mo, there is nothing else that could made him even happier than this discovery. He is not some doctor....this inference may have a lot of mistakes, but the results it is quite possible to actually be real.

Proved that this hope does exist, and the probability is large, then the next thing to do is to make this guess become a reality as soon as possible!

After a full ten minutes of excitement, Ling Mo finally realized a hint of strangeness. In any case, a large living being himself in front of such disgusting corpse, smiling and carrying thoughts, is always a little weird...

"Throw it into the river.....Well, tomorrow will have to find a new set of clothes, this smell of blood, unless zombies' noses all become rotten, to not smell it!"

"You.....why do you laugh?" When Shana helped to lift the body, she suddenly asked with puzzled tone.

Not easy, silent for a long time, then she finally spitted out a whole sentence. Ling Mo blinked at her strangely, said: "because I thought of one thing. That place on you really do feel good, just a little small."

Chapter 47 Collaboration

If possible, Ling Mo would love to bring Ye Lian and Shana to find a secure shelter, then have a period of relative secure leisure life.

But after witnessed the birth of a mutated zombie last night, Ling Mo really could no longer sit still.

What is the population in this provincial city? Millions! A conservative estimate of the number of zombies is at least about a few millions.

And what is the concept of millions of zombies? Twenty zombies are enough to make fighting back pointless. And like Song Tian's survivor group, even though if they defend using geographical advantages, it won't take any more than 50 powered up zombies to destroy them.

Millions ah! Just thinking about it makes the scalp tingling!

Fortunately these zombies are undisciplined, they are scattered in various corners of the city, even among many buildings. But even so, it is sufficient to show that the city is perilous!

Zombies to normal people are already very terrible, not to mention mutated zombies! If wasn't for the ability to control zombie puppets, Ling Mo would not dare to confront mutated zombies, it is simply seeking death.

And something like last night, in this city, maybe it is happening at every moment. They will quickly grow into mutated zombies with horrible strength, and will continue to evolve.

On the other hand, whether it is Ye Lian or Shana, they all need to continue to eat, and their food source are mutated zombies.

Therefore no matter from which point of view, right now is not the time to take refuge, and as a survivor, Ling Mo have no choice but to shuttle throughout the city, hunting mutated zombies, in order to acquire more viral gels. They must evolve as their foes do the same.

The next night, a few zombies appeared again on the square, they were all attracted by the smell of the blood, after eating they just wandered on this square slowly. And on the ground are dry plasma, as well as scattered bones and clothes debris.

After Ling Mo ripped Ye Lian's clothes apart, temporarily there is no available change of clothes; fortunately there is a clothing store on the square, as long as they get rid of these zombies.

As soon as they opened the iron gate, when Ling Mo just appeared, he immediately attracted the attention of these few zombies, they frantically rushed over. Under the sunlight, their face was covered in blood plasma, all bloodstained hands, even could see clearly the ground meat within their nail gaps.....Not even right in front, an intense smell of blood on the nostrils instantly carried over, plus their extremely twisted hideous face, do serve the purpose of scaring people to death.

These zombies did not blindly rushed up to bite, their actions are very flexible, and with great strength, therefore as soon as they were before Ling Mo, they all flung their arms at Ling Mo. One of them even used rushing power to jump upward, and rushed towards Ling Mo through the mid air.

Attacked by several zombies at the same time, Ling Mo is basically in the situation where he could not avoid.

But he was not nervous, when these zombies were about five meters away, he had already used his zombie puppet control ability and reined in control over two of the attacking zombies.

Without worrying of exposing his ability to any survivors, Ling Mo can finally show off the true power of his zombie puppet controlling ability.

Two zombies that were controlled by him at the first turned around and blocked the zombies in the back, and immediately attacked them. And that zombie who jumped midair although looked very ferocious, but with Ling Mo's current speed, to avoid is very easy. But he did not hide, but also jumped in midair with his hind legs, right arm swung, a coldness immediately slashed through this zombie's head.

"Ka!"

With the blade into the meat, this zombie immediately fell heavily on to the ground, but even though he was badly beaten, but not fatal. Zombie's sense of not afraid to die immediately played a role, at the same time when he landed on the ground; he jumped up and just rushed before Ling Mo who just landed.

Zombies' arm lashed across, even brought a "hu" sound of wind, and to get in contact with this zombie at such close distance, that strong smell of blood and rancid breath enveloped Ling Mo even more.

But in the face of attacks, Ling Mo just slightly tilted his head....

A sharp long knife stabbed out immediately, along with the zombie's arm that stretched, stabbed directly under his armpit, and then went clean through!

"Poof!"

Blood burst, this arm was immediately directly cut through, the tyrannical force even forced this zombie and triumph him on the ground.

Ling Mo did not hesitate and swung his wrist, short knife blade went down, in the instant where this zombie just straightened up his body, pierced into his heart.

And behind Ling Mo, exposed Shana's figure. To normal zombies, their own kind like Shana, they would not voluntarily to attack, except zombies like last night that has already stepped towards in becoming a mutated zombie.

At the same time, those two zombies that were controlled by Ling Mo also showed good victories, they stopped two of the zombies and soon got rid of them. And Ye Lian strangulated the rest of the zombie easily.

But it is useless to keep these two zombies, Ling Mo gently waved; these two zombies immediately grabbed each others' neck, and forced a twist at the same time....

Zombie puppet controlling ability, with their own fighting strength, the collaboration between zombie puppets, even though not very collaborated yet, but Ling Mo is quite satisfied.

Master was not trained in one day!

Not to mention he does not control Shana, could only conduct mutual cooperation with him.

After last night's evolution, Ling Mo could vaguely feel that between him and zombie puppets, there seemed to be countless threads connected. It was through these threads, zombie puppets could only receive commands from him.

The thread between him and Ye Lian has already achieved to the state of real terms, but the thread between him and Shana are translucent. Looks like through these threads, it could also visually see their handling efforts to zombie puppets.

"Really a genuine zombie puppet controller! Just as the real puppet controller controlled dolls, used hands. I control zombies, use spiritual power!"

Instantly and easily got rid of these zombies, Ling Mo's mood is quite good, but corpses all over the ground is obviously not suitable to stay for too long, he immediately brought Ye Lian and Shana into that abandoned clothing store.

This upscale boutiques, Ling Mo previously have never come before, clothes that worth thousands of bucks is simply downright luxury. But in the end of the world, these clothes are just crooked hanging there, even some are been thrown to the ground, covered with blood, and most survivors would not even look at them. No matter how expensive the luxury items are, in the end of the world, they are not even worthy of a small cookie.

Ling Mo casually put on a T-shirt, and then picked out a clean shirt from the shelf for Ye Lian. In this process he unavoidable observed Ye Lian's body shape up close, touched a little on that delicate skin....

As for Shana.....She actually learned from Ling Mo and started picking on the shelves, soon toke out a bright red shirt.

No wonder she is a zombie, likes blood red...

"This one is too conspicuous!" Ling Mo instantly grabbed this one from her, then found a black lace top, then with a strange hint of smile, looked at Shana.

But when he handed the clothe to Shana, she is actually again with a trance of look, pushed the clothes back into Ling Mo's hand, and helplessly watched Ling Mo.

After been sluggish for a while, Ling Mo suddenly react again.

Shana's reason recovery is limited, and evidently seemed to be in the stated of confusion, from her performance, it should be that....she doesn't know how to change clothes!

Anyways he already pinched.....lets change! Ling Mo actually does not have any psychological barriers, stripped her quickly, and then put this laced blouse on her.

After finished changing the cloth, Ling Mo stepped backwards, then looked up and down, revealed a hint of a very satisfied smile.

This should be regarded as the most sexy zombie, right? In that hollow transparent lace top, in addition of barely covering the doublet, the rest of the place, such as flat belly and waist, is all exposed.....

